The BLACK and GOLD

"Dot" Davis

1934

Foreword

FOR the second time BLACK AND GOLD makes its appearance. In its January issue it chronicled the pioneering efforts of the class of January, 1934, through the opening months of the new school year, the first year of a united Central High. This issue brings that year to a close and tells the story of the largest class ever to be graduated from a New England high school.

To both these classes,—that of January, 1934, and of June, 1934,—go forth the best wishes of our school for their success and happiness. They have “fought a good fight,” they have blazed a way through the dense growth of difficulties and problems that lay before them last September. They have helped to create a school spirit, rugged, united, enduring.

We who remain, whose tasks lie yet unfinished, shall find pride and joy in fostering that school spirit, in continuing to do our part in building up a school of which Providence may be justly proud.

MISS SLADE has for forty-six years held an honored place in Providence high schools, and her retirement is deeply regretted by teachers and students in the Central High School.

Miss Slade's retirement will revive among her pupils of long ago recollections of profitable hours spent in classes where she made clear the problems of mathematics and the constitutional features of our governments. More recent graduates will recall her as Dean of Girls and the source of reasonable advice, cheering encouragement, and watchful care.

Those who have been privileged to know Miss Slade during these nearly fifty years have admired her singleness of purpose, her steadfastness, her loyalty, her idealism, her patience amid tiring duties, and, withal, her optimism and keen sense of humor. Her idealism has included approval of correct behavior, respect for scholarship, and honor for nobility of character. Such idealism has been a constant challenge and inspiration to her associates.

Miss Slade will be missed in her accustomed place; she takes with her in leaving it the wishes of her many friends that she may find in new fields, avenues for her abundant energy, as well as happy hours of well deserved leisure.

CLASS OF JUNE 1934

LUIGI RUGGERI
'34

ANNE AANONSEN

A loyal friend, a gay companion, a charming manner and a pleasing disposition makes us love our classmate, Anne. Anne is one of those girls who adds something different to our class and is a friend to all. Good luck, Anne.

Dramatic Society, '33-'34; Traffic Squad, '34.

MARIAN M. ABOWITT

Hail, Marian! Shall we send her forth into the world amid a ruffraff of empty phrases? No, that would be very wrong. Better to say, "Marion, just be yourself—just be the honest-to-goodness little woman that you are—always."

Solo, 3A Class Day, '33; Junior Glee Club, '31; Senior Glee Club '32-'33-'34; Eastern Music Supervisors' Concert; Musical Comedy, "On the Horizon," '32; New England Chorus, '32; Frolic, '33; Providence Night, '33; Music Week, '33; Junior Dramatic Society, '31; Senior Dramatic Society, '32-'33; School Play, "Pot-Boiler," '31; Library Auxiliary, '31-'32-'33; "David Copperfield" Library Exhibition, '32; Budget Collector, '31-'32.

ANDREW A. ABRAHAM

You're right the first time. That's no one but Andy, and the picture sure expresses his sorrow because he is leaving Central. During his sojourn at Central he has made many friends among both the boys and girls, especially the girls. Andrew is planning to go into the business world after receiving his diploma. We all wish him the best of luck.

Football, '30-'31-'32.

ERCOLE ACETO

We introduce a popular member of the Amatore and Cardullo clan. Ercole's keen sense of humor has carried him through many a tight spot. Due to outside activities, he was unable to participate in any school sports. Ercole intends to enter the business world. We wish you future success.

FRANK ADAMO

"Footsy" is called the joker of the class. He has a snappy answer to everything said. He is noted for his proverbial remarks. "Footsy's" mind is unsettled as to his choice in future life, but whatever choice is made, he is sure to succeed. Our best wishes are with him.

Junior Varsity Baseball, '31-'32; Junior Varsity Basketball, '31-'32.

BELLE ADLEMAN

We would not be justified in saying anything but the best where Belle is concerned. A better chum is not to be found. She does not say much, but enjoys all the fun and takes part in it whole-heartedly. Belle has set a good example for the class in thorough, patient work which she gladly and generously contributed to her fellow classmates. She will leave Central well equipped for a business career.

WILLIAM F. ADELMAN

"Bill"

"Bill" is a gentleman and a popular student in his class. His cheerful disposition and sunny countenance, together with his willingness to pitch in and help, have won for him the respect and esteem of his classmates and teachers. "Bill" intends to enter some pharmaceutical college after graduation. Here's luck.

Track, '31-'32-'33-'34.

JOHN AGAJANIAN

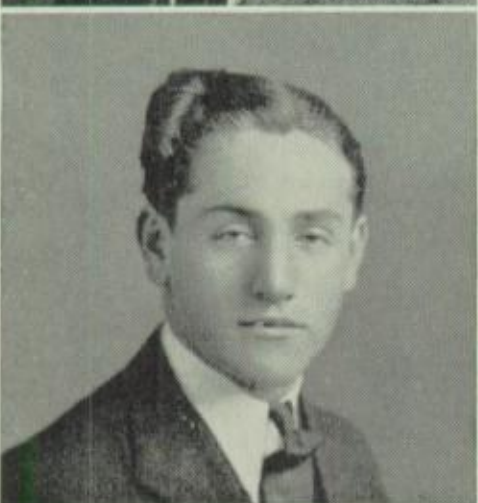

Introducing John who, during his four years at Commercial-Central, has made many friends. John could always be seen walking the corridors with his pals "Jimmy" and "Zac." He is very seldom without a big smile for everyone he meets. John intends to further his education at some business college, and the best wishes of the class go with him. Success always, John.

Home Room Representative, '30-'31; Dramatic Society, '32; Freshman Baseball '31; Class Basketball, '30-'31.

JAMES JOSEPH JEROME AHEARN

Here is "Jimmy," whose favorite study is mathematics but who is most likely to win fame on the baseball diamond. If you doubt me, just look at his record. No matter what you do, "Jimmy," we sincerely hope that your ship of ambition will arrive safely at the port of success.

EUGENE ALBANESE

"Gene"

Allow us to introduce to you this popular young gentleman, "Gene," one of the industrious members of our class. "Gene's" willingness to help his friends is one of his chief characteristics. During his four years at Commercial and Central, "Gene" has attained an excellent scholarship record, as his report cards show. His favorite subject is bookkeeping, at which he is a wizard. "Gene" intends to enter the business world after graduation, and we feel confident that whatever he undertakes will be successfully accomplished. Good luck, pal.

Band, '31-'32-'33; Orchestra, '31-'32-'33; Glee Club, '31-'32-'34.

HOWARD EVERETT ALLEN

"Tommy"

"Tommy" came to us from Oxford Street Grammar School four years ago. Since then he has made many friends among his fellow classmates. "Tommy" claims that English is his favorite study, but one may find him in most any shop. Between periods he may be seen strolling down the corridors with one of his many friends. As to his future education he is undecided but we all wish him good lucky. Adieu, "Tommy."

MORRIS ALLEN

Morris is one of Central's most earnest and capable young men. His membership in the R. I. Honor Society testifies his scholastic ability. After graduation Morris intends to enter some institution of higher learning, where we know he will be very successful.

Stamp Club, '31-'32; Debating Society, '31; Thrift Council, '33-'34; Class Basketball, '31-'32; Swimming Team, '32; Rhode Island Honor Society.

RUTH ALLEN

Dispositions such as this young lady's are not common and that is why we want to share Ruth's with you. She has a supreme understanding of human nature and is intolerant of gossip. Her keenest interest is business as an art. With her ability and eagerness to work hard we are confident that she will attain her highest goal.

LUCIANO AMATORE

"Louis"

"Louis" is one of the well-known members of the Aceto-Cardullo clan. His loyalty, good will and friendliness have made him a popular member of the 4-A class. He excels in calculating machines. His ambition is to some day make use of his calculating talent. Good luck!

JAMES A. AMES

"Bucky"

Here's our "Bucky." His congeniality, good-naturedness and pleasing personality have reaped everlasting friendship for him. "Bucky" seems to have no use for the opposite sex. (?) He is a proficient student and never fails in any undertaking. His systematic methods and keen observations are paving a way for a colorful career. We all wish "Bucky" a life of happiness.

DAVID V. ANDERSEN

"Dave," "Hunk"

This handsome blond lad is everyone's friend. His cheery smile has brightened the rooms of Tech and Central for the last three years. During this time, in his care-free manner, he has conquered his studies. "Dave" intends to further his education at R. I. State, where we know he will succeed, for he has what it takes to win.

Home Room Representative, '33; Thrift Representative, '32; Traffic Squad, '34; Senior Play, '34.

BARBARA ANDERSON

"Bobby"

"Bobby" is the most agreeable person anyone would wish to meet. The Gods favored her with a sunny disposition and blonde hair. She is a good sport and a true, faithful friend, which makes her one of the most popular girls of our class. "Bobby" is always ready for a good time, but does not allow fun to interfere with her studies. We envy R. I. C. E., for that is where "Bobby" intends to continue her education.

Basketball, '30; Volleyball, '31; Centralite Representative, '34.

ETHEL A. ANDERSON

"Et"

Well, well, I suppose you're wondering who this quiet, conservative young miss is? It is none other than our Ethel. In spite of Ethel's quiet self, she has a pleasing personality and has acquired a host of friends. Although Ethel is undecided as to what she will do after graduation, we are sure that whatever she undertakes will be a success. The best wishes of the class go with you, pal.

JOHN WHITTIER ANDERSON

"Whit"

"Whit" is the star who has amused us for the past four years in Tech and Central with his yarns of the sea and of his sloop "Susie." His loyal friendship is certainly something to be proud of having. "Whit" intends to follow the sea after graduating from the N. Y. Nautical Academy.

ROBERT HENRY ANDERSEN

"Andy," "Swede"

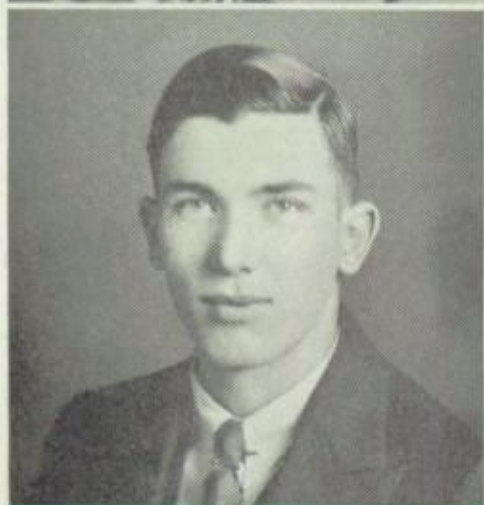

Red-headed? Yes. Fiery-tempered? No. That describes "Andy," our quiet and modest red-headed boy, who is leaving his many friends here at Central. His chief hobby is stunting on the gymnasium's apparatus. After graduation "Andy" doesn't know just what he'll do; but whatever he attempts, he will have our sincerest wishes for his success.

Leaders' Corps, '32; Home Room Alternate, '32; Football, '33; Nautical Club '34.

LOUISE ANDREANO

A cute brunette, loyal friend, and a gay companion characterizes Louise, a true Centralite. Hers is the unusual combination of joy, gaiety, pensiveness and seriousness. She proves to us that gentlemen don't always prefer blondes. Louise will further her education in a higher institution of learning.

PHILLIP W. ANGELL

"Phill"

"Phill," who is one of Tech's old students, has had a tough time making the grade, but is looking forward to better times. "Phill" has had no school activities, but we wish him luck.

VINCENT THOMAS ANIELLO

"Vinnie," "Admiral"

"Vinnie" is one of those quiet boys who came to us from Esek Hopkins Junior High. His favorite subject is physics. He plans to enter the U. S. Naval Academy.

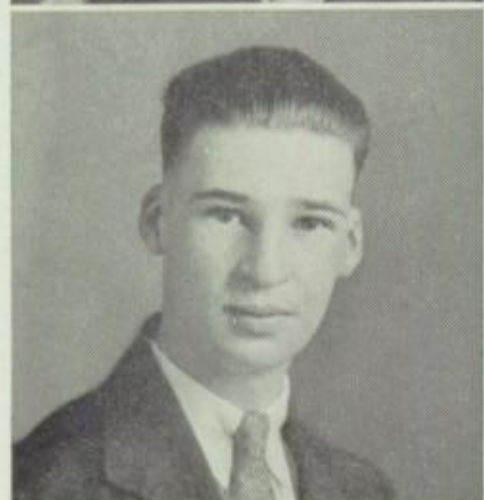

Track; Rifle Team.

VICTORIA AQUILANTE

"Vic"

A toast to "Vic"—the sweet little miss of our Senior class. Intelligent and studious combined with a sunny disposition, our Victoria is sure to succeed in all she undertakes. Best Wishes for Success.

MAURICE C. ARCHAMBAULT

No obstacle has proved too great for this enterprising youth to surmount during his stay at Central. His willingness to assist in all class activities has earned for him a host of friends. He has our wishes for future success.

JOHN T. ARMSTRONG

"Jack"

Here is our "Jack"—always up to something; especially when he is with his pal, "Ray." "Jack's" studies have not interfered with his pleasures, but neither has he neglected his studies. We are sure that with such a combination of ambition and personality "Jack" is bound to attain success.

Track, '32-'33; Swimming Team, '31-'32.

VIRGINIA ASADOORIAN

"Virg"

Introducing everyone's friend, Virginia. We have hunted high and low but we can find no one to equal her. She has brightened the hearts of her many classmates with her charming personality. We will miss her sparkling dark eyes and her lovely smile. Lots of luck, "Virg."

MYRA ASHWORTH

"Bumps"

"A classmate whose success we can foresee,
She possesses charm, grace and ability."

Here is, perhaps, the girl with as great a personality as any other member of our class. Myra needs no introduction, for her sweet, natural smile is known throughout Central. The business world will claim our friend after graduation.

Library Auxiliary, '30-'31-'32; Swimming, '30-'31; Tennis, '32; Basketball, '30.

KARIN ASPLUND

To be loved for your sweetness, your friendliness, and the good will you radiate is indeed an accomplishment. Karin's success is due to these desirable characteristics, making her the lovable person she is. Success is hers we know!

Swimming, '31-'32; Volleyball, '32; Thrift Council; Library Council, '31-'32; Glee Club, '31-'32-'33.

HENRY F. AUBIN

Now, folks, let us introduce our friend Henry. In his quiet way he has won many friends. He is an earnest student and a good scholar, besides being the sociable kind of fellow one likes. We are sure of a successful business career for our Henry. Best of luck.

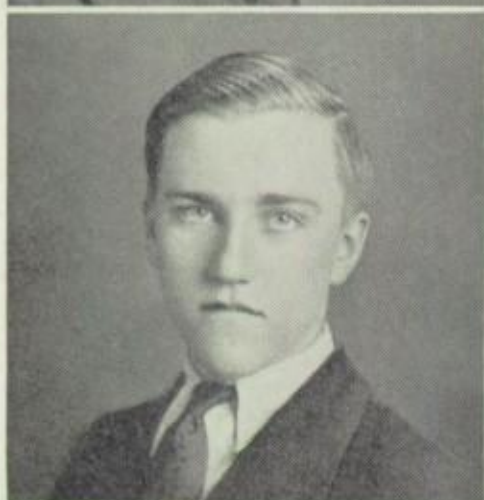

PAUL S. AXELROD

"Jake," "Axe"

A scholar? Yes! A friend? Yes! A gentleman? Yes! A musician? Yes! Well, that just about describes this popular young man who will further his education at R. I. State. Good luck, "Axe."

Band, '31-'32-'33-'34; Frolic Dance Orchestra, '33; Track, '31; Freshman Basketball, '31; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32.

MACREATH BABBITT

"Mac" came to us from a New York school. His cheerful personality has won him many friends. He spends his spare time building mechanical toys, which is his hobby. He has excelled in Math and Chemistry. Let's hope he has as successful an engineering career as we know he is worthy of.

ALBERT JOHN BALL

"Al"

"Al" is the kind of fellow you would like to know. His pleasant personality and sunny disposition have earned for him many friends. We are sure that "Al's" many good qualities are bound to make him succeed in his chosen field of work. Good luck, "Al."

JOSEPH BALSOFIORE

"Joe"

Here, friends, is the gloom chaser of our class, the one and only "Joe"—the boy with the perpetual smile, twinkling eyes, and lively sense of humor. "Joe" is seldom seen without his friend "Lu," discussing air-facts and disturbing the quietude of the school. "Joe's" hobby is flying broken-down airplanes and his favorite saying is "when do we eat?" Parks Air College will claim him next. So long, pal, and happy landings.

ROSE BANSPACH

Rose is one of the quiet girls in our class. Since she came to us a year ago, her charming personality and friendliness have won her a host of friends. There is no question whether or not Rose can dance, because it is one of her favorite pastimes.

Tennis, '32.

EDWARD BAPTISTA

"Eddy"

"Eddy" hails from Fox Point and he is one of those rare students who neglects everything until the last possible moment, but he usually makes out all right. He is undecided about his future, but we are quite sure he will succeed in anything if he makes up his mind to be tolerant.

ALBINA A. BARCHE

Albina's refined manner has won her many loyal friends during her sojourn at Central. She possesses that rare scholastic ability which comes with ease, as her high marks testify. We are sure that as she goes through life she will gather more and more flowers for her overflowing bouquet of friendship.

Thrift Council, '32-'33; Flower Committee in 3A, '33; Tennis, '32; Library Auxiliary, '33-'34; Baseball, '34.

DORIS E. BARLOW

Introducing the Connie Bennett of our class. Her humor is always the cause of a subdued giggle. Her blonde hair and captivating dimples prove that she has charm and personality that is irresistible.

Swimming, '31-'32; Volleyball, '33; Baseball, '33.

EVELYN CAROLINE BARNES

"Ev"

And here, boys and girls, we have "Ev." She looks quiet, but never judge a book by its cover. During her four years with us she has made many friends with her pleasing personality. After graduation she intends to become somebody's secretary. We, her classmates, know that she will succeed.

ROSE BARONE

One might look over Rose's head because she is short, but one could not fail to observe her pretty black hair, big brown eyes, and long curling lashes. Underneath her cool dignity, we have one of the most fun-loving young ladies in the class, but only her intimate friends know this side of her. Rose may seek more knowledge in a higher school.

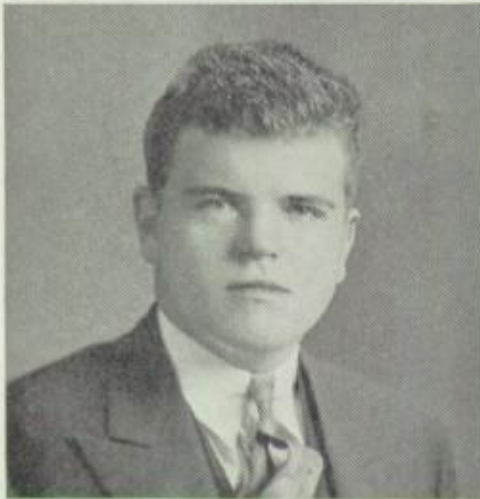

VAHAY JOSEF BARONIAN

"Baron"

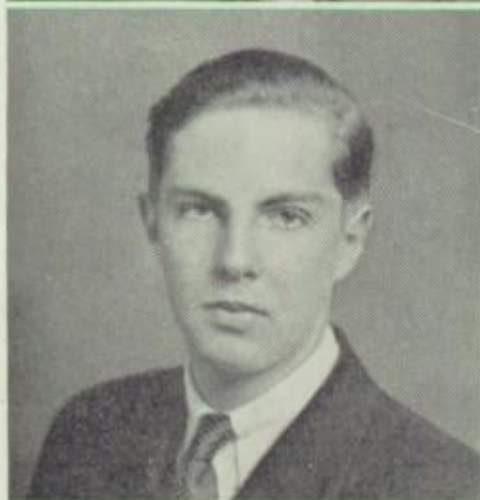

And now, gentle reader, let us hesitate by casting our eyes upon the study of a noble countenance. Baronian excels in chemistry, and due to his anxiety to discover an unknown element, he will probably be in a moving position forever. The class wishes you all the luck in the world, "Baron." Auf Wiedersehen.

Biology Club, '31; Art Club, '33-'34; Nautical Club, '34.

JOHN BARRY

"For he's a jolly good fellow" is the reason for John's popularity at Central. Although his future is undecided, he is exceedingly interested in automobiles, and we would not be surprised if he found success in this industry. But no matter what his vocation, we will always remember him as a real pal.

JOHN EDWIN BATEMAN

Did you ask, "Who is this tall dignified-looking gentleman coming up the corridor?" Well, it's John. He can always be seen with his many friends. John intends to continue in the electrical engineering field, and we wish him the best of luck.

GEORGE HAMILTON BELL, JR.

Introducing George, the noisiest member of the "Silent (?) Three" and the greatest critic of Central athletics in the Senior Class. George can be heard mornings airing his views to the third member. George hopes to go to State and become a ditch digger or, if you will, mechanical engineer.

Home Room Representative, 9B.

MARY BENEDETTO

"Mae"

Sweet and lovely. These words give you a perfect description of "Mae." Her sense of humor has won her many classmates, especially those of the opposite sex. Whenever a laughing group is gathered, you may be sure "Mae" is the center of it; nevertheless, the best wishes of the class go with you, "Mae."

DOROTHY A. BENNETT

"Dot"

Every class has its darling. We have ours in "Dot." An elusive smile, sparkling brown eyes, brown wavy hair, a sunny disposition partially describe this popular young miss. Beside being a clever "stenog" "Dot" is envied for being the best dancer and for having a charming voice.

Glee Club, '30; Tennis, '31; Traffic Squad, '34.

BERTRAM BERNSTEIN

"Bert"

The boy with a sincere personality and good humor, that's "Bert." His favorite subject is "DANCING" in which he excels. Although he has not taken part in any athletics, he has well supported them. His future is undecided, but we know he will succeed. Good luck, "Bert."

Orchestra; Band.

SYDNEY RICHARD BERNSTEIN

"Sid," "Speed"

SAND—Grit on the cinders and basketball court.

INITIATIVE—Ambition and will power to carry out big things

DEVILTRY—A regular fella—always indulging in some schoolboy prank, and plenty o' good looks rolled into one spells "Sid." "Speed" has an enviable athletic standing, a fine academic record, and a never-to-be-forgotten sunny disposition. May "Lady Luck" and "Dame Fortune" be forever in the palm of your hand.

Science Club, '31; Debating Club, '31; Home Room Representative, '34; Freshman Baseball, '31; Leaders' Corps, '32; Indoor Track, '31-'32-'33; Outdoor Track, '31-'32-'34; Cross-Country, '33; Class Basketball, '32; Varsity Basketball, '34.

HOPE STELLA BERRY

Here is the owner of snappy clothes, merry blue eyes, and a lovely smile. Although she has all the "earmarks" of being quiet, she really is fun-loving and mischievous. Hope is undecided as to her future, but we are sure success will be attained by the owner of this engaging personality.

Hi Tri, '31-'32.

CONSTANCE JEANNE BERUBE

"Connie"

"Connie" is refreshingly different. Her quiet personality, sweet simplicity and Dresden daintiness are her chief characteristics. She is the type of girl who is unusual in high school, an unaffected person who does not display her best qualities in a noisy, flashy manner. Those who are fortunate enough to call her "friend" realize the value of her sympathetic and sincere disposition. Au revoir, and luck to you. You deserve it, "Connie."

GUIRINO BIANCO

"Doc," "White"

This handsome chap is quite a notable character in our school. He is seen at most of the social activities and is interested in sports. He is quite a musician, too. We all wish you luck, "Doc."

Football, '32-'33; All-State Squad, '34; Orchestra, '30-'31-'32; Band, '30-'31-'32.

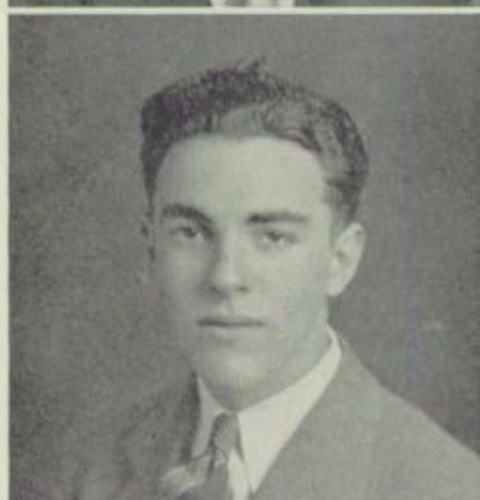

VLADIMIR BILIDA

"Valley"

"Valley" came to us from Pawtucket High two years ago. He is one fellow you can always depend upon. He is willing to help his friends and they have come to appreciate his friendship. We feel certain that he will be a success in whatever he attempts to do.

Wrestling, '34.

GEORGE WELDRON BISHOP

A newspaper career—what else would you predict for the "Old Sage"? Sports Slants, Central Week-by-Week and every dance have featured this dynamic personality. George had the temerity to use his Centralite pass to gain admission to anything from a gridiron press box to one of Miss Slade's hops. The class horoscope shows him as a Paul Gallico, a mad young man of Manhattan.

Football, '32; "Centralite" Sports Editor, '33-'34.

REIDAR A. BJERKE

"Ray"

Here's a fellow who has made many friends while at Central. If one wishes to find "Ray," all he has to do is ask for his pal, "Jimmie." "Ray" has excelled in Mechanical Drawing, and some day he hopes to succeed in this vocation. We know that he will. Good luck, "Ray."

Swimming Club, '32; Rifle Club, '32.

H. COBURN BLACKINTON

"Coby"

Here's "Coby" with the blond hair and blue eyes. He appears to be very noisy but, on the contrary, is very quiet. His favorite sport is dancing and his favorite instrument is the piano. He is a master of both. "Coby" will further his education in a New London navigation school. Good luck and best wishes go with him.

CLIFTON W. BLAKE

"Clif" v

Meet "Clif," folks, an outstanding member of our class. One can always find him in the midst of a crowd expounding bright ideas about everything. He has been an ardent supporter of the school.

Wrestling, '34; Track, '34.

MADELINE BLOOM

The old proverb "Good things come in small packages" surely holds true to Madeline, this little bunch of feminine charms. Madeline—a sincere friend always—an ardent sports fan, and a student ranking high in scholastic ability, undoubtedly typifies the "real American girl." Success to you!

Glee Club, '30-'31; Tennis, '31-'32; French Club, '33-'34.

EDMUND BLUMENTHAL

"Ed"

A loyal friend, genial companion, and a good sport, are the reasons for "Ed's" popularity at Central. His readiness to help those in need has been a life-saver to many a classmate. "Ed's" future is undecided but we are sure he will be successful.

Science Club, '30-'31.

MILTON BLUMENTHAL

"Milt"

Introductions now being in order, we now introduce "Milt" whose pranks and pleasant manner have made him a popular member of our class. He is undecided as to his future, but we know he will be successful in any undertaking. Good luck, "Milt."

GEORGE BOCKSTAEI

A man of art you would call him; he excels in this line. "Georgie" came to us from a far-off country. His ambition is to pursue his studies through college. His favorite studies are German, Drawing, and French. Well, good luck to you "Georgie"!

ANTOINETTE BOISVERT

Attractive, charming, sweet and sedate
Distinguishes "Nettie," always up-to-date.

These poetic lines introduce you to one of the sweetest girls of the Senior Class. "Nettie's" graceful manners and charming personality have made her many friends during her stay at Central. May success be yours "Nettie."

Tennis, '31-'32-'33-'34, Champion, '32-'33; Basketball, '31-'32-'33-'34; Volleyball, '32-'33; Cage Ball, '34; Field Hockey, '32-'33; Baseball, '31; French Club, '31; Art Club, '32-'33; Budget Collector, '33-'34.

LOUIS EDWARD BONNIOL

"Louie," "Barney"

Here, Centralites, we have "Barney," the pride and joy of our class. His ready smile and witty remarks have won him many friends tried and true. When "Barney" leaves us he intends to seek further knowledge at Brown University. Best of luck, "Barney," we're all with you.

I. GERTRUDE BOOKBINDER

"Trudy"

A snappy tune, a flashing smile,
Two sparkling eyes make life worth while.

"Trudy's" friendship is one to be valued. She is undecided as to her future plans, but we are assured that whatever she undertakes, her charming personality will carry her on to success.

MARY-LOUISE VICTORIA BOULE

"Mary-Lou"

Sweet of face, sweet of nature, that is "Mary-Lou." She is warm hearted, generous, and a great pal. "Mary-Lou" is quiet in school, but outside of classes the cloak of reserve drops and we see another personality—one of bubbling laughter and high spirits. "Mary-Lou" likes sports, and she backs all our teams.

Basketball, '31-'32-'33; Baseball, '32.

LEON EDWARD BOWES

"Major"

In-tro-duc-ing "Major" Bowes. Don't take him wrong, folks, he isn't half as serious as he looks. Wherever there is fun you may be sure "Major" is right there. "Major" has given us no cue as to his future, but we wish him the best of luck in whatever he undertakes.

THEDA BELLE BRATSCSCHNEIDER

A large crowd—a slip of a girl—a roar of laughter. There's Theda in the midst of popularity, gaiety, and continuous merriment. Gentlemen don't always prefer blondes when this cute bit of femininity is around. "Best wishes," Theda, we know the School of Design will welcome girls like you.

Junior Glee Club, '31; Senior Glee Club, '32-'33-'34; Swimming, '31; Frolic, '33.

JAMES JOSEPH BRENNAN

"Jim"

Hobbies? He has none, unless you call dancing a hobby. "Jim" is a gentleman and a popular student in all his classes. His cheerful disposition and sunny countenance, together with his willingness to pitch in and help have won him the respect of his classmates and teachers. We know he will succeed in any future enterprises.

ELIZABETH M. BRIGGS

A true characterization of "Betty" is almost impossible. When beauty and brains are combined you have that sort of personality one never forgets. Her thoroughness and perseverance will ultimately result in her success. A secretarial school will claim "Betty" after graduation.

VIOLA LOUISE BRINDELL

"Vi"

"Vi," hazel-eyed, with a laugh all her own; quiet at times, serious never. During her years at Central she has made many friends. Besides being pleasant and jolly, "Vi" is also studious and has a fine scholastic standing. "Vi" will bear all our good wishes to R. I. C. E. Good luck, "Vi."

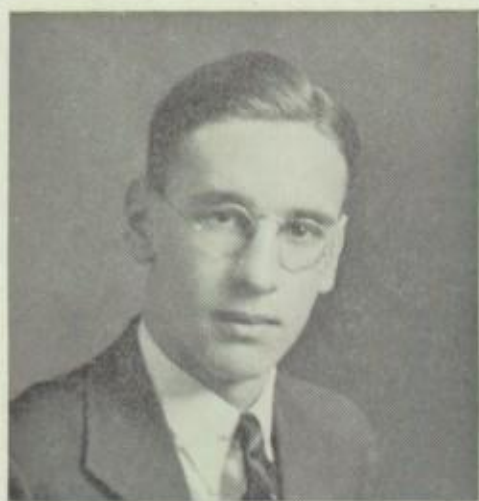

Leaders' Corps, '32; Rifle Club, '33.

EVELYN BROCKLEHURST

"Ev," "Evie"

Who is this genial, smiling girl walking or rather running down the corridor? Why it is "Our Ev," one of our dependable friends. She has not told us what she will undertake, but our best wishes go with her.

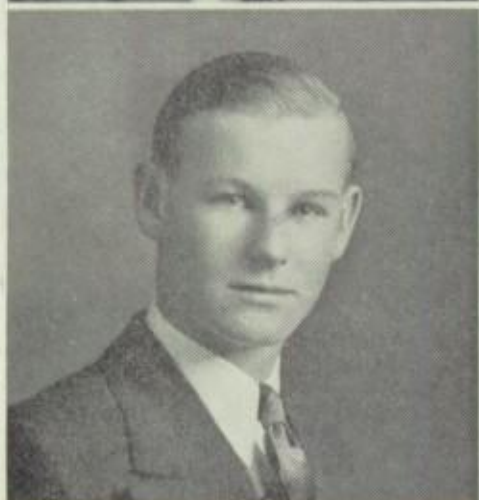

THOMAS D. BROOKE

"Tom," "Brookie"

Here's one of the "regular fellows" of our class. His friendships, promoted by thoughtful actions rather than by mere word, are numerous and loyal. We feel certain that he will be a success in whatever he attempts to do. Good luck.

Debating Society, '33-'34; Varsity Debating Team; "Black and Gold" Board, '33.

HERBERT N. BROWN, JR.

"Herby," "Brownie"

Since coming to old "Tech" and then to Central, "Brownie" has acquired a host of friends because of his good nature and pleasing personality. As a scholar he attained a maximum result with a minimum of effort. Besides specializing in Psychology, he excels in baseball and study(?). Rhode Island State College will profit by his attendance as did Central during his course here. Good luck, "Brownie," success always.

Junior Varsity Baseball, '33; Baseball, '34; Leaders' Corps, '30-'31; Nautical Club, '34.

AUSTIN T. BRUEN

Austin's cheerful and everlasting smile has won the friendship of all those with whom he has come in contact. His aspirations are unknown to us, but with a personality such as he possesses, we are sure that he will succeed. Austin claims Art Metal as his favorite subject.

MARGARET W. BURRILL

"Peg"

Tall, fair "Peg" is a fine companion and loyal friend. What more could one ask? Her's is the noble character about which one often reads but seldom sees. She excels in art and will shortly be lending her sweet personality to the classes at the R. I. School of Design.

ARTHUR L. BUTLER

"Art"

"Art" is another of our real pals. His chief problem is wondering how Shakespeare ever understood his own works. "Art" hasn't decided whether he will be president of the United States or a financial magnate. Seriously though, we all wish him the best of luck.

DOROTHY MARY CAIN

"Dot"

Look who's here! None other than our "Dot," the "personality" girl of the Senior Class. Witty, sweet, and fun-loving, "Dot" is a leader in fun as well as in studies. Best of luck in the business world, "Dot."

Student Chamber of Commerce, '32-'33; Home Room Representative, '33-'34; Basketball, '32; Volleyball, '32; Traffic Squad, '33-'34; Vice-President, '34.

LUCY CAITO

Do not let this demure young miss fool you, for she is the possessor of a charming combination of loving nature and ability to help others. Her quiet and reserved manner, together with her winning smile, has acquired for her a host of friends and made her a never-to-be-forgotten classmate. Good luck to you, Lucy.

SUSAN CHRISTINE CAMPANA

"Sue"

Sparkling brown eyes and a friendly smile introduce our "Sue." Her sense of humor and sunny disposition have made her a likeable friend to her classmates. "Sue" claims Art to be her favorite subject. With her cheerfulness we know she will be successful in the business world. Good luck, Pal!

Braille Club; Foreign Correspondence Club; Junior Chamber of Commerce; Swimming; Tennis; Basketball; Baseball; Italian Club.

ARLINE HOPE CAPACE

Cute, witty, and snappy describe Arline exactly. Her smiling black eyes and cheerful disposition have won her many friends. Her talented fingers have provided us with many an hour's entertainment at the piano, and they have brought unnumbered smiles to our faces by skilfully drawn cartoons. Arline hopes to continue her education at the Rhode Island School of Design.

Home Room Representative, '30; Thrift Representative, '30; Glee Club, '30-'31; Social Committee, '33; Traffic Squad, '34; Senior Play, '34.

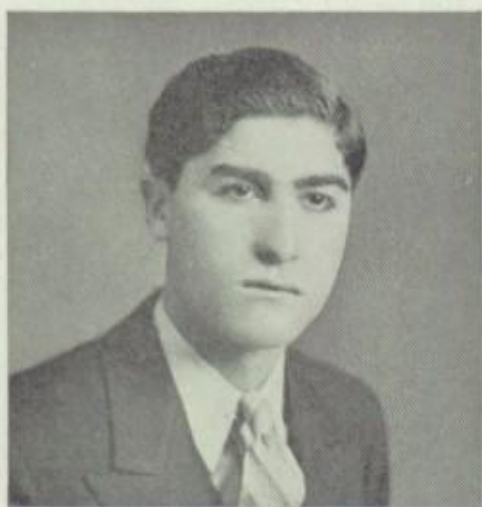

LOUIS CAPOBIANCO

"Cap," "Louie"

Dependability, kindness, courtesy, and honesty are qualities common to "Cap." A sincere friend, and excellent student, and an active sportsman, "Cap," the "all-around Centralite," surely deserves the honor and esteem of everyone. His scholastic ability assures him of success in whatever he undertakes after graduation.

Wrestling, '32-'33-'34; Football, '33; Home Room Representative, 10B; Nautical Club.

ANTONIO CAPPELLO

"Cap" (C_2H_5OH) "Katz"

"Hence loathed Melancholy"—enough said. By the way "Cap" confesses that his favorite teacher is Miss McKenna—Hello? Wot's that? If silence were golden "Cap" would evidently be penniless. "Cap" will use his biological knowledge at Rhode Island State in the Bio-chemical Engineering field. Addio caro amico e buona fortuna.

Swimming Club, '30-'31; Leaders' Corps, '30-'31-'32; Biology Club, '32; Nautical Club, '34; Circolo Petrarca, '34.

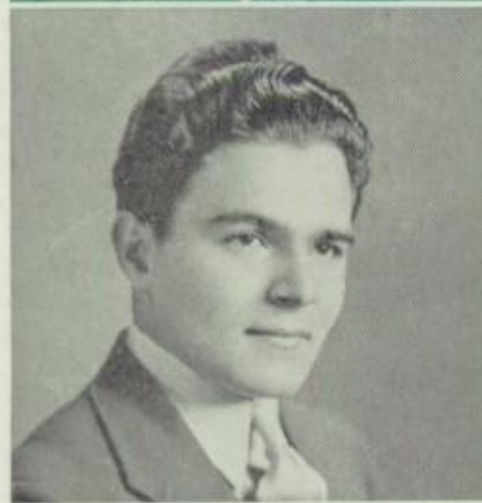

THOMAS CARDULLO

"Tommy"

Introducing "Tommy," an outstanding member of the graduating class. The Boys' Glee Club will, no doubt miss this startling young tenor who has been one of the most active boys in the club. We wish "Tommy" lots of luck in the music world.

Glee Club, '31-'32-'33; Librarian, '34; Musical Comedy, '32; Frolic, '33; All New England High School Chorus, '32; Eastern High School Chorus, '33.

JOSEPH R. CARELLO

"Leo," "Legs"

Personality plus describes our "Leo" and makes him popular both in and out of school. He is an inevitable gloom chaser, this making it almost impossible to have a dull day in our high school. "Leo" has made himself popular with both sexes (especially the opposite). The class will miss him, but we have confidence that he will succeed in his future.

Nautical Club; Budget Collector; "Centralite" Representative; Italian Club.

EDWARD WILLIAM CARLOTTI

"Eddie"

It's a waste of time to introduce one so popular as "Eddie." Here is a boy with a great personality. No social or student dance is complete without him. Although "Eddie" has not gone out for sports, he has supported them faithfully. "Eddie" is undecided as to which college he will enter, but we know he will succeed in whatever he attempts. Good luck, "Eddie."

JOSEPHINE CARNEVALE

"Twinnie," "JoJo"

"A charming smile; a lovely air, Belong to this miss, so cute and fair."

Introducing "JoJo," the first of Central's well-known twins. Besides being a brilliant scholar, she also excels in dancing. In the line of athletics, hockey is her favorite sport—and can she play! Au revoir, "Twinnie."

Thrift Club, '32-'34; Dramatic Society, '33; Hockey, '32-'33; Baseball, '32; Traffic Squad, '34; Budget Collector, '34.

ROSE CARNEVALE

"Twinnie," "Ro"

This little twin is lovely and sweet,
Her smile is so lovely, her features, so neat,
She is clever, humorous, and dramatic too,
Smiling and cheerful, and never blue;
Personality plus possesses this lass,
The most popular member of our class.

Baseball, '31-'32; Hockey, '31-'32; Dramatic Society, '31-'32; Traffic Squad, '34.

JOHN V. CARPINELLI

"Iggy"

Crash! Slam! Bang! Don't be frightened, it's only our "Iggy" in the locker room fooling with "Rudy." During his stay at Central he has won many friends in both sexes. Although "Iggy" has not attended our student dances, he may be seen at all our class socials. "Iggy" has not decided as to his future. Au revoir, "Iggy."

Biology Club, '31-'32; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Track, '31; Freshman Basketball '31; Alternate, '32.

ANITA CARRATURO

"Nita"

A tiny miss with laughing dark eyes, shining black hair, and an infectious grin is our "Nita." Her sweet and amiable manner has made her a delightful friend. She excels in all her studies, and she intends to further her career at Rhode Island College of Education.

French Club, '33; Hi Tri, '31-'32; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32.

LILLIAN GERTRUDE CARTER

"Lil"

Lillian is the kind of girl everyone likes to have as a friend, for she possesses a certain attitude of friendliness and a heart of gold that has a soft spot for anyone winning her admiration. In and out of school, Lillian may be depended upon to keep the crowd lively. Smile with the world, "Lil," and good wishes!

S. A. O. Bookkeeper; "Black and Gold" Board; Traffic Squad; Leaders' Corps; Basketball; Volleyball.

DANIEL CATTERSON

"Dan" hailed here in 1933 from La Salle Academy. He is a quiet, unassuming fellow who takes his studies seriously. In endeavoring to reach success, he will go to Rhode Island State College when he leaves here. We all wish him the best of luck and success.

EILEEN C. M. CAVANAUGH

A sweet disposition and a good sport combined with dancing eyes and a lovely smile describe Eileen. Because of her loyal nature, understanding manner, fairness and willingness to help, we believe that Eileen will make a good teacher and advisor. Eileen will further her education at R. I. C. E.

Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; "Centralite" Representative, 12B.

TERESA MARIE CENAMI

"Terry"

"Little Teresa" has flashing dark eyes, a glowing smile, and a ready wit. She is a winsome ingenue, an ardent sports fan, and an Honor Student. Her versatile personality has made her popular with everyone. Next year "Terry" will continue her studies at some higher institution of learning, and we feel sure that she will be successful. Our best wishes go with her.

Hockey, '31; Volleyball, '31-'32; Basketball, '31-'32; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Home Room Alternate, '31; Athletic Representative, 11A; Class Play, 11A; Cercle Jeanne D'Arc, '33-'34; Secretary, '33-'34; "Black and Gold," '34; Rhode Island Honor Society.

JOSEPH CERTO

Introducing—but this dynamic personality needs no introduction. "Joe's" scholastic achievements and ready wit have made him an outstanding student at Central. "Joe" intends to further his studies at some higher institution of learning. His endeavor is to become a "Certified" Public Accountant. Best wishes from our class, "Joe."

Budget Collector, '32; Italian Competition Play, '33; Secretary of Circolo Petrarca, '33; President of Circolo Petrarca, '33-'34; S. A. O. Bookkeeper.

RUTH E. CHADBOURNE

"Ruthie"

Ruth is energetically alive in everything she undertakes. She is a talented art student, and we know that in the near future she will be one of our leading designers. Ruth aspires toward the higher things in life and in the fall will further her art education at the Rhode Island School of Design.

Thrift Representative, '31; "Black and Gold" Alternate, '31.

REX E. CHAMBERLIN

Rex is a quiet and unassuming chap, but he is well known throughout the school where he has a host of friends and acquaintances. Although Rex has not attended many social affairs he has been active in athletics. He has been an accomplished member of the hockey and tennis teams for the past three years. Rex is at present undecided about his future, but we feel sure that he will make a success of whatever he undertakes.

Hockey, '32-'33-'34; Tennis, '32-'33-'34, Captain, '34.

VERA MAE CHAMBERLAIN

"Vee"

Vera is a quiet, unassuming girl, who possesses the qualities of a true friend. Banking inspires her to further her education at some commercial institution. May success and happiness be yours, dear friend.

Glee Club, '30-'31; Dramatic Guild, '32; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '33-'34; "Black and Gold," '34.

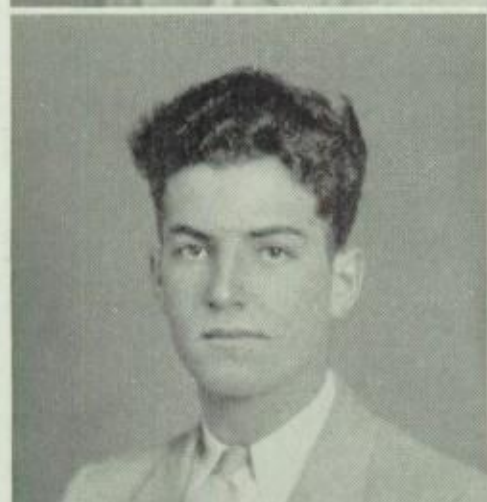

ROBYNA CHATALIAN

"Beans," "Byna," "Roby"

Here's to Central's "Babe Didrikson"! After four years of — — we're convinced that "Beans'" athletic ability equals that of any boy in the school. She is undoubtedly one of the outstanding girl athletes in the state. Beneath her demure smile lies power—power to lead—to be obeyed. Although "Beans" claims sports as her favorite pastime, music is her life. She hopes some day to teach music, and we wish her luck.

Basketball, '31-'32-'33-'34; Captain, '32-'34; Hockey, '32-'33-'34; Captain, '33; Volleyball, '32-'33; Captain, '33; Cageball, '34; Captain; Baseball, '32-'33-'34; Swimming, '31; Athletic Representative, '33; Home Room Representative, '31; Alternate, '32; Major "C," '33; Tennis, '33-'34; School Singles Champion, '33; City Co-Champion, '33; Junior Class Champion, '32.

NICHOLAS CHRISTOFARO

"Christy"

Introducing "Christy," who with his pleasant disposition and good nature has won many friends. Even though he doesn't believe in studying too much, he has always managed to pass his subjects with ease. "Christy" is undecided as to his future, but we are sure that he will be successful in whatever he undertakes.

Junior Varsity Baseball, '31; Varsity Baseball, '32-'33-'34.

EVELYN A. CIANCI

"Ev"

A true pal is our "Ev." She is very studious, yet she believes in having her fun. Her friendly smile and cheerful manner have won her a host of friends during her stay at Central. "Ev" intends to enter R. I. C. E. in the fall. May luck and success always be yours, "Ev."

SOPHIE VIRGINIA CIANCIOLO

Sophie possesses an exceptionally fine character which will be the basis of her future success. She is a diligent and excellent student who sincerely enjoys hard work. Sophie is also a violinist and a fine sports woman. In the fall, she will continue her education in some higher institution of learning.

Basketball, '31-'32-'33; Home Room Alternate, '32-'33; Senior Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Junior-Senior Orchestra, '31-'32-'33; Hi-Tri, '32-'33; Volleyball, '32-'33; Baseball, '33; Girls' Rifle Club, '33; Thrift Council, '32-'33-'34; Thrift Council Vice-President, '34.

MILDRED PHYLISS CICCIO

"Millie"

"Millie," our petite class sweetheart, has wit, beauty, and personality plus. This prize package has won numerous friends at Central. Central's halls will seem barren when "Millie" leaves us. Success, little one. We know Central's big loss will be Emerson's big gain.

Thrift Council, '31.

GEORGE HOWARD CLARKE

That quiet little fellow hugging the violin is known to his friends as "Georgie." He and his violin companion are inseparable. Since his favorite subject is Mechanical Drawing, he plans to study Aeronautical Engineering. Well, best of luck, "Georgie"!

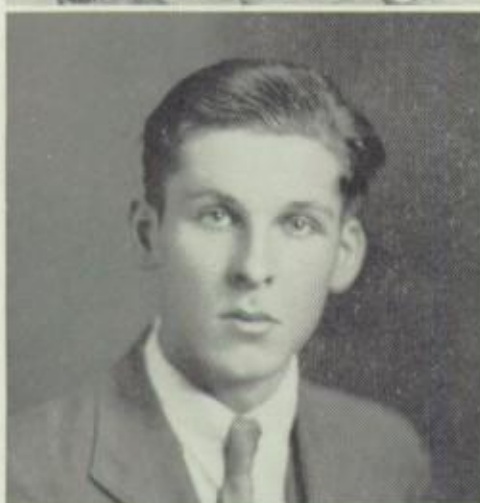

Senior Orchestra, '33-'34; Tech Stamp Club, '31-'32; Central Philatelic Society, '33-'34; Swimming Team, '34.

FREIDA CLEINMAN

Here is one of the sweetest little ladies in the Senior Class. Her charming personality and good humor have endeared her to all her classmates. Freida's greatest asset is her lovely smile. As Freida excels in bookkeeping, we are sure her future will be paved with happiness and success.

S. A. O. Bookkeeper, '34; Traffic Squad.

STEPHEN HENRY CLEMENCE

"Steve"

Of course you know him—if you have ever stood outside Central at about 7:30 A. M. Promptly at that hour this quiet young chap arrives in his rattling good Studebaker, with a couple of fair passengers from Johnston. Because of work at home, "Steve" has not taken part in many school activities, but has always supported them faithfully. His good nature and quiet humor have made him a most popular fellow among his classmates. He intends to go to R. I. State College. We shall probably hear of him as a rising young agriculturist.

Nautical Club, '34.

BEATRICE CLEMENTS

"Bea"

"Bea" is one of the petite members of our class. Although she is quiet and demure, "Bea" is always ready for a good time, but does not allow her fun to hinder her studies. She intends to further her education at R. I. C. E. Our best wishes are with her.

R. I. Honor Society.

MAY HELEN CLEVELAND

Personality and refinement are only two of the many qualities that characterize this demure miss who is one girl in a thousand. May excels chiefly in art, and intends to further her education at the Rhode Island School of Design. May the best in life be yours!

RITA FRANCES CODY

"Re"

Being one of the sweetest girls at Central, Rita naturally has made many friends. Her fun-loving nature and alluring smile are the secrets of her popularity. A snappy dancer, a helpful friend, and a favorite is our "Re." We know that she will succeed in whatever she undertakes.

MARY MARGUERITE COFFEY

"Ginger"

Introducing Mary, one of the "Three Musketeers." She has a lively sense of humor which mixes well with her bright laughing eyes and red hair. We can just picture Mary at a hospital cheering the patients, because that's just what she intends to do. So long and good luck.

DAVID COHEN

"Cohen"

Here is one of our gay classmates who, throughout his stay at Central, has always had the interest of his friends at heart. An injury of one form or other prevented him from participating in sports. We do not know his future aspirations, but we wish him "bon voyage" on his trip through life!

FLORENCE COHEN

"Flo," "Florrie"

A charming girl, a pal to those who know her, and a genuine classmate to all, is Florence. During her four years at Central, she has made countless friends and kept them all. This is due to her most likable personality and sweet smile, which are always apparent. Here's to you, "Flo,"—lots of luck and loads of happiness.

Traffic Squad; Freshman Basketball.

RUTH COHEN

Stop! Take notice! Introducing one of Central's sweetest girls. Ruth came to us eight months ago from sunny California and immediately became a valuable member of the Centralite. Her sunny smile and witty remarks have endeared her to all in Central. The best wishes of the class go with her on her return to the west.

EMILIO CHARLES COIA

Look close at this solemn (?) son of Central. Seriousness never enters this lad's head. He is always smiling, good-natured, and full of fun. Although not able to participate in any sports, Emilio has supported them faithfully. Emilio is undecided in regard to his future, but we know that he will succeed in whatever he undertakes.

ANNA COLAGIOVANNI

Anne is sweet, neat, and petite
Small indeed, and yet discreet.
Fair of face and full of grace,
Gifted with wisdom is our Ace.
Anne incomparable in her way,
Will succeed in some future day
To conquer, and gain after strife
A long, prosperous, happy life.

MARCO COLAGIOVANNI

Who is that boy who comes strolling in late practically every morning? You guessed it, it's Marco, that neatly dressed fellow. Although late in arriving, once in school, he settles down to real hard studying. He came to us from Bridgham Jr. High three years ago. He claims his best subjects are French and Civics. He plans to further his education at R. I. State. We all wish him luck and know he will succeed.

ELEANOR M. COLMAN

"Flick," "El"

Tall, slender, a pair of sparkling blue eyes, and a pleasing disposition partly describes our "El." To know her is to love her. Eleanor has acquired a host of sincere friends. She is always ready to lend a helping hand, and can usually be found with her friend "Al." She gives no study real preference, but takes each one as it comes, and does not let it worry her. May good luck be with you, "El," in all of your undertakings.

Thrift Representative, '34.

MARION CONGDON

Tall, blonde, and well-liked; only three of the many words necessary to describe Marion. As she enjoys out-door sports, the country claims most of her leisure time. Horse-back riding is her favorite sport. May success accompany a loyal friend to R. I. State.

EDMUND C. CORBETT

"Eddie"

Although "Eddie" came to us from La Salle, he is a Central man through and through, and the time will come when we will be very proud of him. It is difficult to tear him from his studies, but just mention the fair sex and "Eddie's" interest for books suddenly disappears. As for dancing, 'tis his second nature, nor does he allow "Math" or Shakespeare to interfere with a good time. Nevertheless, he feels at home with his books, and we are confident that he will continue his good work during his course at Fordham.

CHARLES A. COREY

"Charlie"

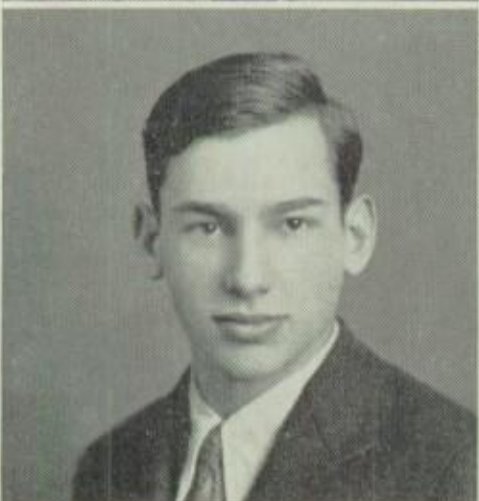

"Charlie" is one of the quietest members of our class. He has no favorite studies, but treats them all with justice. Although he is not sure of his plans for the future, we are sure he will succeed.

ERNEST L. COREY

"Bud"

Here is a gentleman with whom the faculty as well as the students are all familiar. His popularity with his classmates is due to his never-failing wit and clever sayings. "Bud" is undecided as to how he will further his education, but we feel sure he will make a success of whatever he undertakes.

FRANCESCO COSTAGLIOLA

"Frank," "Cos," "Costag"

This quiet, serene, young man possesses the essentials of a model student. "Frank" has proved himself a mathematical genius to the extent of enlightening vexing problems of the class. To you we extend our sincere adieu. We know and hope that you will succeed in whatever you undertake.

DANTE COSTANTINO

"Danny"

We present the one and only "Danny," the lad who ventured forth from Bridgham Junior High. His refined manner and pleasing personality have made him a popular classmate. He is always ready to give support to the school, and may be depended upon to do good work. Although he has no definite plans for the future, we are sure that he will be successful, and we wish him everlasting good luck.

SARAH COTRONEO

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man."

Perhaps if Sarah had been present when Edgar Allen Poe wrote this beautiful poem, he might have centered it on her character. Sarah intends to become a trained nurse, and we are confident that her pleasant personality will ease the illness of her patients. Vaya Con Dios.

GENEVIEVE M. CROWLEY

Introducing "Jennie" our class sweetheart. Who doesn't know this petite miss with her winning personality? Her sterling character and true friendship are her most valuable possessions. She will certainly succeed because of her willingness to help everyone. Like all other tales this one must have an end, but our memories of "Jennie" will always linger.

Budget Collector, '33-'34; Traffic Squad, '34.

JOSEPH A. CRUZ

"Joe"

Meet one of the most likable boys in our class. Besides being a snappy dancer "Joe" is always ready to lend a helping hand. He is undecided about his future, but we are sure he will succeed in anything he undertakes. Good luck, "Joe."

JOHN A. CUDDY

"Bud"

Let me introduce to you happy-go-lucky "Bud." His character and genial personality are the guide posts which have directed to him a host of friends. Although "Bud" has not participated in athletics, he is an ardent supporter of the school. Good luck, "Bud," may it never end.

MARY CUDDY

"Shorty"

This petite brunette has won for herself the high esteem of her classmates and teachers. She is naturally unassuming, sincere, and friendly. These characteristics have added many links to her chain of friendship. With these good qualities she will go far on the road to success. Your classmates join in wishing you Bon Voyage.

PHYLLIS CUNETTA

"Phyl"

This is our "Phyl" with those sparkling brown eyes and that captivating smile. This sweet and winsome young miss has won many friends with her fine character and personality. Although we are doubtful of "Phyl's" future, we are not sure that it will be a business career.

DONALD E. CUNNINGHAM

"Don"

Donald came to us from Peace Street Grammar School four years ago, and since then he has made many friends through his amiable personality. He has not taken part in any athletics but has supported them freely. We wish him the best of luck in his future undertakings.

JANET CUNNINGHAM

Here we have Janet, the happiest girl in our class. Her willingness to lend a helping hand to all has made her a host of friends. That everlasting smile of hers has kept Mr. Gloom on the run. If ever a career can be predicted, we are sure that Janet's will be most successful.

MARION ROWE CURRIE

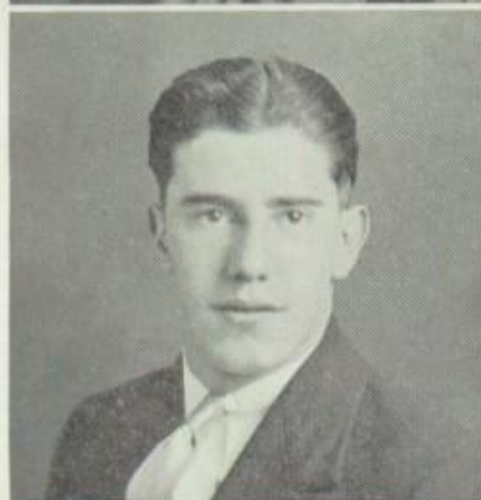

"Curly"

To attempt to describe the many pleasing qualities of Marion would be impossible. She is deserving of every fine word one could possibly say. Her enthusiastic interest in her fellow students, her school, and her studies has earned for her the respect and friendship of our entire class. When she leaves Central she takes with her our sincere good wishes for her future success.

RITA A. CURTAIN

A girl with a charming personality is our Rita, one of the prettiest and sweetest in our class. She has won her way into the hearts of all her classmates. We are sure she will be a great success in whatever she undertakes. Good luck, Rita.

JOSEPH CURTS

"Joe," "Shorty"

Behold our "Joe," the peer of mischief-makers and good students. His hearty laugh and humorous remarks have broken through many a dark cloud like a ray of sunshine. He is the smallest member of our class, but Oh! what a "great" drummer. Adios, "Joe," and luck to your future.

Vocational Orchestra, '31-'32-'33-'34; Senior Orchestra, '33; Junior Orchestra '33; All New England High School Orchestra, '33; Rhode Island Festival Orchestra, '32-'33; All Providence High School Orchestra, '32-'33; Eastern Conference Orchestra, '33; Student Dance Orchestra, '31-'32-'33-'34; Jazz Orchestra for Frolic, '33; All Providence High School Band, '32-'33; Senior Band, '31-'32-'33-'34; Soccer, '33.

PASCALENA DANTONE

"Pat"

A sweet little miss with sparkling blue eyes and a charming smile for everyone—that's "Pat." She has done well in her classes, being a conscientious student, and we know she will succeed in the business world in the future. Good luck, "Pat."

ADELE MARIE D'ANTUONO

A pair of eyes that are simply bewitching, a sweet personality all her own, and here is our Adele. Her winsome smile and charming manner have won her many friends throughout her stay at Central. Good luck, Adele, and may all your desires be fulfilled.

Tennis, '31; Hi-Tri, '32-'33-'34; Secretary, '34; Delegate to New England Girl Reserve Conference, '34; "Spotlight," Hi-Tri Paper, '34; Circolo Petrarca, '33-'34.

CHARLES F. DARELIUS

"Charlie"

"Charlie" came to Central four years ago from Broad Street Grammar School. He has not participated in athletics but has supported them financially. "Charlie" has many friends in Central. Next September he intends to enter Rhode Island State College.

JOSEPH DARLING

"Sparks," "Joe"

"Joe's" chief interest in this world is radio. If all the subjects in school pertained to radio, "Joe's" report card would be one A after another. Nevertheless, "Joe" has attained high marks in all his other studies. The next step that "Joe" will take is establishing a radio business. Good luck, "Joe."

MARSHALL J. DAUER

"Bo"

Who is that well-groomed fellow who comes stalking into school bright and early every morning? Why, it's none other than our Marshall, who in his own quaint way has won all those of the fairer sex. Although "Bo" once broke his wrist in sports, he never strained a ligament by carrying books. He hopes to become an engineer. Well, so long Pal and good luck.

Tennis, '30-'31; Radio Club, '30-'31; Debating, '31-'32; Wireless, '30.

JOHN S. DAWBER

Only those who have never seen one of our hockey games will need an introduction to "Red"—he of the flashing blades and the flaming hair.

"When time has flown and we're forgotten, Think, 'Red,' of the goals you should have gotten."

Hockey, '32-'33-'34.

MARCELLINO J. DECRISTOFORO

Marcellino needs no introduction, for he is well known to all of us. Although athletically inclined, he did not participate in any sports, due to outside activities. His many achievements in art should aid him to make a success of life.

GEORGE JOHN DE GIORGIS

"Dee"

George is one of the regular fellows of our class. Three years ago, he came to us from Bridgham Junior High School. His favorite subjects are Italian and Bookkeeping in which he excels. George plans to go into business after graduation. Good luck, "Dee."

Golf, '34; "Black and Gold"; Home Room Representative, 12B.

DOROTHY MAE DEGNAN

Attention please! May we introduce to you "Dot" whose sweetness and merry disposition have won for her many friends at Central. A magnetic smile and wonderful dancing ability have made her the pride of the Senior class. We know she will succeed in the business world.

Study Chairman, '32; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '31-'32; Nominating Committee, '33; Home Room Representative, '32-'33; Class Day Waitress, '32; 3A Class Hostess; 4B Class Day; Traffic Squad.

GLADYS GERTRUDE DE GRASS

"Red"

Curly red hair, soft brown eyes, cheery smile, a sweet disposition—our Gladys. "Never mind, I'll help you" is her by-word and may explain in part her wide popularity. Her favorite subject is chemistry, in which she excels. Her ambition is to be a nurse, but whatever her vocation we know her character and charm will bring success.

David Hoyt Reading Club, '33-'34.

AMERICO DEL SESTO

"Del"

"Del" came to us from Classical in his senior year. In this year, he has made a host of friends among the students and faculty. He seems to be a quiet chap, but his friends know him as a jolly companion. When he departs from our exalted halls, we hope that fortune will treat him kindly.

SALVATORE DELVECCHIO

"Del"

"Del" is a representative from George J. West Jr. High. Apparently he is very quiet, but when you know him it is quite the contrary. He has been a good student. "Del" is very popular among his friends. His future is undecided, but we wish him much luck.

HENRY DE MATTERS

"Red"

Make room —. Who is this red head approaching? None other than "Red," who has a pleasant personality plus. During his three years at Central "Red" has made many friends of both sexes. He has participated in track events during the season of '32 and '33. "Red's" favorite subjects are English and Chemistry. "Red" intends to further his education at the University of Alabama. Good luck and success from your classmates, "Red."

Track, '33; Indoor Track, '32.

DONALD E. DENNIGAN

"Red"

"Red" is one of our quiet chaps whose favorite studies are mathematics and French (?). He has won many of his friends through his cheerfulness and willingness to lend a helping hand. "Red" is undecided as to his future, but we know he will succeed in whatever he undertakes. It is with real sincerity that we wish him the best of luck.

Class Basketball, '31-'32; Varsity Track, '32.

ARMANDO DE QUATRO

Thanks to Bridgham Junior High School for sending Armando to us. Because of his stay here, Central has been a brighter place. Here's good luck to you, Armando, and may you succeed in whatever you undertake.

GRACE DERADOORIAN

Glorious dark eyes, gleaming white teeth, and a Madonna type of loveliness describe Grace. Her refined manner and constant efficiency will make her just the executive secretary that a bank president desires! Her journalistic aspirations must not be neglected, for she can write romantic yarns, too!

Glee Club, '31-'32; Hi-Tri, '30; Chairman of Candy Committee, '34.

ADELINE DE RITA

Biff! Bang! Yes, this is our Adeline always up to something. We'll introduce Adeline as the girl with a million dollar smile. Adeline is one girl who can create an atmosphere of gaiety wherever she goes. No matter how you look at her she is appealing and winsome. We wish you luck, Adeline.

NICHOLAS DE STEFANO

This is "Nick." He came to us last year from Classical. Although he is undecided as to his future, his classmates at Central know that he will be successful in whatever he undertakes. We all wish him the best of luck.

JOHN JOSEPH DEVLIN

"Jackie"

Introducing "Jackie," whose youthful exuberance and gaiety have made him dear to the hearts of his classmates. His ready smile and magnetic personality should assure him of a very bright future.

FALDI DIANA

This charming, amiable young miss, with her twinkling brown eyes, and sunny smile is none other than our Faldi. Her good nature and willingness to help others have made her a popular and loving classmate. Faldi intends to enter the music world, and we're sure she'll succeed.

JAMES WILLIAM DICKERSON

"Jim"

This young fellow is none other than our friend "Jim." He may always be seen at athletic and social events. His pleasing smile and never-ceasing willingness to help has gained him many friends in Central. Although "Jim's" future is undecided, we know he will succeed. Good luck, "Jim."

Freshman Basketball, '31; Home Room Representative, 11A; Varsity Swimming Team, '33-'34.

JOHN DI COLA

Semi-humorous, modest, and conservative are enough adjectives to depict our John. During his stay at Central, he has been faithful to his studies as well as to his school. We are sure that John will succeed after graduation, and here's wishing him luck as a security.

Italian Club, '32-'33-'34.

MARY ELLEN DOHERTY

Introducing Mary—Anyone who knows Mary intimately knows the meaning of the words "true pal." She is that sincere type of chum that you love to count as one of your friends. Although she looks serious, there are no dull moments when she is near. The class wishes you luck, Mary.

ENZO D'ONOFRIO

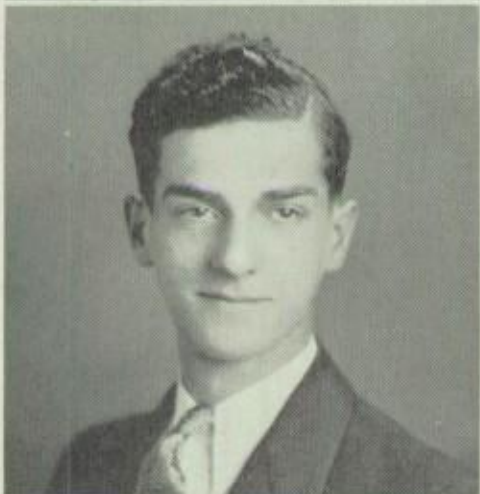

Enzo is everyone's friend. He is always ready to lend a helping hand. Although undecided as to his future, success is sure to be his. The best of luck, Enzo!

ANN DONOVAN

A dashing smile, eyes that glow, pretty clothes, and a charming personality describe our "Ann." A very cute miss is she, and is gifted with a lovely soprano voice which has won her a place in the hearts of many. Adieu, Ann.

Glee Club, '32-'33-'34; Eastern Conference, '33; New England High School Chorus, '33; Musical Comedy, '32; Frolic, '33; Swimming, '31.

JOHN DOREGO

Well, look who's here! It is none other than "Johnny," one of the happy-go-lucky boys of our class. "Johnny" is one of the liveliest members of the class, and his witty remarks have often broken the calmness of a peaceful class room. John is undecided as to where he will continue his studies next year, but our best wishes accompany him wherever he may go.

JOHN LAWRENCE DOUCETT

"Douc"

Here is one of the highest-minded individuals in our class. Aviation is to be his future work. His ambitions, like flying, are the highest in the world. Popularity is one "plane" that will take him a long way. "Happy landings, 'Douc'."

Baseball, '33-'34.

EILEEN MARIE DOYLE

Sparkling brown eyes, a cheerful smile, and a pleasing personality describe Eileen. "I" has broken the silence of many a classroom with her uncontrollable giggle. After graduation Eileen intends to make a name for herself in the business world. May your future be as bright as your past, Eileen.

Traffic Squad, '33-'34; Budget Collector, '31; Volleyball, '31.

DORIS DUCLOS

"Dot," "Dottie"

Hello Everybody. Hold your seat while we introduce "Dottie." Why! who doesn't know this fascinating petite miss with those snappy hazel eyes, wavy brown hair and a winning personality? Now doesn't she look fun-loving? May the sunshine "Dottie" brought to Central lead her to everything she undertakes. Au revoir, "Dot."

MARY JOSEPHINE DUFFY

Mary is one of the most cheerful and sociable members of our class. Her winning smile and charming personality have won her many friends. We are sure that this popular young miss will brighten someone's office in the future.

Traffic Squad, '34; Cheer Leader, '33.

HARRY EDGAR DUTSON

This quiet, conservative young lad is our good friend Harry. His good nature and pleasing disposition have won him the esteem of his classmates. His future plans are still pending. However, we wish him luck in their fulfilment.

WILLIAM LEVITES DWARES

"Bill"

To some of us "Bill" needs no introduction because during his stay at Central he has made many friends. "Bill" is undecided as to his future, but some textile school may find him on its enrollment list next fall. Whatever your decision may be, "Bill," we wish you luck for a successful future.

Glee Club, '31-'32; Football Manager, '32.

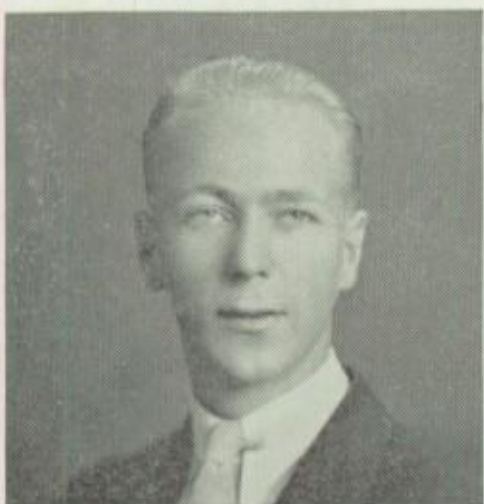

NORMAN CARL FRANK ECKLOFF

"Norm"

Introducing Norman who hails from away up on Fruit Hill. He can always be found rushing down the corridor at 7:59 (or later). Yes, Girls, he was captain of the wrestling team. Norman intends to further his education at R. I. State. The best of luck, Pal.

Wrestling, '32-'33-'34; 135-lb. State Champion, '33; Captain, '34.

LENNART AXEL ELIASON

"Len"

Stop dear reader and meet our friend and classmate "Len." He came to us four short years ago from Broad St. Grammar School, Blond and blue-eyed, he is really fun to know. "Len" did not participate in sports because of outside interests. He is undecided about his future, but we are sure he will succeed.

Rifle Club, '33.

VIOLET ELMER

"Vi," "Vike," "Vee"

Modesty, thy name is Violet—of the benevolent order of musketeers—5' 4" of charming femininity—but don't be misled. "Vi" is an athlete in her own right, an industrious student, and an ardent hockey fan. Few people set standards for themselves but "Vi" is working towards an ideal that she herself set. May Lady Luck accompany you, and we, your classmates, wish you "nothing but the best."

Tennis, '33-'34; School Singles and Senior Championship; Basketball, '30; Captain, '32-'33-'34; Baseball, '30-'32-'33; Captain, '33; Volleyball, '30-'32-'33; Cageball, '34; Hockey, '30; Vice-President Rifle Club, '30; French Club, '33-'34; Home Room Representative, 9B, 9A, 10B.

EDNA VICTORIA ELVING

"Eddie"

Introducing "Eddie" whose sweet personality has made her an asset to Central. Her charm and individuality are the reasons for her host of loyal friends. We're sorry you're leaving, Edna, but we know you'll carve yourself a name in the business world—a fortune to some employer.

Tennis, '32; Flower Committee, '33; Library Auxiliary, '33-'34.

VIRGINIA ESSEX

"Ginny"

If you think she is quiet, you don't know our "Ginny," for behind those brown eyes lurk fun and friendship. A winning smile and a willingness to help have won for "Ginny" a bevy of friends. In the future she may be seen in a white cap and gown.

HARRY FAIN

He needs no introduction. Good-natured, well-liked, a true friend to all at all times, and always ready to offer a helping hand is Harry. If you want to save thyself from embarrassment don't ever get into an argument with Harry. He's none other than Darrow's successor. Good luck to you, Harry!

Debating Society, '32-'33-'34; Varsity Squad, '33-'34; Capt. Varsity Squad, '34.

ESTHER MAE FALCONER

Is she quiet? Ask her teachers.
Is she mischievous? Ask the Dean.
Is she studious? Ask her counsellor.
Is she a good sport and real pal? Ask anyone who knows her.

All will answer in the affirmative with the possible exception of the first. Here's luck, pal, you deserve it.

EDNA JANE FALES

"Gentlemen prefer blondes." Do you blame them if the blondes are like Edna? She is the possessor of a sunny disposition. It is with deep regret that we part from our charming classmate. May her success at R. I. S. D. be of the highest!

GERARD FRANK FALINA

"Jerry," "Glen Gray"

Although "Jerry" didn't take part in any sports, he always supported them. His favorite subject is German. His favorite orchestra is the Casa Loma. "Jerry" intends to be a mechanical engineer and will attend Rhode Island State. We wish you all success, "Jerry."

ANTHONY FAMIGLIETTI

"Fami"

Keep right on reading folks, for here we introduce the lad with the captivating personality. Although a little reserved in manner, "Fami" has had little difficulty in acquiring a host of friends. It is, therefore, only fitting that all honor should be given to this cheerful youngster with the will to smile, and may he soar joyously on to ever-increasing heights of happiness.

F. WINNIFRED FARNUM

"Winnie"

"Winnie," a tall, lovely blonde, hails from various parts of the country and lastly from Chicago. In one year we have grown to love this shy and unassuming miss. Those twinkling eyes give us a glimpse of the humor beneath the quiet surface. Her artistic ability assures us that some day she will be a famous artist.

"Black and Gold" Art Staff, '33-'34; Glee Club, '34.

RUTH FRANCES FARROW

Ruth is a combination of loyalty and refinement. She possesses an attractive, sweet manner that has made for her many friends. These characteristic qualities so typical of Ruth will be great assets for her future career, that of teaching. We wish you much success at R. I. C. E.

JOHN FRANCIS FAY

Hail to the John Barrymore of the Senior Class. "Red" can always be seen around the dramatic studio or talking to a host of friends in the corners of the corridors. "Red" hopes to continue his education at Bryant & Stratton College. Best of luck, pal.

Senior Play; 4B Class Day Play.

PAUL EMIL FEIFERT

Tall, debonair, clever, good-looking—all of these adjectives describe Paul, the second member of the "Silent (?) Three." He is an excellent student as his report cards show. Paul, we hope you will realize your greatest ambition—that of becoming a cadet at West Point.

R. I. Honor Society.

JOHN FENLEY

"Pat"

"Pat's" genial smile and pleasing personality have won for him a host of friends, both of the male and female sex. "Pat" supports all of Central's social activities, and can be seen strutting the four hundred at all the student dances. "Pat" claims English as his favorite subject, and will enter newspaper work after leaving school. All Central joins in wishing you the best of luck, "Pat."

ABRAHAM RICHARD FISCH

"Pop," "Fisbie"

Object: Fun! Greatest Weakness: er—?—Saving M. G.! Marvelous physique—distinguishing features—ability to be liked by everyone—that's "Pop"! "Pop" has managed to ally himself with the three inseparables, B., J., and W. We wish luck and happiness to a fun-loving Romeo, and we know he will surely succeed in whatever he may undertake.

BRADFORD THAYER FISHER

"Brad," "Finch"

"Brad" is one of the most popular boys of our class. His favorite subject is mechanical drawing. "Brad" is undecided about his future education, but some higher institution of learning will claim him. Cheerio, "Brad," and good luck.

DONALD ELDRED FISKE

8:15—and the farmer comes in from the wilds of North Scituate. But, oh! who is that brunette with the dimpled chin that may be seen walking down the corridor with him? His future is undecided, but we wish him success in whatever he undertakes.

ELIZABETH WINSOR FISKE

"Bettie," "Bett"

One look into "Bettie's" deep blue eyes is the cause of sending cares a-hiding. However, "Bettie" is a diligent student. Her main hobby is horses, and during her leisure time she may be found riding her mount "Blazer." "Bettie" intends to further her education in the field of music.

Glee Club, '31-'32-'33-'34.

CATHERINE FLAHERTY

A pair of blue eyes, a charming smile, and a lovely personality, partly describes our Catherine. This sweet little miss has made a host of friends during her stay at Central. We know she will succeed in whatever she attempts after graduation, and we wish her the best of luck.

Glee Club, '30; Swimming, '30-'31; Library Auxiliary, '30-'31-'32; Debating '34; Hi-Tri, '34; Traffic, '34.

MARY ELIZABETH FLYNN

Here comes personality—a flash of red hair, dash of temper, and plenty of individuality. Mary is the first and last word in ambition. Her systematic and business-like ways are sure to secure for her an eminent place in the business world.

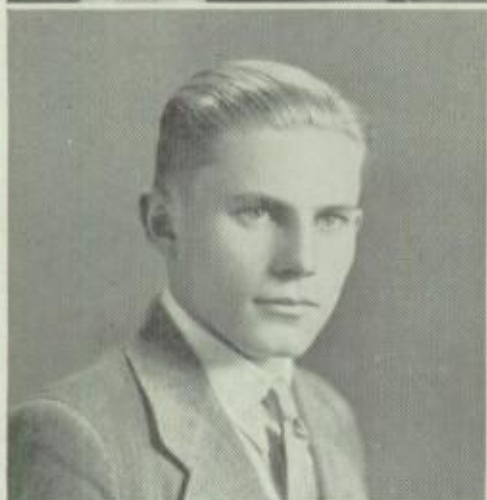

Thrift Council, '30-'33; Swimming, '31-'32-'33; Library Auxiliary, '31-'32-'33.

C. VIRGINIA FOLEY

"Gin"

You wonder, perhaps, what yearning consumes this young miss. Studies she accomplishes efficiently; sports, well they are interesting, too; but that which brings a sparkle to those eyes is a well balanced meal. The fates and Virginia have decreed that she shall be a dietitian. More power to you, "Gin."

ALBERT B. FORRESTER

"Al"

"Al" is the most happy-go-lucky fellow in the graduating class. If you have ever seen him worried, you have beheld a rare sight. "Al" says football is his favorite sport, with boxing ranking second. He is undecided about what he will do after graduation. Good luck, "Al."

ELLEN FRANCES FORSLUND

"El"

When introducing Ellen we can surely say that she is one of the cutest blondes in our class. "El" has made a host of friends while at Central, for she is a true and loving friend to all.

Junior Glee Club, '31-'32; All Eastern Shows, '33; All New England, '32; Providence Night, '32; Traffic Squad, '34; Frolic, '30; Glee Club, '32-'33-'34; Musical Comedy, '33; Leaders' Corps, '31; Basketball, '32; 3A Class Day Play, '33; Tennis, '30; Student Council, '32.

DORA FOSTER

"Do"

The "Miss Personality" of the 1934 Class is about to be introduced to you. "Do," who always has a smile and a word of good cheer for all, has black, wavy hair and sparkling brown eyes. She has made a host of everlasting friends during her four year stay at Central. May luck be always with you, "Do," in whatever you undertake.

MARGUERITE CLAIRE FOX

One of the outstanding figures in the Senior Class is Marguerite. Her popularity is explained by her charming personality, which makes her known throughout Central. At all the social functions she is very much in demand as dancing is another one of her admirable abilities. Greatest success to you, Marguerite.

Swimming, '31; Tennis, '33; Home Room Representative, '34; Traffic Squad, '34; Social Committee, '34.

NORMAN A. FRANKLIN

"Norm," "Ben," "Mickey"

"Norm" to the girls, "Ben" to the football team, "Mickey" to his pals. When not hurrying to Social Committee meetings he is usually looking for Myrtle. "Norm" intends to go to either Boston Art School to study modeling or R. I. State to study physical culture. Good luck, "Norm."

Home Room Representative, 9A, 2B, 3A, 4A; Alternate, 2A, 3B; Social Committee, 4A; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Football, '34.

HORATIO FRASER

"Ray"

"Ray" is one of our tall and handsome classmates, who is always happy-go-lucky. Believe it or not, he is both studious and mischievous. When you see him with his pal, "Jack" Armstrong, you are ready to witness fun and perhaps a little trouble. "Ray" says he is going on—but we wonder where.

ARIO LOUIS FREDA

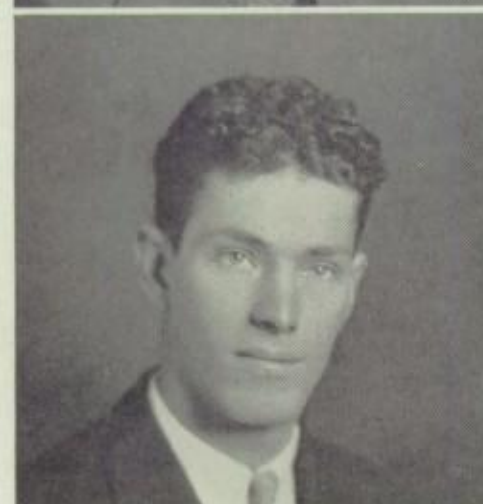

Gaze, O people, upon the countenance of this lad and you see our one and only Ario. This lad's personality, which is due to an extraordinary wit and sense of humor, has captivated many students at Central. Lads and lassies alike will mourn deeply at his departure. Providence College claims him in the fall. Best of luck, "Guy"!

Junior Chamber of Commerce, '31-'32.

SWEN TRYGGVE FREDRICKSON

"Swen" is one of the happy-go-lucky boys of the class who has made a flock of friends by his ready smile and merry disposition. Although he is undecided as to his future, we are sure he will be successful in whatever he undertakes.

JOSEPH F. FRYER

Curly hair, flashing blue eyes and a persuasive smile characterize this forceful personality. Although a recent addition to our class, ex '30, "Joe" is a well-known figure in Central this year because of his pioneer work in founding the "Centralite." His years at the Journal plus a natural "nose for news" bids fair to send "Joe" on his way to journalistic success.

Ex '30; President of Foreign Correspondence Club.

FRANK GARDENER FULLER

We present one of the most popular fellows in the class. His impersonations and occasional outbursts of Shakespeare have amused Tech and Central for the past four years. He is a member of the "Silent (?) Three." In the future, Frank intends to become a famous radio crooner.

Treasurer Science Club, 9B, 9A; Glee Club, 11B, 11A.

GUSTAV A. FURGAL

"Gusty" is one fellow you can always depend upon. He is always willing to help his friends, and they appreciate his friendship. We feel certain that he will be a success in whatever he attempts to do. Good luck, "Gus."

CONSTANCE AMY GADBOIS

"Connie"

Refinement, reserve, charming manners, and a sunny disposition have won for "Connie" an everlasting place in the hearts of her classmates. "Connie" is a loyal friend and is always willing to lend a helping hand to all. After graduation, "Connie" intends to enter the business world, where we know she will succeed.

Basketball, '31-'32-'33; Business Spirit Board, '32; Volleyball, '33; 3A Hostess, '33.

NICHOLAS WILLIAM GALLO

"Nick"

"Nick" is the one boy in our class whose winning smile and charming personality have won their way into the hearts of all his classmates. He is a happy combination of both friendliness and adaptability and is surely headed for success. In the fall he will enter Bryant-Stratton College. Au revoir, "Nick."

"Centralite" Representative, '33; Thrift Council, '34.

ALBERT GALLOTTA

"Al"

This handsome, witty, and curly-haired chap is one of the most popular fellows of our class. "Al's" natural charm, together with his carefree and happy-go-lucky nature, have won for him a host of friends (especially among the girls). However, this frolicsome lad has not let social functions interfere with his studies, as his Honor Society pin testifies. Good luck, "Al." Keep up that magnetic personality and fine work.

Home Room Representative, 10B, 10A; Thrift Club, '32; Sophomore Basketball, '32; Le Cercle Francais, '34; Rhode Island Honor Society.

BARBARA L. GARNER

"Bob"

Bob is that rare combination of personality and originality. Add understanding nature, happy temperament, friendly disposition, which are but a few of her many charming characteristics, and you have Bob, the ideal friend.

Library Auxiliary, '33; Business Spirit Board, '33; Nominating Committee, '33; Paris Peace Pact Winner, '33; Traffic Squad, '34.

BEATRICE M. GARRITY

"Bea"

"Charm, ability, and plenty more
A popular classmate of June '34."

Of course you have noticed "Bea" with her pal Myra leisurely rambling along the corridors of Central. "Bea" has enlivened many a depressing moment with her gay, jovial remarks. We dislike to say goodbye, so we say, "Good luck!"

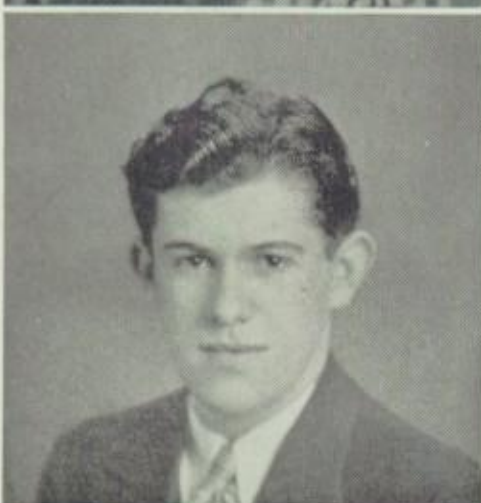

MARCEL N. GASPARD

Marcel is one of the quietest and best liked boys in our class. He claims Machine Shop as his favorite subject, but we notice him often at the lunch counter. Marcel is undecided as to his future, but we are sure he will succeed in any adventure he may attempt.

VILMA C. GATTA

A spirit debonair, with a great ingenuity for creating things and a sound, argumentative mind of her own, sum up this brunette dynamo whose creation of style is envied by more than one fair damsel. With her curiously clear-eyed outlook on life, she inspires everyone to friendship.

ANDRE H. GAUVIN

"Andy"

Curly-headed, brown-eyed, and one of the friendliest fellows that Central possesses. He always has a pleasant smile for everyone. Besides being a snappy dancer, "Andy" is an accomplished gymnast. After graduation he intends to enter the business world. Best of luck, "Andy."

Junior Varsity Baseball, '32; Traffic Squad.

DORIS FLORENCE MARIE GENDREAU

"Dot"

A pair of sparkling blue-gray eyes that just won't behave, light wavy hair, a permanent smile, and a lovely personality partly describes our "Dot." "Dot" is a conscientious worker who has aimed for a high scholastic standing, but is ready for merriment and mischief at all times. We know we don't have to wish you luck, Doris; you will be successful without it.

French Club, 12B, 12A, 10B, 10A; Spanish Club, 10A; Traffic Squad, 12A; French Play, 12A.

HARRY GEORGE

Whiz! Bang! Whoops!! Here comes our gay, sprightly friend Harry, abreast his two pals, "Al" and "Fami." Harry has been a diligent student during his stay at Central, as may be seen by his Rhode Island Honor Society pin. His sterling character, and ever pleasing countenance, we are certain will bear him through seemingly inaccessible tasks.

Science Club; French Club; French Play, "L'Ecoles Des Belles-Meres"; Rhode Island Honor Society.

GABRIEL GEVER

"Gabe"

Presenting "Gabe." Intelligent, fun-loving, and good-natured describes this outstanding student to a "T." His winning personality and willingness to help others have made him the pride of Central. His scholastic ability has won him the coveted Honor Society pin. "Gabe" will enter Brown University, and we all wish him success.

Rhode Island Honor Society.

AGNES FRANCES GILDEA

Our Agnes, the charming young miss, is shy but attractive—and how she attracts! The possessor of a sparkling, gracious smile and of an enviable personality is a much-sought partner in dancing or in conversation. This dashing brunette seems undoubtedly headed for success and fame.

M. EILEEN GILDEA

Tiny, blue-eyed, soft-voiced, and seemingly very shy, is our Eileen. Although her outward appearance is that of a demure little girl, Eileen is one of the wittiest girls, and one of the best sports of the Senior Class. Her willingness to help a classmate has won her many friends. We'll miss you, Eileen, but we wish you the best of luck on whatever road you may travel.

M. RUTH GILFOIL

"Gilly"

"A lovely miss with charms galore,
A personality unique, and so much more."

Ruth is well liked by all her associates because of her friendliness and helpfulness. She is not often seen at many of our athletic activities, except track, and to this she is most faithful. May success be yours, "Gilly."

SAMUEL WALLACE GILSTEIN

"Cy"

Shall we pause and take this opportune moment to give a toast to a recent arrival from Warwick High? Despite the fact "Cy" has been with us a short time, he has managed to become a distinguished and loyal Centralite. In the near future we expect to hear "Cy's" melodious voice come floating through the radio, for radio announcing happens to be his ambition. Au revoir, ami.

"Black and Gold," '34; Dramatic Club, '33-'34; Nautical Club, '34.

ARTHUR L. GIROUX

"Art"

Introducing to you the musical boy of our class! His ability on the trumpet is exceedingly outstanding. With his bright smile, flashing teeth, and jolly personality, he will go out into the world with a great chance to get ahead. So long, "Art"—don't forget your old Central pals when you're famous.

Track, '31; Band, '31-'32-'33; Orchestra, '31-'32; New England Festival, '31; Providence Night, '31; Dramatic Society, '31-'32-'33-'34; Frolic, '32; 4B Class Play, '34; Leaders' Corps, '30-'31.

MILDRED ADELE GIUSTI

"Millie"

Now may we present to you one of the best liked girls in our class—"Millie." Her delightful personality and winsome smile have won her a host of friends from both sexes. With so many desirable qualities, we know she will find success in whatever she undertakes.

Hockey, '32; Basketball, '32-'33; 3A Nominating Committee; 3A Banquet Hostess.

ELIZABETH VERONICA GLYNN

"Betty"

If there was ever a true pal, she may be found in this loyal and sincere friend. "Betty" has won many friends with her pleasing personality and winning smile. She intends to enter the business world after graduation. Bon voyage on your ship of success, "Betty."

RITA MARGARET GOFF

"Neat and sweet with eyes of blue, Personality plus, and attractive, too."

This describes our Rita, whose sunny disposition and helpfulness have won for her many friends. Rita is always seen laughing and joking in the corridors. Our best wishes to you, classmate, in your chosen vocation.

BELLA GOLDSTEIN

Who doesn't know Bella? Athlete par excellence, dramatist and capable scholar, Bella excels in all studies of sciences. Her keen wit will be missed by all at Central. Bella intends to enter a prominent New York hospital. Viel Glück.

Band, '31-'32-'33; Orchestra, '31-'32-'33; Dramatic Club, '31-'32-'33-'34; Winner of Dramatic Contest, '33; Frolic, '33; 3A Class Day; Junior Life Saving, '31-'32-'33; Swimming, '31-'32-'33; Tennis, '31-'32; Baseball, '31-'32-'33; Hockey, '31-'32; Traffic Squad, '34.

LOUIS GORDON

"Lou"

Here we have "Lou," whose exceptional personality has made him one of the most popular lads at Central. Although "Lou" is very diligent in the preparation of his lessons (?), he still finds time to support all socials, student dances, and athletic events. We are sure "Lou" will attain success in his chosen life's work.

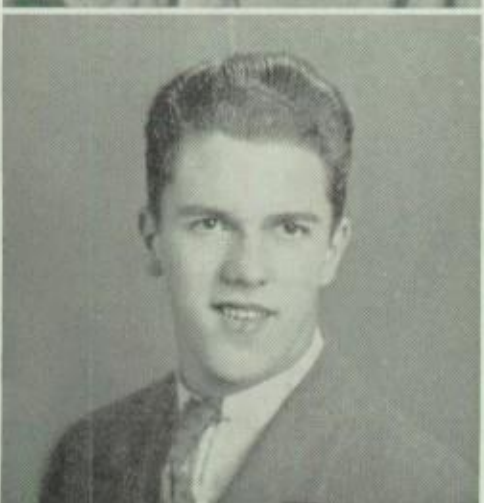

CATHERINE ISABEL GORMAN

"Kitty"

"Not too short, and not too tall,
This sweet, witty lady is gracious to all.

Catherine's personality and good-heartedness have won for her a host of friends. She is always cheerful and fun-loving, and many times may be seen giggling in the corridors with her pal, Rita.

ROBERT WILLIAM GOULET

"Bob"

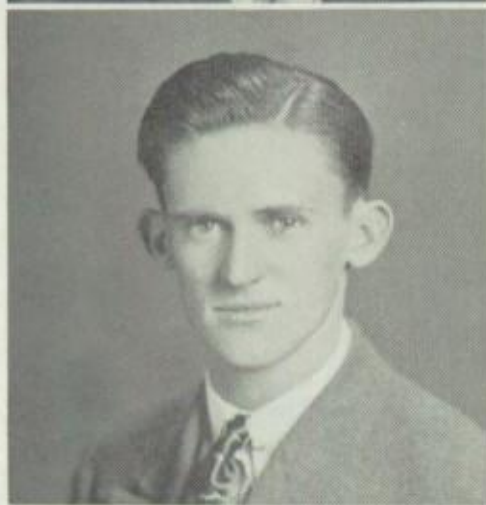

Here's our "Bob." His pleasing personality makes him a popular member of the class. He is noted for his constant "crooning." Dancing is his favorite hobby. The social affairs have been more enjoyable because of his presence. "Bob" is undecided as to his future, but we are sure he will be a success in whatever he attempts.

Philatelic Society.

VERNON CHARLES GOULD

A student? Yes! A friend? Yes! A Gentleman? Yes! A sport? Yes! Well, this just about describes this quiet, unassuming Centralite who expects to further his education at R. I. State. We expect great things from him and are sure that he will succeed in whatever he undertakes. Best wishes, "Goulie."

ALEXANDER GRAY, JR.

"Al," "Sailor"

Ahoy! "Al's" favorite war cry heralds his presence. His stories of the Eskimo Navy will go down in history. "Sailor's" greatest ambition is to be a naval officer. His smiling face will be missed by many.

Cross-Country, '31-'32-'33; Fencing, '30; Tech Aero Club Captain, '30-'31-'32; Secretary, Nautical Club, '34.

IDA F. GREEN

"Mitzi"

Vivacious, petite, and lovable, "Mitzi" is undoubtedly the "spice of life" at Central. So charmingly naive and unaffected, "Mitzi" is certainly a surprise in the field of sports. Her athletic ability is surpassed by surprisingly few. Central will lose her most ardent sport fan when "Mitzi," the "last of the Musketeers," abandons us for Massachusetts School of Art.

Basketball, '33-'34; Baseball, '33-'34; Hockey, '32-'33; Volleyball, '33; Cageball '34; Vice-President, 11A; Home Room Representative, 11A, 12B; Alternate, 11B; Thrift Representative, 11A, 12B; Dramatic Guild, '32; "The Lost Princess," '32; Major Letter.

MILDRED GREENBERG

"Millie"

Would you like to know a girl who is gay, has a winning smile, a good humor, and a pleasing personality? Well, let me introduce—"Millie." We know "Millie" will succeed in the business world just as she has at Central.

Library Auxiliary, '31-'32-'33; Junior Dramatic Society, '31-'32; Class Day Committee, 3A; Social Committee, 4B; Banquet Hostess, 3A; Traffic Squad, 12A.

JOHN THOMAS GREENE, JR.

"Johnny"

Dear readers, next in line is "Johnny," a quiet, fun-loving young man who came to us from Henry Barnard Junior High School in 1931. "Johnny" has been very active in social affairs, and has aided athletic affairs financially. Many of his fellow classmates would like to know why Johnny wears a Hope High class pin. For the answer to that you might ask a very nice young lady with whom "Johnny" spends most of his time. "Johnny" is not a bookworm, but he manages to get good marks in his studies. We do not know his favorite subject, but his teachers say he is interested in all of them. "Johnny" intends to further his education at Rhode Island State College. Best of luck, "Johnny."

Home Room Representative, 10A; Rifle Club, '32-'33; Hi-Y, '32-'33; Vice-President, '33-'34.

GERTRUDE MARY GRIGNON

"Gertie"

And now, dear friends, may we present to you one of the most friendly girls in the Senior Class. Those who know "Gertie" realize what the old saying, "A friend in need is a friend indeed," means. After graduation, "Gertie" intends to enter the business world. Good luck, "Gertie"!

RUTH ELEANOR GRIST

Ruth is one of the most attractive blondes of our class. She is the possessor of a sweet nature which finds its radiant climax in a pleasing personality. With so many things to her advantage, she is sure to have a successful future. We wish you the best of luck, Ruth.

Traffic Squad, '33-'34; Secretary, '34.

ELSIE GROSSI

"It isn't often one can find
A friend of just this kind."

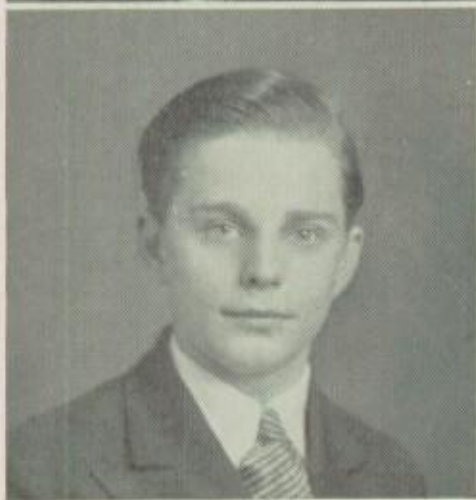

This verse suffices to introduce the jolliest and most beloved girl of Central. Elsie's combination of personality, sociability, and popularity has captured many a heart. With such virtues we are sure of Elsie's future success. Best wishes.

Thrift Council, '32; Glee Club, '31; Italian Club, '31-'32-'34; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '34.

GEORGE GROSSI

A member of the track and cross-country team who has been with us for three years, in which time he has gained a good reputation. Among other subjects, George is interested in Electricity. We wish him success in all he undertakes.

VINCENT GROSSI

"Vinnie"

Who is this quiet, unassuming young chap, who always has his studies done on time? Why, that's our "Vinnie." "Vinnie" came to us from Bridgham Junior High. He has always been a staunch financial supporter. After a P. G. course in the fall, "Vinnie" intends to enter R. I. State to study engineering.

Nautical Club, '34.

CLINTON GROSSMAN

"Kinky"

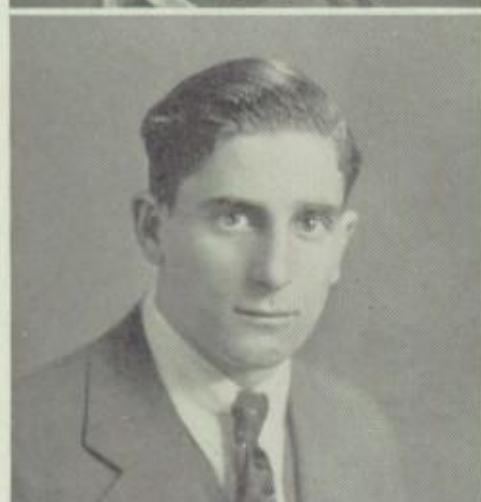

"Kinky" is a regular fellow and easy to get along with. Studies don't seem to bother him much, for he has a good mind behind his happy-go-lucky expression. He plans to further his education at the German College, "Wer Vast."

HELEN FRANCES GROUTON

Blonde, dainty, vivacious, just three little words to describe Helen. Her radiant personality has made her one of the glamour notes of '34. Her education will be furthered at Pembroke, where we know she will continue her conquests of achievements and friendships, as she has here in Central. Success, little one!

Glee Club, '30; Volleyball, '32; "Centralite" Staff, '34; French Club, '33-'34; Vice-President, '34; "Black and Gold," '34; Social Committee, '34.

FRANK JOSEPH GUARINI

"Frankie"

We now have before us "Frankie." If silence were golden this chap would be worth millions. Although he appears shy at first acquaintance, he proves an excellent sport and worker. "Frankie" intends to further his education at Springfield.

Track, '33-'34; Junior Varsity Baseball, '32-'33.

JENNIE E. GUGLIELMETTI

Now we come to the best natured girl in our class. Jennie is always on hand to solve some perplexing problem. She is also the proud possessor of an Honor Society pin, which she justly deserves as shown by her unusual ability in school work.

Thrift Council, 12B; French Club, '33-'34; Vice-President, '33; President, '34; R. I. Honor Society.

JOSEPH GUGLIELMETTI

"Gip," "Gug"

Who is that boy strolling down the corridor? Why, that is "Gip," one of the quiet members of our class. Did I say quiet? My mistake. "Gip" came to us three years ago and since then has made many friends. At present he is undecided as to his future, but we know that in whatever field he enters he will attain success. Best of luck, "ole pal."

HOWARD R. GUSTAFSON

"Gus"

This is "Gus," easily recognized by his mop of curly hair. "Gus" is noted for his skill in the terpsichorean art and his firm belief in the saying, "There is safety in numbers," as applied to girls. He is undecided as to his future course of study, but we know that he will make good.

MARGARET BRIDGET HAGOPIAN

Quiet, unassuming, gentle, genial, attractive, discerning and above all friendly, these and many other attributes might well be applied to Margaret. Words, however descriptive, fail to portray the elusive element so inseparably a part of genuine character, the best of any one, the best of Margaret.

Student Council, '31; 3A Class Play; S. A. O. Bookkeeper.

RICHARD C. HAID

"Dick" Haid, one of the best-liked and all-round good fellows in our class. Intrinsically noble, gentlemanly and warm-hearted, are just a few words which describe a young man who has been a fine representative of our school. It is hard to say good-bye, "Dick," but we know that wherever your path in life may lead success awaits you.

Leaders' Corps, '32; Cross-Country, '32; Track, '32-'33-'34; Swimming, '33.

MICHAEL HALAJIAN

"To know him was to like him." This fits "Mike" to a "T." He is an ambitious and untiring worker. Through his Herculean efforts he is destined for great success in the business world. "Mike" has little to know in the field of art. He has taken this subject for eight years and he is a master at it. He is an all-around athlete, but due to outside activities he was unable to compete in scholastic competition. Make way, R. I. S. D., here comes a genius.

Glee Club, '30-'31.

DOROTHEA E. HALPIN

"Dot"

This pleasant looking miss is none other than our "Dot." Her sunny disposition and winning smile have won her many friends during her stay at Central. In September "Dot" expects to enter the St. Joseph's Hospital to become a nurse. We all wish you loads of luck and happiness, "Dot."

DOROTHY B. HAND

"Dot"

Vitally alive from her head to her toes, "Dot" is a prominent example of "pep, vim and vigor." She is a notable student and athlete, displaying unusual ability on the girls' hockey team. Her youthful charm has a magnetic attraction, which accounts for her many friends.

Home Room Representative, 11B; Field Hockey, '32-'33-'34; Captain, '34; Volleyball, '32-'33-'34; Basketball, '32-'33-'34; Baseball, '32-'33-'34; Swimming, '32; Tennis, '32-'33-'34; Champion, '32; Traffic Squad, '34; "Black and Gold" Board, '34; French Club, '34; Senior Play; R. I. Honor Society.

CHRISTINE HANLEY

"Cris"

A sudden burst of laughter, loud whispering, then a sudden silence as the teacher approaches. A pair of sparkling blue eyes look up innocently. Now, there you have Christine, one of our gayest Seniors. "Cris's" genial disposition, together with her unusually good records, have won her a high place in the esteem of her friends and teachers.

"Black and Gold" Board, '34; S. A. O. Bookkeeper, '34; Traffic Squad, '34; French Club, '32; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '32-'33; Budget Collector, '32.

VIRGINIA MARIE HANLEY

"Gin" has what we call personality plus. She always has a ready smile for everyone and is a true pal to all who know her. "Gin" is recognized as a student of high scholastic standing. We are sure her success will follow her to R. I. C. E.

GEORGE WILSON HARDING

Hold everything, folks! You are looking at one of the best-liked fellows in Central. George's big heart and friendly attitude toward his classmates have won him numerous friends at Central. With his ambition, ability, and personality there is no doubt but that George will succeed.

Traffic Squad, '34; Glee Club, '32.

HAZEL M. HARDMAN

If you want a good friend who is always cheerful and ready for fun, find Hazel. She is the type you think quiet until you know her. Although there are no furrows on her brow from studying, she attains a good standing in scholastics. We wish you success, Hazel.

BEATRICE MARIE HARRIS

"Bee"

"Bee," with her good-natured smile, seems to get along both in and out of school. When you become acquainted with "Bee" you will quickly be assured of her wit and humor. "Bee" intends to become a beauty culturist and we all know she will succeed. Good luck, "Bee."

Junior Girls' Glee Club, '33; Senior Girls' Glee Club, '34.

WILLIAM T. HARWOOD

"Win," "Bill"

We have in our midst, ladies and gentlemen, one of those strong, silent men. Who? "Bill," of course! He claims "math" as his favorite study, but maintains good marks in all his subjects. We know that we will be proud of him some day. Here's luck to you, "Bill."

LILA HASSELL

"Lee," "Li"

Lila is the most agreeable person anyone could wish to meet. She possesses a sunny disposition, a keen sense of humor, and a winning personality. Always willing to lend a helping hand, Lila is a loyal and enthusiastic supporter of all our activities. We know she will go far in this world.

Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Volleyball, '32-'33; Student Chamber of Commerce, '33-'34; 12B Class Play.

EVELYN HEALY

A blonde, with smiling blue eyes; a loyal friend; an industrious worker; and a gay companion. This describes our Evelyn. She resembles a precious jewel, with which one dislikes to part. No matter what she intends to do, we are confident that she will be a success. Good luck, Evelyn.

11A Class Day Hostess.

EVERETT E. HEATHCOTE

"Eddie"

This young man is so chock full of personality and vim that he keeps the faculty guessing every minute. On entering Central he immediately added that something which makes this old world "go around." "Ed" has been a big help to "The Centralite," and he is one of its pioneers. Let's all drink a toast to "Ed," and wish him the best of luck.

"Centralite," '33-'34.

BENJAMAN HENRY

Just now you are gazing upon the countenance of one of the best-natured fellows of our class. Unpretentious and unassuming of disposition, "Ben" has enjoyed a wide popularity because of his winning personality. "Ben" doesn't carry many books home but his reports are always good.

Home Room Representative, '34; 11A Social Committee; Budget Collector, '34.

RICHARD WARREN HENRY

"Dick" is the popular fellow who can be seen at the social and athletic events of Central. During his stay at "Tech" and Central, he has gained many friends. His favorite subject is Mathematics. "Dick" plans to continue his good work at R. I. State College. We know you will succeed, "Dick."

LOUISE HEROUX

Introducing personality plus! No other than our classmate "Gig." Her cheery laughter and helpful ways have won the hearts of many a Centralite. We know that "Gig's" mirth of laughter will brighten her future at some great university. Au revoir, pal!

ELLEN FRANCES HOLIHEN

"To hold the hand, and sooth the fevered brow" is Ellen's inspiring goal. This delightful character shows unlimited promise of becoming an ideal nurse. Her cheerful countenance is evidence of the sunshine within. She hails for R. I. Hospital in September with Lady Luck as a chaperone.

CHARLES HENRY HOLT

Fun-loving and a "regular fellow," that's our own "Sharlie," whose dynamic spirit dominates every class he attends. An athlete as well, "Sharlie" has had the honor of holding the R. I. Interscholastic fencing championship. We feel sure success will crown all his undertakings throughout life. Good luck, pal!

Fencing, '32-'33-'34; Captain, '33-'34; R. I. Interscholastic Champion, '33; Class Basketball, '32-'33; Home Room Representative, 10A, 11A; Alternate, 11B.

DAVID STUART HOWARD

Four years ago Dave came to us from Peace Street grammar school. "Dave" is a quiet and unassuming fellow. "Dave's" favorite subjects are Mechanical Drawing and Electricity. "Dave" is undecided as to his future, but we know he will succeed in anything he undertakes.

ELEANOR HOWARD

A maid of various moods, Eleanor is dignified and serious; but after school, she is either an imp or an amiable creature. To be an actress or an author is Eleanor's question. Knowing her achievements in both arts, we predict a great future for Eleanor.

RITA D. HOWARTH

She has those flashing eyes, provoking smiles, but that alone would never do! She has that certain extra something—flashy red hair, dancing eyes and a lovable disposition. With such a sense of humor she will succeed on the sunny side of life.

Musical Comedy, '32; Fashion Show, '32; Budget Collector, '32-'34; Traffic Squad, '34; Cheer Leader, '32; Tennis, '34; Senior Play, '34.

EUGENE EMILE HONGRAND

Meet "Gene." Popular with his classmates, although serious, always has a ready smile and a "Hi there!" for his friends. A talented musician of no little ability. He intends to further his education at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Senior Band, '31-'32-'33-'34; Orchestra, '32-'33-'34.

ALBERT W. HUDSON

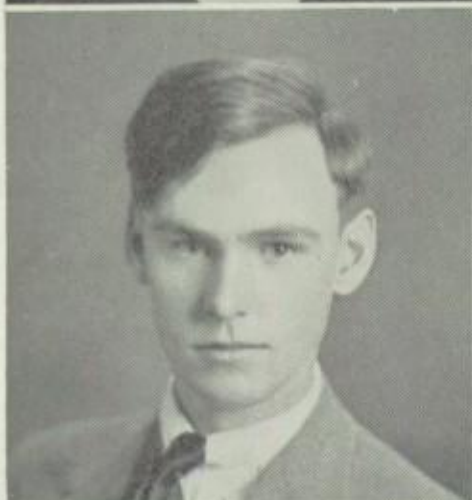

Here is "Al," our electrical wizard. "Al" hails from the wilds of Esmond. He hasn't entered into sports but helps them financially. "Al" has made many friends while in Central. He is undecided about his future, but we know he will succeed in anything he undertakes.

KATHLEEN M. HUGHES

Stop! Look! Listen! while we introduce the most popular girl in the Senior Class, our Class Secretary. This captivating miss has found a warm spot in all our hearts. Although she is full of mischief, she excels in all her studies. Best of luck, "Kay"!

Class Secretary, 3A, 4B, 4A; Traffic Squad, '34; Lieutenant, '34; Class Ring Committee, '33; Class Photographic Committee, '34; Student Chamber of Commerce, '32-'33; Social Committee, 3A, 4B, 4A.

ROBERT T. HUGHES

Likable and genuine are the two words which describe "Huggy." His sincere nature and unparalleled sense of humor have made him one of the most popular boys in the Senior Class. "Huggy" has the desire to further his artistic inclinations, so he will attend R. I. School of Design.

MARIE C. HUTCHINSON

This demure, winsome bit of honey is our petite Marie. She is one of the popular members of our fair sex. Marie is always glad to lend a helping hand at any distress signal. Loads of success to a future Florence Nightingale.

FREDERICK INGHAM

Here he is! "Freddy" is one of the best-liked members of the class. Blond, and one of the friendliest fellows that Central possesses, "Freddy's" charm has won for him a host of friends. His favorite study is English, in which he maintains a high standard. May success be yours, "Fred."

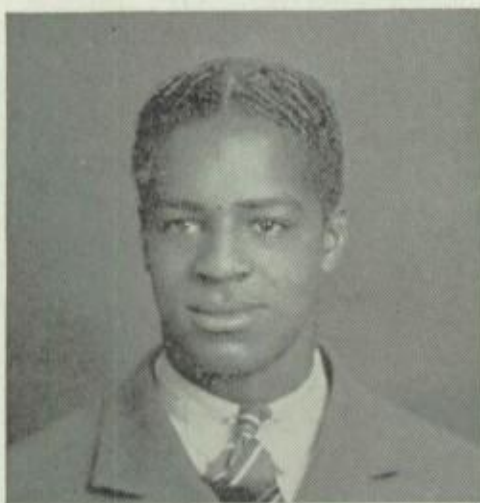

S. A. O. Bookkeeper; Mass Athletics.

EMMA EVELYN ISABELLA

This little woman is none other than the girl with that perpetual smile. Quiet, mischievous, sympathetic, and a pleasing personality, characterize our little Emma. These traits have gone far in acquiring for her many friends during her stay at Central. We wish success and happiness for her future.

3A Class Day Committee; Italian Club; Hostess.

FREDERICK JACKSON

"Fred"

This quiet and good-natured fellow is our "Fred." He is an earnest student and is well liked by all his classmates. All join in wishing you success, "Fred."

GEORGE B. JACKSON

Crash! Bang! Slam! Don't be frightened; it's only "Georgie," one of the quietest (?) members of our class. Anyone who is in his English class can testify to that. Don't misunderstand, though, for he always has a good standing in his studies. George intends to further his education at Kingston College. Good luck, George!

LESLIE JACOBS

One glance at Leslie is enough to bring forth the personality of this admirable young man. His good judgment and mental aptitude have made him an honor student at Central. His skill in accounting has made him decide to further his studies at Bryant & Stratton College. The best wishes of our class go with you, Leslie.

S. A. O. Bookkeeper.

BERTHA JAGOLINZER

Bertha has so many pleasing characteristics that we hardly know which one to emphasize. Perhaps it is her generous nature or her sense of humor which wins us. Whatever it is that makes her so lovable, we congratulate her for it and wish her the best of luck.

Library Auxiliary, '30; Tennis Practice, '30.

ANNE JANIGIAN

There is something nice about everybody, they say, and that something of Anne's is her sincerity. She is the kind of girl whom anybody would cherish as a friend. With her pleasing personality and her efficiency, we are sure that she will succeed in the business world. Good luck to you, classmate.

Budget Collector, '32; Student Finance Club, '32; Basketball, '33; 3A Class Day Hostess, '33; Traffic Squad, '34.

JAMES A. JERUE

"Sunny" is a representative of South Providence. Among his fine points he has one outstanding trait, which is his ability to make friends. He has a decided weakness for French, but a bigger one for Mathematics. Upon inquiring, we learned that he intends to enroll at Rhode Island State. Best of luck, "Sunny"!

Baseball, '31-'33; Football, '33.

HETTY ANN JERVIS

"Gentlemen prefer blondes," but we can understand why they make Hetty an exception. With her dark eyes and cheery smile she has won many friends at Central. Always ready for a good time, she somehow manages to receive good marks with apparently little effort on her part. Best of luck, Hetty.

DOROTHY JOHANSON

"Someone nice, someone neat, Someone fair, and also sweet."

That partly describes "Dot" for you. She is ever ready to help and is a favorite with both teachers and students. With her ready smile and charming manner, we know she will succeed in her future work. Best wishes, "Dot."

S. A. O. Bookkeeper; 3A Class Day Hostess; Traffic Squad; "Black and Gold" Board, '34.

WALTER RAYMOND JOHANSEN

Who is that tall, good-looking blond strolling down the corridor? Why, he's our fun-loving "Walla"! His winning smile and understanding personality have won many friends for him. He excels in art, which he hopes to make his life work. Best of luck, "Walla." We know you shall succeed!

GILBERT JOHANNES JOHNSON

Johnson is one of those rare boys that one finds in a class now and then. His intelligence has placed him in the upper part of the class. Gilbert claims Italian as his favorite subject. He intends to further his education at R. I. C. E. "Ariverderci, caro amico."

Budget Collector, 12B, 12A; Home Room Representative, 12B; Chairman, Program Committee, Italian Club, '33-'34.

HAROLD F. JOHNSON, JR.

Just another victim of the newspaper game! "The Centralite" Staff some day will recall with pride the old feature editor, Harold. After two years at Brown and the famous Pulitzer School of Journalism at Columbia, he will be some journalist. For limitless energy, good spirits and ambition, we salute you!

"Centralite" Staff, '33-'34; "Black and Gold" Board, '33-'34; Central Night Committee, '33; Debating, '33-'34; 12B Class Day Play; "Centralite" Varieties; Senior Play.

LOUINA MAY JOHNSON

Louina has a personality which stands out above the rank and file. She is extraordinarily attractive, clever, and talented. Her blonde loveliness has been the subject of many second glances and much envy; her head for business has been used to advantage in the S. A. O.; and her artistic ability has been much admired. Louina is the possessor of those characteristics which lead to success.

HAZEL LOIS JONES

Descriptive adjectives are really wanting to describe Hazel. Although Hazel is usually quiet (?), she can make fun and say volumes, especially to her inseparable pals, "Billie" and "Dot." She can often be seen "tripping the light fantastic" on some dance floor. Hazel's future is undecided. Good-luck.

HARMON P. B. JORDAN

To enumerate all of "Harmy's" talents in this, the tiny space allotted, is to attempt the impossible. Don't let his usual serious manner deceive you, for he is called by his classmates an ideal "pal." Laconic in speech and ever willing to aid, he has acquired hosts of friends during his sojourn at this institution. He excels in Mathematics, and in the fall intends to matriculate at R. I. S. C.

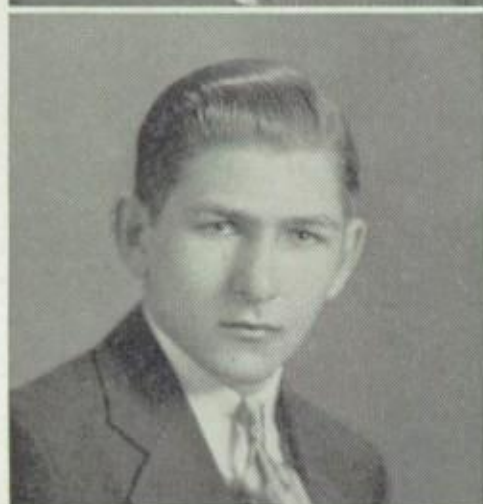

RUTH MURIEL JOSEPHSON

It pays to advertise. How would you like to have Ruth decorate your future home? Get your order in early, because if Ruth makes as good in interior decoration as she does a student she'll be kept busy. We all join in wishing you success at R. I. S. D.—and always.

MARY KATHERINE JOYCE

A flash of curly red hair, a smile, and a cheery "hello" introduces Mary. Although Mary is one of the most cheerful and fun-loving members of our class, she has not neglected her studies as can be seen by her scholastic record. Good luck in R. I. C. E., Mary.

JOHN KARNARSKI

Under the "Kid's" calm exterior is hidden a wealth of surprises. Many a boy's countenance has turned green with envy when the "Olneyville Flash" went tearing down the basketball court and "pooned in" a clean shot. Babe Ruth has a keen rival in the "Kid" because of the hero worship bestowed upon him by the younger masculine set. Here's to the future All-American forward.

Basketball, '32-'33-'34; Freshman Basketball, '31; Swimming, '31.

THOMAS W. KANELAHOS

Know Thomas? Of course you do. "Tom" is one young man who is well aware of the fact that always being in jovial good-humor lightens the dreary grind materially. We have never had to wonder why he is so popular. "Tom's" future success in life will be shown after four years in college. Good luck, "Tom."

GILBERT J. KAPANAGIAN

"Gil," "Kappy"

Here is "Gil," a tall, dark-haired, slender youth, who, though little known to his classmates, is well-liked by all with whom he comes in contact, despite his reserve. His silence, however, is the silence of sure knowledge which comes from experience rather than books. Always courteous and attentive to the views of others, he will go far toward success. After graduating, "Gil" intends to enter the R. I. College of Pharmacy. Good luck, "Gil," and plenty of it.

Social Committee, '33; Nautical Club, '34.

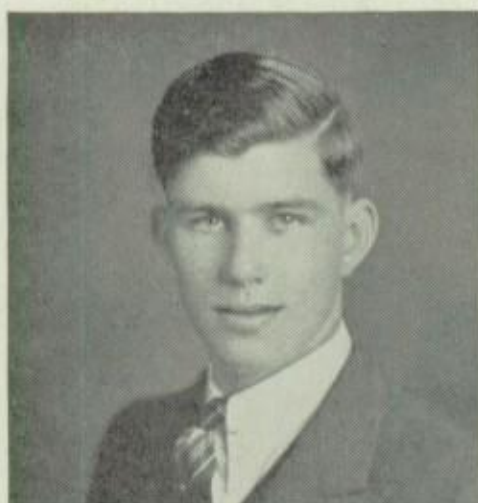

GEORGE JOSEPH KAUFMAN

"Stretch"

Here is George, one of the tallest boys in the class. His only reason for going to school is the subject of Biology (maybe it's the teacher!). Although athletically inclined, his outside activities have prevented him from being the school's star athlete. Here is luck to you in whatever you do, "Stretch."

Class Basketball, '31-'32; Electrical Club, '31-'32.

CLIFFORD W. KEEFE

The quiet (?) young man you see before you is "Cliff." He is an athlete, specializing in baseball. Although he is undecided as to the future, we know that he will succeed in whatever he undertakes.

Junior Varsity Baseball, '33.

NETTIE KEELER

"Net"

"Net" is an A-1 classmate because of her enveloping friendliness. With her soul of deep understanding is combined a heart of gold. "Net" has sent a ray of sunshine through Central with her charming personality and sunny disposition. Central will sigh as it loses one of her outstanding members when "Net" bids adieu. Good luck, "Net," and success to you!

Glee Club, '31-'32; Dramatic Society, '34; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '33.

MARY C. KELLY

A pair of sparkling brown eyes, pretty clothes, and a lovely personality partly describe the most beautiful girl in the Senior Class. Mary is also one of the best dancers in our class. May your future be as bright as your smile, Mary!

Traffic Squad, '34; Leaders' Corps, '32-'33.

JOSEPH D. KENNEDY

"Joe"

Here is "Joe," a boy who has made many friends in Central. Because of outside activities, "Joe" has not participated in athletics. "Joe" intends to continue in the newspaper game. Lots of luck, "Joe."

BARBARA LOUISE KENNEY

Refinement and personality describes our Barbara. She is one of the quietest girls in our class, and yet many of us have found that she is a dependable and helpful friend. With her charming smile and winning personality we know she will succeed in whatever she undertakes.

MARIE ANNUNCIATA KENNEY

"Re-Re"

Meet Marie! A true blue friend to everybody,—a girl who will succeed in anything she undertakes. "Re-Re" is a snappy dancer, an ardent sportswoman and an all-around favorite. Her individual personality has won her many friends. Good luck in R. I. C. E., "Re-Re."

Swimming, '31-'32; Basketball, '32-'33-'34; Volleyball, '32-'33; Field Hockey '32-'33; Baseball, '32-'33-'34; Tennis, '31-'32-'33-'34; "Centralite" Staff, '34.

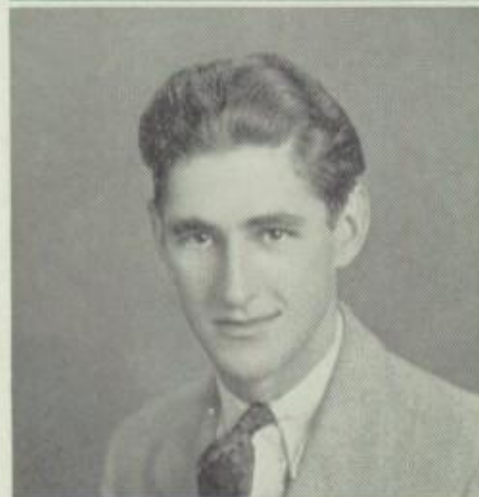

VERONICA MARY KENNY

"Ronny"

"Ronny" has three valuable possessions: her art classes, the swimming pool, and a very peculiar pair of moccasins. Deprived of these, her world would fall through. She is extremely interested in the subject of art and as a result of her achievements this charming young lady will enter R. I. S. D. in September. Success always!

Hi-Tri, '32; Art Club, '34.

WILLIAM R. KILLIAN

"Bill," "Mickey"

Here is our dark-eyed, unassuming "Bill," respected and well liked by all his classmates. "Bill" can be heard arguing baseball or Mechanical Drawing in which he excels any time. "Bill," with his pal "Mickey," will further his education in some university. Good luck, "Bill."

Baseball, '31-'34.

ALFRED KIMBALL

There aren't many in the school who don't know "Al." A gracious smile is ever his. He is full of wit and fun and is also a good student. We are sure that with a combination of ambition, intelligence and personality, "Al" is bound to attain success.

ELEANOR M. KINSLEY

Intelligence plus personality! Eleanor's friendship is a thing to be treasured. Her fine traits of character have won her a unique distinction among her classmates. Her cheerful disposition and good nature will prove her successful in any undertaking.

ARTHUR B. KNOTT

"Art"

As "Art" leaves Central, so does one of the most popular students in the class. Many a broken-hearted lass will drop a tear at his departure. "Art" intends to brave the dangerous adventures of the sea. Go to it, "Art," and good luck.

GRACE ELIZABETH KOCH

"Gracie"

Petite! Attractive! Cheerful! Ambitious! Studious! These are only a few of the adjectives that describe our "Gracie." She's certainly got a lot of that certain something that it takes to get along. With such qualities we know she will succeed in everything she undertakes.

ISABEL KORTICH

"Izzie"

This young lady has a personality all her own. She is not content with commonplace things, but likes things out of the ordinary. Dramatics is her favorite subject, and no matter what her work may be after graduation, we know she will succeed.

ALBERT KRAEMER

"Al"

"Al" has spent four happy years of school life with us. He is studious, energetic, happy-go-lucky, and a good pal. He has supported the school activities by attending dances. "Al" intends to matriculate at Temple University.

LENA KURDA

A charming young lady can ne'er be found
If we were to look whole Central 'round.
Cheerful, smiling and never blue,
She has charms a-plenty and personality, too.
Competent, efficient and ever neat,
A girl like Lena is always a treat.

Chairman Committee, '32; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Thrift Representative, '31; Senior Dramatic Society, '34; Swimming, '31-'32.

VOLERY KRZYSZTOFKA

Who is this sparkling, brown-eyed miss who has captured the hearts of many during her four years' stay with us? It is none other than our Volery. She is undecided about the future, but we wish her success.

ALFRED LABUTTI

When this square-shouldered lad went to Tech, he was very bashful among the girls, but now he is very popular among them. He is an active participant in school clubs and social activities. R. I. State will claim him next.

Tech Aero Club, '31-'32; Outdoor Track, '32-'33-'34; Indoor Track, '31-'32; President, Central Nautical Club, '34; Circolo Petrarca Dancing Committee, '33-'34; Punching Bag Club, '33.

RAY LACOMBE

No introductions are necessary where our Class President is concerned. "Flash" is always friendly and willing to co-operate. His achievements in the football and swimming world have carried him far as an outstanding athlete of Central. Ray will further his education at Brown.

LILLIAN I. LA CROIX

Sweet, clever, and good-natured—these characteristics only partially describe one of the best-liked girls of our class. With her laughing blue eyes and jovial disposition. "Lil" has won many friends. Her frankness and sincerity will carry her on to success.

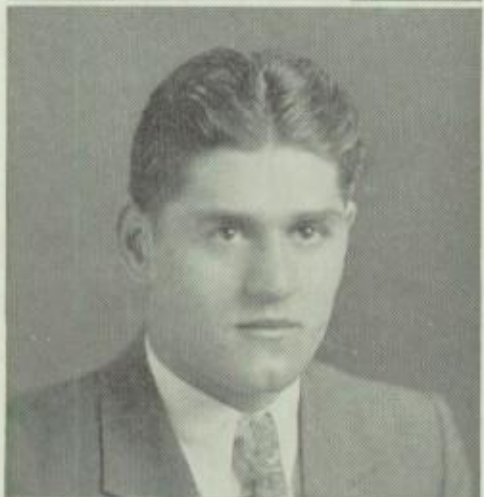

JOHN ANTHONY LALLY

"Johnny" is a popular student of his class. His cheerful disposition and sunny countenance have won him the respect and esteem of his classmates. "Johnny" has succeeded in his effort to keep up a high scholastic standing. He has succeeded in everything he has tried. Good luck, "Johnny."

HELEN LA MARRA

Snappy brown eyes, curly hair, a vivacious personality, and you have Helen. Her genuine sweetness and sincere manner have won her a host of friends. Bon voyage on your ship of success, Helen.

JOSEPH LANCELLOTTI

"Joe" has won quite an athletic record for himself at Central. He stars in football, basketball, and baseball. "Joe" intends to continue a course in Physical Training at R. I. State.

Baseball, '32; Captain, '33-'34; Basketball, '31-'33; Football, '31-'32-'33.

JOSEPH A. LANCELLOTTI

"Joe's" cheerful personality and good-fellowship have won him a host of friends during his stay at Central. He has not taken an active part in school sports, because of outside activities, but has earnestly supported them. "Joe" intends to further his education at R. I. State. We bid farewell to one of Central's staunchest pupils.

Tennis, '32-'34

SAMUEL LANDES

Introducing "Sam," a quiet lad. During his stay at Central he has won for himself a host of friends, perhaps by his keen sense of wit. With his personality and happy-go-lucky nature he is sure to succeed.

TERESA LANDI

A giggle, a burst of laughter, and whom do we hear but our Teresa. Her winning smile and pleasing personality have won for her a host of friends. Where there is joy there is Teresa. Best of luck in the future.

MICHAEL LAPISKY

"Mike" is a quiet lad who claims Mechanical Drawing, in which he excels, his favorite subject. Although outside interests kept him from participating in sports, he helped financially. Good luck, "Mike."

DOROTHY LAPRAD

This petite girl with the brown eyes is none other than "Dot." Her cheery smile has won her many friends throughout Central. She is efficient in all her subjects, especially typing, and is sure to succeed in the business world. Good luck, "Dot."

Swimming, '32; Baseball, '32.

LILLIAN DELMA LARIVIERE

Hail to the great talented artist of our class. This dark-eyed miss has gained a host of friends throughout Central. "Lil" is a radio star. We know her name will be listed among the famous some day.

Tennis, '32; Art Club, '33; Cercle Jeanne d'Arc, '32.

VINCENT LARocca

"Vinnie" is one of Central's quiet lads. He may be seen going and coming from classes in his serene way, but don't let that fool you. He explains that he believes in the old proverb, "Silence is golden." Good luck, pal.

ELMER LATHAM

Elmer is a good sport and is quick to respond to the calls of those in need of assistance. He is undecided about his future undertakings, but we feel sure that he will be successful in whatever he may do.

Cheer Leader, '33-'34.

BERTHA ELIZABETH LAWTON

"Betty," "Bert"

Sparkling brown eyes, a cheerful smile, and a magnetic personality, are what draws one's attention to our "Betty." Her natural charm has won "Betty" a host of friends during her stay at Central. "Betty" hasn't much time for the local swains because we understand there is an outside attraction. May success be yours, "Betty." Au revoir.

Budget Collector, '33.

TERESA I. LAYDEN

"Terry," "Tess"

Teresa is a little, curly-headed bundle of vivacity, with laughing eyes, and a charming personality. Her sunny disposition and those dancing feet are two reasons for Teresa's popularity. She is a young lady for whom we may anticipate an interesting future.

Swimming, '32; Basketball, '32; Library Auxiliary, '33-'34; Hi-Tri, '34; Debating Society, '34.

FLORENCE LAYFIELD

"Chick"

Surely Florence, our editor-in-chief, needs no introduction, for "Chick" is the pride of our Senior Class and the possessor of pretty titian hair. As a friend, you could find none better, and with her pleasing personality and efficiency we are sure she will reach the heights of her ambitions.

Swimming, '32; Baseball, '32; Thrift Representative, '33-'34; Life Saving, '33; "Black and Gold" Editor-in-Chief, '34.

EVELYN LAZARUS

"Ev"

One of Central's most popular and interesting people is Evelyn. She is widely known in music and sport circles of Central. The rare qualities of being a true friend and a staunch supporter are some of her many characteristics. May the girl with the golden brown hair climb to the height of her ambitions in the future years to come.

Basketball, '31-'32-'33-'34; Volleyball, '31-'32-'33-'34; Tennis, '31-'32-'33-'34; Baseball, '32-'33; Cageball, '34; 3A Hostess; 3A Flower Committee; Frolic; Vocational Orchestra; Senior Orchestra; All Providence High School Orchestra; The Eastern Conference; All New England Conference; Ree's Ensemble; S. A. O. Bookkeeper.

GOLDIE LECHT

Take golden brown, wavy hair, laughing eyes, a carefree manner; add personality, versatility, and brains—what have we but "Goldie"? What is a dance without her? "Goldie" intends to further her education at a business college, and we hope she will find success in all her undertakings.

"Centralite," '34.

ANNIE T. LEE

Introducing Annie, one of Central's most studious girls. Her three years' stay at Central has helped her win the heart of many a Centralite. Annie excels in all her studies. Central is about to lose a dear friend, but its loss will be Pembroke's gain.

JAMES LEE

"Jimmie"

In the few years of our acquaintance with "Jimmie" we have come to know him as the quiet type of fellow who can always be depended upon. He is versatility personified, and is rarely seen without his inseparable pal "Carminé." A football game would not be complete without these two fans. "Jimmie's" fine mind, splendid character, and natural ambition all serve as indications of his future success.

GEORGE S. LEMA

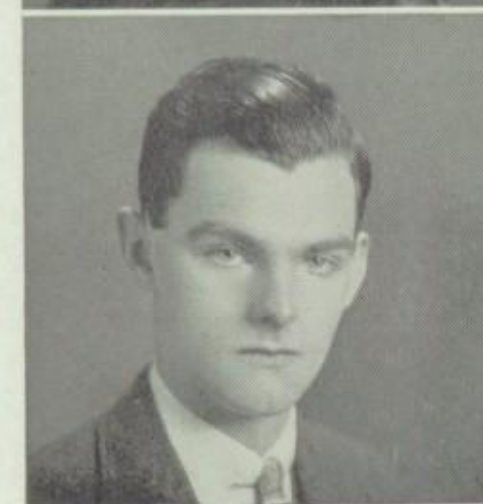

George's friendliness and willingness to help others explains his accumulation of so many friends during his stay at Central. Of all subjects, he prefers and excels in French. Au revoir, mon ami.

IRENE ANNETTE LESSARD

The "Sunshine" of our class. Sweet, reserved, clever and loving. This is only a thumbnail sketch of this popular brunette, who has distinguished herself as Central's champion typist, and has attained an enviable scholastic record. May you skip along life's roadway, old pal, as well as you have tickled the typewriter keys at Central.

Debating Society, '32; Le Cercle Roland, '32; Cercle Jeanne d'Arc, '33; Basketball, '32; Study Room Chairman, '32-'33; Budget Collector, '33-'34; Thrift Council, '33-'34; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '33-'34; Student Finance, '33-'34; Foreign Correspondence, '34; Traffic Squad, '34.

ALBERT B. LEWIS, JR.

"Al," "Louie"

"Al" is the type of person one is proud to call a friend. He is the personification of the proverbial good fellow, as testified by members of either sex. "Al" expects to further his education at Massachusetts State College. Good luck, "Al."

RICHARD SALISBURY LEWIS

"Dick"

This popular boy, with his genuine personality and pleasing smile, is a real asset to our class. His reputation as a fine scholar, a true friend, and a real sport will never be forgotten. We are sure that he will succeed in whatever he undertakes. Au revoir, notre ami, "Dick."

VIRGINIA LEY

"Gin," "Ginny"

Chuck full of fun, overflowing with laughter, and sparkling of eye,—these are some of "Ginny's" characteristics. She is always seen with her pal, "Dede." Her attractive personality has been of invaluable aid to her in winning and holding a large number of friends. Next fall, Gibbs Secretarial School will learn the secret of her popularity at Central.

Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Home Room Representative, 10B; Budget Collector, 12B.

DANIEL R. LIBUTTI

"Dan"

"Dan" is a quiet, serious-minded fellow, always willing to help his neighbor. Because of his willingness to help others he has won many friends at Central. "Dan" intends to further his education at Rhode Island State College. We are sure he will be successful. Good luck, pal.

FRANCES LISI

"Fran"

"Fran" is known for her pleasing disposition and winning smile. One never feels bored in her presence, as "Fran" possesses what we Americans so admire—a keen appreciation of humor. Her work in the S. A. O. was widely appreciated by all her classmates. However, going forth into the world with potentialities such as she possesses, our classmate, we know, will always make her mark.

S. A. O. Bookkeeper, '34; Thrift Council, '31-'32; Budget Collector, '33; Home Room Representative, '33; Class Day Committee, '33; Hostess, '33.

ROSE LISKER

Rose is cute, vivacious, and good-natured, with enviable curly hair and a brilliant personality. In the future we shall find Rose continuing her education at Pembroke, who will gain a good student as well as a lively one.

Basketball, '31-'32-'33; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Tennis, '32-'33; Volleyball, '33; Baseball, '33.

SANFORD I. LITCHMAN

And now we have Sanford, debonair and affable. His winning smile and gallant manner have characterized his Central career. At Providence College he will, no doubt, add to his honors—scholastic and otherwise.

Debating Society, '31-'32; Philatelic Society, '32; Quota Collector, '31.

WILLIAM LITTLETON

"Bill"

"Hi-ya Bill!" seems to be the password whenever our friend is around. He came to us from old Tech two years ago, and during his stay at Central has made a host of friends. You can always find "Bill" with his inseparable chums, "Sam" and "Baron." He may seem quiet, but he really is a happy-go-lucky chap and full of pep. R. I. State is his goal, and we know he will succeed. Au revoir and good luck, pal.

Nautical Club, '34.

CECELIA VERONICA LONERGAN

"Ceil"

We now introduce to you one of our most popular Centralites. "Ceil's" witty remarks, plus her charming smile and titian hair, have gained her many friends. She has been a familiar figure cruising in the corridors of Central, lending a helping hand to her friends who now bid her "Adios."

Student Council, '30; Budget Collector, '31-'32; Thrift Council, '32; Student Finance, '34; Traffic, '34.

GERTRUDE ELIZABETH LOVETT

"Gert"

Well, well, look what the wind blew in. "Gert" is a fun-loving and mischievous little girl when you truly know her. A winning smile and willingness to help her many friends have won for her a high spot in Central. She is an accomplished musician and appreciates the best of music. Success no doubt is waiting for her in the coming future.

Orchestra, '32-'33-'34; All New England Orchestra, '32; Eastern Conference Orchestra, '33.

HARRIS LEO LURY

"Harry," "Dimples"

Introducing a genuine specimen, true sport, and loyal friend, "Harry." His so-called serious countenance is merely a camouflage for honest-to-goodness good nature. "Harry" has enlivened many a classroom with his witty remarks and timely gestures. His originality has won for him many friends and admirers. Lots of luck, Harry.

RUSSELL LYONS

"Russ"

This quiet, studious (?) looking person is none other than our "Russ." His good nature and pleasing jollity have gained many dear friends for him. "Russ" is a member of Central's swimming team, but he still finds time for study. Good luck, "Russ," we know that you will succeed in whatever you undertake.

Tech Radio Club, '30-'31; Cross-Country, '32; Swimming Team, '34.

JOHN J. MCCARROLL, JR.

"Jack," "Mac"

Who is this tall fellow coming down the corridor? Why, it is none other than our "Jack"! "Jack" has made many friends while in Central. He has helped Central in sports and in school activities. In the fall he will enter Bryant & Stratton's to further his education. We wish him the best of luck in whatever he undertakes.

Home Room Representative, 10A; Football, '34; Hockey, '34.

ROSE IRENE MCCAULEY

Rose's sincere and pleasing manner has won her many friends. Her winning smile and ability to understand and sympathize will long be remembered by her classmates. Rose intends to enter the business world. We know she will succeed in whatever she undertakes, because she has the ability to win. Good luck!

WILLIAM H. MCCULLOUGH

Meet this blushing youth of Central who is none other than our bashful "Bill." "Bill" is a good-natured fellow, who, with his ready smile, has made many friends during his four years in Central. According to "Bill," he has no favorite subject, as he is good in all of them. With his unique personality, "Bill" will surely succeed in any future occupation.

EILEEN MCDONOUGH

Here is Eileen, a girl endowed with all the qualities of a true pal. A winning smile and lovely personality have obtained for her many friends at Central. We hope your future will be as bright as your smile, Eileen.

Traffic Squad, '34; Budget Collector, '32.

VINCENT R. McELROY

During the four short (?) years that "Mac" has spent in Central he has won for himself many friends (both sexes). He has loyally supported school activities to the best of his ability. We all sincerely wish you the best of luck in whatever you undertake.

MARY McENERY

Through her charming smile, she has won a place in the hearts of all her classmates. She has always been efficient in all her subjects, and has always been ready to lend a helping hand. We know she'll be successful in whatever she undertakes. Good luck, pal!

WILLIAM McENERY

"Bill"

Folks, here we have our "Bill," a quiet, well-mannered sort of chap who has always an eye for a good time. "Bill" claims History as his favorite subject, and who knows but in the future we may be hearing of "Bill," the Great Historian? Good luck, "Bill," we wish you the best of luck.

RUTH McENNENY

"Babe" is one of those witty girls who has made Central the joyous place it is. She is endowed with the rare faculty of being able to tell the most amusing story with no sign of glee in her eyes. Best of luck, pal, for you'll go far with that sunny disposition.

MADELEINE ROSE MCGAURAN

One of our sweetest! Large grey eyes, a charming smile, and there we have Madeleine. Not forgetting, of course, the personality which makes her so lovable. Madeleine has attained excellent scholastic standing here at Central, and hopes to continue it at R. I. C. E. next fall. Best wishes, Madeleine!

FLORENCE M. MCGOVERN

"Floss," "Flossie"

7:59 A. M. Here comes "Floss" hustling down the corridor with a "Hi, has the bell rung yet?" "Floss" is everybody's pal. Her arms never ache from carrying books home, but she manages to pass her subjects. She can usually be found strutting along the corridor with her pal "Quinnie." God luck to you, "Floss"! We know that success will be yours.

Leaders' Corps, '32; Traffic Squad, '34.

MARION ELLEN MCGOVERN

"Mary"

Tall, slender, blue-eyed, describes "Mary." She is a good sport, a true friend, and all we could look for in a classmate. "Mary" is undecided about her future, but with those assets we are sure she will succeed. Good luck, Marion!

Glee Club, '32; Traffic Squad, '34.

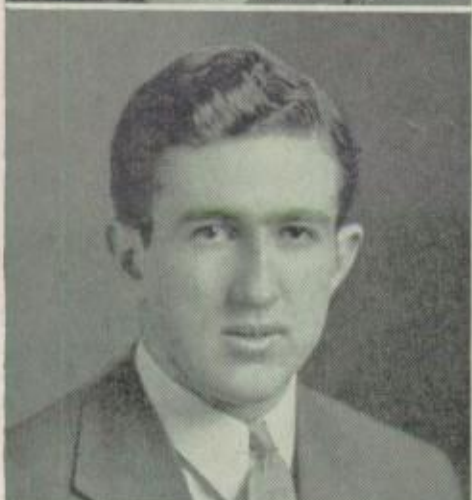

DORIS MCGOWAN

"Dot"

Brown eyes, brown hair, a winning smile, and a pleasing personality describe our "Dot." No wonder she is one of the most popular girls in Central. "Dot's" cleverness, together with her sociability, will certainly bring her many friends in her business career. Good luck, "Dot"!

French Club, '32; 3A Class Day, '33; Traffic Squad, '34.

ALLEN MCGUNIGLE

"Al," "Mac"

This young man has a friendly smile and an erect, athletic figure. He has found time between his studies and outside interests to support "in person" the track, cross-country and wrestling teams. "An alert mind in a healthy body" is a good motto, and "Al" has demonstrated it well. His pleasing personality, combined with his athletic ability, has won for him a host of friends. Boston will be the next city in which he will pursue education, for he plans to study business administration there. May he always look back with pleasure upon his days at Central.

Outdoor Track, '32-'33-'34; Cross-Country, '31-'33; Wrestling, '34; Hi-Y, '31-'32-'33-'34; President, '33-'34.

MARGARET STEWART MCINTOSH

"Peggy"

Behold our "Peggy"! No introduction is needed for this charming, brown-eyed lassie, for everyone knows her. She has gone about in her quiet manner and won for herself a host of friends. To all of us she has been a true friend.

Orchestra; Swimming.

BERNARD EDWARD MCKENNA, JR.

"Mac," "Bernie"

Tall, blond, and handsome describes "Mac." For four years he has steadily gained the esteem and friendship of the greater part of his classmates. His attendance at all games and social functions is a foregone conclusion. In the fall "Mac" intends to enter Providence College. Good luck, "Mac"!

Cercle Jeanne d'Arc, '34; Philatelic Society, '33-'34; Social Committee, '34; Home Room Representative, '34; "Black and Gold," '33-'34; Rifle Club, '32; Golf Club, '33; Nautical Club, '34.

EVELYN MCKENNA

Evelyn's sunny disposition, along with her willingness to help others, has gained for her innumerable friends. As a friend, she is unsurpassed. Evelyn intends to further her education at R. I. C. E. We all wish her the best of luck.

Basketball, '31-'32-'33; Volleyball, '32-'33; Hi-Tri, '31-'32.

WILLIAM MCKENNA, JR.

"Mac"

"Mac" is one of the really great personages of our class. His winning ways have made him many friends during his stay here. "Mac" intends to go on with his studies at Rhode Island State College, where we know he will gain much knowledge and many new friends. We, his classmates, wish him the best of luck.

Home Room Representative, 10A, 11A, 12B; Class Treasurer, 11A; Budget Collector, 12B, 12A; Football, '32.

MARGARET MCKIERNAN

"Peg"

Introducing "Peg," one of the smallest and sweetest members of our class. To know her is to love her. "Peg" can be seen any morning busily discussing the events of the night before with her pal, "Gin." Good luck, "Peg."

MARION H. McLEAN

"Mickey"—vivacious yet queenly, efficient yet utterly feminine, one of the most popular girls in the class. Being Vice-President is a habit with her. "Mickey" seems to have all the requisites for success!

Volleyball, '33; Vice-President, 11A, 12B, 12A; Student Council, '33; Social Committee, 11A, 12B, 12A; Traffic Squad, '34; Lieutenant, '34; Ring Committee, '33.

JOHN McNAMARA

"Jack," "Mac"

Here, folks, is none other than our friend, "Mac." He really needs no introduction, as he is a well-liked member of our class. A pleasing personality, a snappy dancer, and a keen sense of humor are the splendid assets "Mac" possesses. After graduation, "Mac" intends to study music in Vienna. Good luck!

Glee Club, '31-'32-'33-'34; Librarian, '32-'33; Secretary pro-tem, '33; Treasurer, 3A, 4B; New England Chorus, '32; All Eastern Chorus, '33; 4B Ring Committee; Social Committee; Student Council; Chamber of Commerce; Traffic Lieutenant.

RITA M. McNAMARA

"Reet"

"The life of our class" is a very fitting description of our Rita. Her sincere laugh and radiant countenance have made many dull classrooms ring with merriment. Rita's personality is recognized by teachers and students. With her attractive looks, popularity, personality and cleverness, we are certain she will be successful.

Budget Collector, '32; Tennis, '32; Basketball, '32; French Club, '32; Dramatic Club, '32-'33; Traffic Squad, '34.

RITA MARIE McNULTY

"Rite," "Mac," "Reporter"

Heigh-ho everybody! Make way for our school reporter! One glance at Rita's smiling countenance assures us of her wonderful disposition. She possesses a sterling personality, and both students and faculty have a place reserved for her in their hearts. Her success in the business world is assured, and fame will soon be hers. Best wishes, Rita.

School Reporter, '33-'34; Traffic Squad, '34; Library Auxiliary, '31-'32; Senior Play Candy Committee, '34.

JULIA MACCHIA

"Julie"

Folks, meet the gal who is just crazy over hockey! All fooling aside, she is one of Central's best sports. May success and good cheer be with you in years to come.

Hi-Tri, '33; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '33; Thrift Council, '34.

RENA MACCONI

A neat, attractive, and ambitious miss is our Rena. Her sunny smile and happy disposition made her a popular member of the class. She is always ready to listen to our troubles and to help us out of our difficulties. Won't you give us your recipe, Rena, so that we may have a chance?

Thrift Council, '33-'34.

ANTONETTA MACEDONIO

"Ann"

Who is that refined, dark-haired girl that you see strolling through the first floor corridor with her two pals? Why, it is none other than our "Ann," who is always ready with a smile and helping hand. With these qualities in "Ann's" favor, we know she will be a success in the business world. Good luck, pal!

Italian Club, '33-'34; Library Auxiliary, '32-'33.

ROBERT DOUGLAS MACKLIN

"Bob"

A more friendly or loyal classmate than "Bob" is not to be found. Although "Bob" ranks high in all his studies, he possesses a keen sense of humor. We are sure that his sterling character will carry him to great heights. Good luck, "Bob," for you deserve the best.

Stamp Club, '31; "Black and Gold" Board, '34; Nautical Club, '34.

CHESTER MACKO

"Mac"

Calm? Reserved? Cheerful? Yes. This is true of "Mac." His quiet manner has won him many fast friends. "Macko" is undecided as to his future, but we hope he will succeed in whatever he undertakes. Good luck.

BEATRICE LOUISA MADDREN

"Bea"

What can one write about "Bea" that is unknown? Her dependable nature? It's famous. The understanding and delicate wit which are hers? They are renowned. A few moments with "Bea" leaves one with a sense of composure and well being. Therein lies her charm. Best wishes for a bright future.

Girls' Glee Club, '31-'32; New England Festival Chorus, '32.

HENRY J. MAGEE

It is now your privilege to meet "Mac" of the dynamic personality and cheerful grin. His good nature and readiness to enter into any worthy enterprise have made him popular with the students and well-liked by the faculty. "Mac" intends to become an architectural draftsman and will pursue his vocation at the School of Design. We all hope he will realize his ambition.

MARIE GABRIELLE MAGNAN

A New England conscience that easily distinguishes right from wrong, a rare urge to study, staunch loyalty to her friends, and a desire to be of service to them. That's Marie.

Budget Collector, '32; French Club, '31-'32-'33-'34; 3A Class Day; Spanish Club, '32.

RUTH MAHON

Ruth is the sedate young lady whose charm and vivacity no other can surpass. True individuality is the keynote to Ruth's personality. Through her fine traits of character, she has acquired a unique distinction among her classmates. Besides being a brilliant scholar, Ruth is an excellent dancer, and an eminent artist.

Business Spirit Board, '31-'32-'33; "Black and Gold," '34; Art Club, '32-'33; Personal Collector, '33; Chairman of Study Room, '32; 3A Hostess, '33; Library Auxiliary, '31-'32.

CATHERINE E. MAJOR

"Kitty"

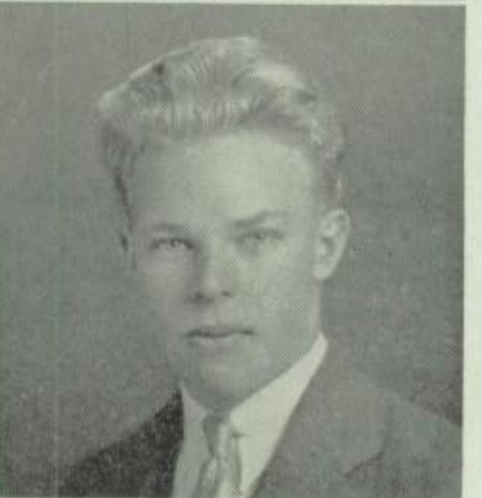

Yes, we know you know her; "Kitty" needs no introduction, for her pleasing personality and dancing ability have made her one of Central's most popular girls. Incidentally, those little hats which all the girls are trying to copy were designed for her particularly, but Physical Education, not Millinery, is calling "Kitty," so we'll see her at Sargent next fall.

DOROTHY MALATT

"Dot"

She is small, with wavy, black hair, brown eyes and a nice smile. Although "Dot" is quiet and unassuming, she can be real fun when the occasion demands. When "Dot" is through school she expects to acquire a position in some business office. Her classmates wish her success in all future enterprises.

JAMES D. MALMBERG

"Jim," "Swede," "Jimmy"

"Jim" is our class swimming champ. He has broken many swimming records during his career at Central. This husky blond has made many friends of both sexes. "Jimmy" expects to further his education at Springfield College, and become a physical instructor. Cheerio, "Jim," and good luck.

Swimming Team, '32-'33-'34; Football Team, '32-'33; Track Team, '34; Hi-Y Club, '34; Home Room Representative, '32; Budget Collector, '34.

ANTHONY MANCINI

"Man"

Don't let "Man's" serious expression deceive you, for inwardly he is one of the most good-natured members of the class. Although he is interested in athletics and has done well on the swimming team, he has not neglected his studies. His quiet and understanding manner has won him many friends throughout the school. "Man" is undecided as to his future, although his friends feel certain of his success.

Swimming, '32-'33-'34.

JOHN MANCUSO

"Johnnie"

We know that "Johnnie," the ever popular, came to us from the Bridgham Junior High School, but we don't know where he is bound for. As a scholar he is good and as a chum he is amiable. His smiling personality helps to enlighten many a dull class. The Class of '34 wishes you luck, "Johnnie."

ETHEL MANDELL

Nifty, what! When you talk of real classy people, Ethel appears on the scene. With her pleasing personality and ever-ready smile she has made a host of friends of both sexes. Ethel's favorite pastime is dancing, and can she step! She is always seen with her better half, "Ruthie." After graduation Ethel intends to brighten some young man's office. The best wishes of the class go with you.

Basketball, '31-'32; Hi-Tri, '32.

RUTH MANTELL

Ruth is one of the sweetest girls in our class. Her sincerity and willingness to help all has helped to acquire for her many true friends, and with her charming personality, we're sure she'll succeed in both the social and business world.

ABRAHAM MARKS

"Al"

This attractive young gentleman is none other than the well known "Al" Marks. His carefree smile and exuberant personality has attracted many friends to him at Central. After he has left our beloved school, his good humor and jovialness will be immensely missed. "Al" has not planned his future very definitely. Whatever the enterprise, we are all sure that this determined gentleman will succeed. Good luck, Pal.

Nautical Club, '34.

LEONA MARCINIAK

"Lilly Lee"

Who is the girl that possesses the most beautiful dimples in all Central? "Lilly" of course. With her ravishing smile and charming personality she has won many acquaintances. She excels in all her subjects. Her favorite pastime is dancing. 'Till we meet again.

Swimming, '32-'33.

ADOLPH R. MAROCCO

"Rudy"

There he is folks, our pal. "Rudy," a well liked and popular member of our class. At student dances and socials, he is generally in the midst of the fun. Whenever a pun is passed in class, you can be sure that "Rudy" is the responsible one. He may be found any hour of the day with his pal "Iggy." He intends to further his studies at R. I. State. Arivedera carissimo amico.

Budget Collector, '31; Leaders' Corps, '31; Biology Club, '31-'32; Dramatic Society, '31; Italian Club, '32; Home Room Alternate, '32.

ALFRED MARSELLO

"Chief"

Introducing "Chief" Marsella, a boy who has made many friends in Tech and in Central. "Chief" came from Bridgham Junior High to Technical and thence to Central, gaining knowledge and friends all the time. "Al's" future is undecided but we know he will succeed in anything he undertakes. Good luck, "kid"!

ARTHUR A. MARTIN

"Art"

A sharp wit, a pleasing smile, wavy hair, and a keen sense of humor give a perfect description of Arthur. His fine personality has helped him make a great number of friends while at Central. "Art" is a fine artist and in the future you may be seeing his cartoons.

VIRGINIA HELEN MARTINI

"Ginny"

One of the most friendly and even-tempered students in our school is "Ginny." Her determination for success has enabled her to be outstanding in all her studies. R. I. C. E. is her next abode. Her ambition is to be a kindergarten teacher. Good luck with the kiddies, "Ginny."

Italian Club, '33-'34; Hi-Tri, '34.

POMPEI MARTINUZZI

A prominent civic leader said in recommendation of Pompei, "I know of no finer character for a friend." Surely comment is unnecessary. She is a talented art student and intends to further her education at some art school. Good-bye and good luck, Pompei.

VERA MARTONE

Of course you all know our Vera. Demure, kind, and true is this little Miss. She is really one of the sweetest and most charming girls in our class. She is always ready for fun, but doesn't allow it to interfere with her studies. As yet Vera has not announced her intentions for the future, but we hope her future will be as bright as her high school life.

JOSEPH A. MASSE

"Joe"

"Joe" is a gentleman and a popular student in the Senior Class. He has a cheerful disposition combined with a sunny countenance. We all wish you the most of success and happiness, "Joe."

JOSEPH MOSSENZIO

A true sport, a loyal friend, and a gentleman, describe "Joe." He has helped all sports and school activities enthusiastically. Whenever "Joe" is around there is an air of hospitality. "Joe" is undecided as to the future, but we know he will succeed in anything he undertakes. The class of '34 wishes you luck, Pal.

MARY MATHEWSON

Introducing Mary—the girl with the smile. Mary came to us from the Thomas A. Dolan School four years ago to brighten the classes of Central. Our best wishes for the future are with you, Mary.

EGIDIO MAURO

Serious and conscientious students of Egidio's type are seldom found in any school; but because he is one of these rare people Egidio has been the pride of our school and his friends. His perseverance and timely humor have overcome obstacles that have beset him. Undoubtedly, such qualities will insure a successful future.

NICHOLAS S. MAURO

Quiet, serious and extremely reserved, with a wealth of quiet humor beneath his calm exterior. Self-control and poise are among his chief assets, quiet confidence is in his bearing, and courtesy is his watchword. Our best wishes for your success go with you.

All New England Chorus, '32; Eastern Chorus, '33; Musical Comedy, '33; Operetta; Indoor Track, '32; Football, '31; Frolic, '32; Glee Club, '31-'32-'33-'34.

ETHEL FRANCES MELLOR

Tall, slender, a pair of sparkling blue eyes, and a pleasing disposition partly describe our Ethel. Her ready smile outstanding personality, and willingness to help have made her a popular member of our class. We wish you the best of luck and a successful future, Ethel.

Traffic Squad, '34; Student Council, '32; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Study Supervisor, '32; Study Chairman, '32.

LUCILLE ELEANOR MENDILLO

"Cutie"

"Lou" possesses a vivacious smile, glowing personality, and enticing brown eyes. Her favorite pastime is dancing. "Lou" is also a student of modernistic Art. We all know that Lucille will be successful in whatever she undertakes. Au revoir, "Cutie."

3A Social Committee.

BEATRICE MERCURIO

"Bea," "Beady"

Enter joy, exit gloom! Here comes "Bea" with her gay laughter, sunny disposition, and bright smile. She is always sparkling and bubbling over with pep and energy, which is probably due to never being overburdened with books. Even so, we know "Bea" will go far in this world. Best wishes, "Bea."

Student Chamber of Commerce, '33-'34; Art Club, '34; Tennis, '31-'32-'33.

ROSE MERLUZZO

Who is that quiet, sweet looking girl studying so diligently? Why, it's Rose. She is the possessor of a pair of snappy brown eyes and a pleasing personality. With her studious disposition we know she will succeed in the business world. Here's luck and best wishes, Rose. Au revoir.

EMMA MICHAUD

Everyone knows our Emma for her pleasant disposition and winsome personality. Her wonderful musical talent has gained many friends for her at Central. We are sure our Emma will be successful in the musical world where she intends to venture after graduation, and we wish her the best of luck.

JOHN JAMES MICHELI

"Johnny"

"Good things come in small packages," and if this is true, it certainly applies to "Johnny." He has been one of Central's athletic heroes in track. "Johnny" is clever, full of joy, pleasant, and sincere. His plans for the future are undecided, but we are sure that he will succeed in life. Best of luck, Pal.

Indoor Track, '31-'32-'33; Outdoor Track, '31-'32-'33.

MARGARET ELIZABETH MICHIE

"Peggy," "Peg"

Let me introduce to you "Peggy," the one girl who never takes things too seriously. Next to music, "Peggy" likes the art of dancing. You can see her gracefully gliding at our student dances with her pal, "Dotty." Best of luck, "Peggy."

Glee Club, '32-'33-'34; Traffic Squad, '34; Swimming Team, '32; Tennis Club, '33; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '33-'34; Eastern High School Conference, '33; Foreign Correspondence, '33-'34.

MARGARET RITA MINOR

"Peggy"

To have missed the friendship of "Peggy" is to have been deprived of one of the rarest gifts that Central possesses. Her gayety, pleasing personality, and willingness to lend a helping hand have won her the esteem of all her classmates. May success be yours in the future, "Peggy."

THOMAS MITCHEL

"Tommy," "Mitch"

"Tommy" is a sort of quiet lad—with noisy ideas. He came to us from Candace Street School. His favorite subject is electricity. Outside activities have kept him from our athletic games and social functions, but he has supported them financially. "Tommy" expects to enter the business world, and we know that whatever he undertakes will be a success.

ANGELINA LOUISE MOFFITT

"Angie"

Mix one sense of humor, two big blue eyes, smile, style; sprinkle with a dash of sophistication, and serve casually. Result: "Angie" A great little pal, and an all-around sport. Little Miss Moffitt's next stop is R. I. School of Design, and her classmates send her on with heartiest best wishes.

Secretary of Student Chamber of Commerce, '33-'34; Rifle Team, '30; Art Club, '34; "Black and Gold" Board, '34.

JOSEPH LOUIS MONAHAN

"Red," "Jos"

A close scrutiny of this picture leads us to know that its occupant is none other than friend "Red." His host of friends includes the greater majority of Central's feminine enrollment. Many a "hankie" will moisten at "Red's" departure. "Red" has brightened our class rooms with his wit and original humor. "Red's" an air-minded lad. He will further his learning at Kelly Field, Texas. Happy landings, "Red"!

SUSIE MONTELLA

"Sue"

Stop! Look! Listen! we take great pleasure in introducing this charming young miss. By her charming personality and winning smile Susie has gained a host of friends. Best of luck, "Sue."

ELI MONZACK

This carefree young man is none other than our Eli. His sincere and sunny disposition have won him many friends during his stay at Central. Eli leaves us undecided as to what his future will be. May success and happiness always be your byword.

BETTY MOORE

"Good things come in small packages" certainly applies to our Betty. She is good natured, quiet, and friendly. Betty came to Central in her Junior year. Some day she will be walking between rows of white beds. Good luck, Betty.

Hi-Tri, '33.

ETHEL MORAN

Personality plus is our Ethel's middle name. Her cheery "hello" is often heard echoing in Central's corridors. Ethel will be missed by a host of friends when she leaves Central to make her way in the business world. May success go with you.

VINCENT MORAN

This lad with his cheery smile and laughing eyes came into our midst three years ago from La Salle. With his pleasing personality and willingness to help others, "Vinnie" has won many friends. "Vinnie" has maintained a high standard in his studies, and the class wishes him success in the future.

EDWARD MORRISSETT

"Eddie," "Lefty"

Vim, vigor, vitality, and effervescent spirit bubbling over. This spells "Eddie." Ace high in studies, excellent in art, "Eddie" has lofty ambitions. The sky is the limit and his ultimate goal as aviation is his hobby. Watch out for the future "Smiling Lieutenant of the Air"!

HOPE MORRIS

"Hopie"

Low drawl, steady eyes, and a real sense of humor. One can read in her face the gentleness and depth of character which are hers. With heartfelt good wishes we say good-bye to "Hopie," a great companion and a true friend.

ELYNORE MORRISON

Here she is, Folks! One of the most popular members of the class is our Elynore. Through her pleasing personality and charming disposition she has made a host of friends. Elynore intends to further her education at Pembroke where we know she will be a great success.

ANNA MUCCI

"Ann"

This is to introduce "Ann," the best pal in Central. Her winsome smile and sunny disposition have won her many friends during her three years with us. Even though "Ann" enjoys plenty of fun, she never neglects her studies. May her future be filled with success and good fortune.

Budget Collector, '31-'33; Thrift Representative, '32; Tennis, '31-'32; Italian Club, '31-'34.

JAMES S. MULROY

"Jimmy," "Wimpy"

Next in line is one of the loudest contributors of noise in our class. "Jimmy" can be heard the school over when he yells "don't do that." He has become famous for his story telling in locker "S." His favorite study is Architectural Drawing. Wentworth Institute will claim our "Jimmy" next.

ARTHUR VINCENT MULVEY

"Art," "Pat"

Here is our champion debater. He is noted for his logical criticism and for his fine speech-making. During his stay at Central he has acquired a host of friends by his sparkling personality. He intends to be an editorial writer on one of the local papers. With all of his talent he is sure to succeed.

Debating Society, '31-'32-'33-'34; Treasurer, '33; Varsity Debating Team, '33-'34; "Black and Gold" Board, '34; "Centralite" Staff, '34.

GERTRUDE MURPHY

Sparkling blue eyes and a cheerful smile help describe "Gert." With her pleasing personality she has won many hearts during her stay at Central. Where there's life there's fun and where there's fun there's always "Gert."

Vivian Dillon

WALTER F. MURPHY

"Walt," "Flash"

This tall, curly-headed youth is none other than "Walt," who strolls nonchalantly through Central's corridors (quite often with members of the fair sex). Walter came from Classical three short years ago and has won a host of friends while at Central. In whatever you undertake, "Walt," we wish you success.

Hockey, '33-'34.

MARGARET HELENA MURRAY

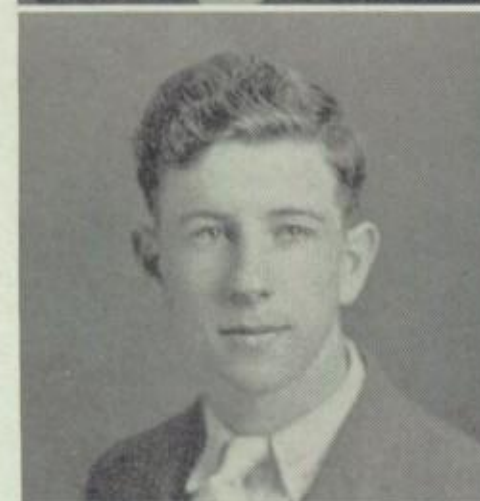

"A sweet little miss with wavy brown hair,
Her merry disposition is way beyond compare."

This describes our Margaret, a petite member of our class. She possesses a charming personality, which is the main reason for her popularity. The best of luck to you, Margaret.

MARY A. MURRAY

Mary is one of the most popular girls in our class. Her sunny disposition, her sincerity, her winning ways, and her good looks explain her popularity. Our search for a good friend is over when we find Mary, for there never was a more sincere and truer friend than Mary.

WILLIAM MURRAY

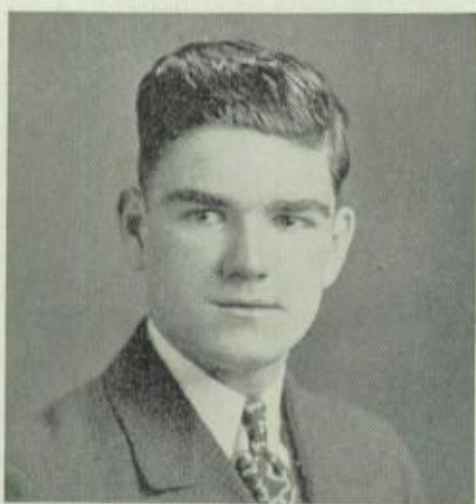

"Bill," another of Central's fair lads, who has won for himself a spot in the hearts of all his classmates. A true friend, an average student, and a loyal Central supporter just about describes "Bill." With these qualities he will get the jump on all others in the school of hard knocks. So long, "Bill," and good luck.

STANLEY L. MUSEN

"Stan"

Who is that tall, broad-shouldered chap striding down the corridor? Why it's "Stan," life of the Review-Math. class. Stanley is bound to get along in this world with his ever-ready smile. He is planning to take an engineering course at R. I. State. Au revoir, "Stan," you're sure to be a success.

JAMES MUSKES

"Jim," "Jock"

"Jim" is one of those fellows that you can't forget. Although he has not participated in any athletics, he has kept his academic work above the average. He is rather quiet, but those who have had any association with him have found him a true friend. Cheerio, "Jim."

CECILIA EUGENIA MUSZYNSKA

"Celia," "C"

"Celia's" pretty face, lovable charm, distinguished personality, and undying friendship will never fade to those who know her. With all these fine traits, "Celia" is different—different in an indescribable way. Her achievements have already earned unlimited encouragement. R. I. S. D. is "Celia's" next abode; it has been notified to fling open its portals! Auld Lang Syne, little girl!

Member of "Black and Gold" Board, '34; Tennis, '31; Sketch Club, '31-'32; Swimming, '32; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '32; Leather, '32-'33.

ALINE LUCILE MYETTE

Personality, dash, and a grand sense of humor combine in making Aline the ideal companion which she is. Moreover, she possesses marked literary ability. Surely this is a combination of attributes which should spell "success" in any language. Goodbye, Aline, and best of wishes.

Tennis, '31; Student Chamber of Commerce, '33-'34; "Black and Gold" Board, '34.

HELEN M. NAKOPINSKI

"Nako"

A dimpled face, smiling eyes, and wavy hair, describes Helen to a "T." Always walking down the corridors with "Isabelle" and "Dot," reminds one of the three Musketeers. Whatever our fair Helen does in the future, we know she will be successful. Good luck from the "gang," Helen.

BERNARD NAMEROW

"Bernie"

Who's that tall, dark, good-looking chap coming down the corridor? Why it's none other than our "Bernie." His good humor and pleasing personality have won him many friends of both sexes during his short stay at Central. What will that bright and sunny smile add to the light of Southern California, since he plans to attend the University of Southern California? Good luck, "Bernie."

DOROTHY MARY NANGLE

"Dot" is the possessor of a sweet nature which finds its radiant climax in a pleasing personality. Wherever "Dot" enters, gloom vanishes, for her witty remarks and originality are known to all. Her genuine sweetness and everlasting charm have made her one of the most popular girls of our class. With her spontaneous, winning smile and sweet way, she is sure to be a success in her chosen profession, that of being a nurse.

Home Room Alternate, 9A, 10A; Hi-Tri, '31-'32-'33-'34; Vice-President, '32-'33; Tennis, '32; Debating Society, '31-'32; Glee Club, '31-'32-'33-'34; New England Chorus, '32.

GEORGE B. NANGLE, JR.

Attention, please! May we present George, one of the wittiest, best-natured, and most popular boys of our class. His likable nature and willingness to help have won him many true friends among his classmates. George is a great favorite among the opposite sex, and his pleasing personality is in much demand. Good luck, pal.

INEZ NANI

Folks, Inez, our most versatile and popular classmate. Her bubbling good nature and charming personality have earned her a host of friends. Her dash, her eagerness to help a worthy classmate, and her sunny smile, have made her stay at Central enjoyable. Au revoir, Inez, and good luck.

French Club, '32; Tennis, '32-'33; Italian Club, '34; Budget Collector, '32.

JOHN ANGELO MARIA NAPOLITANO

"Nape," "Napoleon"

"Nape" is one of those quiet (?) fellows who devotes his school life chiefly to study. His friends are made up of all boys, girls excluded, that is, as far as the class is allowed to know. Though not an expert dancer, class socials and other class functions have been cheerfully supported by him.

MARGARET NASSAR

You can always recognize "Peggy" by her dark hair, sparkling eyes, and alluring smile. She has the three greatest qualifications of life: personality, sympathy and friendship. Best wishes of the class go with her and may she always come smiling to the top.

MICHAEL NAVE

Exactly! "Mike's" physical and moral integrity have made him socially and academically prominent at Central. Unfortunately, "Mike's" proficiency in his studies have confused him somewhat as to his career; but, notwithstanding, something besides a period will follow his name in years to come. Best wishes, pal.

Swimming, '33.

HERBERT NELSON

"Herb"

Herbert Nelson! Oh, yes! He is that tall, quiet blond who came to us from Nathan Bishop. Because of other interests we have not seen "Herb" at social and athletic events, but his thoughts were always with us and also his financial support. Of a genial disposition, "Herb" found it easy to acquire good friends as well as good marks. When "Herb" departs to enter the business world, and perhaps in the future to become a Wood-working teacher, Central may justly be proud of him.

Junior Achievement Club, '32.

ALFONSO NORATO

"Al"

Who is this tall, handsome chap strolling along the corridor? Why, he's our "Al"! With his fine personality, which is only one of his many fine qualities, "Al" has gained the friendship of many of the students, especially the opposite sex. With his ever-ready smile he is sure to get along with everyone. We shall certainly miss you, "Al." Best of luck.

EILEEN R. NEWMAN

Who is the quiet, refined member of our class who is always ready to lend a helping hand? Why, it's none other than Eileen, a friend to everyone. Eileen is taking a stenographic course and will brighten some business man's office in the near future. Best of luck, Eileen.

Hi-Tri; Traffic Squad.

JAMES NICOLA

"Jim," "Shorty"

Too bad we have only seen a year of "Jimmie," because he has been at Hope for two years, until he got wise to himself and came to Central. Perhaps you never have seen "Jim" dance as the Russian Cossacks do; well, you missed a treat. So long, "Jim," we'll be missing you.

CARMINE JOSEPH OLIVELLI

Who is that serious-faced fellow leading the way out of Room 303 at 12:30? Why, that is none other than Carmine Olivelli, one of the quietest fellows in our class. "Believe it or not," this young man is intensely interested in chemistry. Therefore, his intentions are to go to the Rhode Island College of Pharmacy in the fall.

CHARLES A. O'NEILL

"Charlie"

Here is one of the quieter (?) members of our class, our pal, "Charlie." "Charlie" has made many friends both here and in Tech. He is very much interested in aviation, and we may expect to hear from him in this field. Our best wishes for good luck go with him in whatever he undertakes.

Science Club, '31; Radio Club, President, '31-'32.

MURIEL CECILIA O'NEILL

Although Muriel's little nose does not look like a "nose for news," she is planning on an extension course in Journalism. Those blue-gray eyes are very observing, and the fingers very skilled in writing. Her next Alma Mater will be St. Elizabeth's in Montclair, N. J. Best of luck, Muriel!

HUGH FRANCIS O'REILLY

"Skeets"

Here comes "Skeets," the inimitable. Tall, blond, good-looking—a mischievous smile and rare humor combine to make him one of the most popular fellows in the school. To the sports world this term he has been a menace—the star reporter for "The Centralite." We'll hear more from "Skeets" in the future.

Track, '31-'32; 11A Social Committee; Electrical Club, '31-'32; Traffic Squad, '34; Home Room Representative, '31-'32-'33.

CARMINE PALMISCIANO

"Tippy"

A gentleman true has "Tippy" proven to be. You can always find him and his true friend, "Jimmie," talking over the day's problems. "Tippy" has a cheery disposition and a happy-go-lucky way which has won him high esteem and respect of his classmates. For, being as he is a splendid combination of real understanding and a magnetic personality, there is but one pathway open to him—that of a brilliant career.

MARGARET J. PALOMBO

Here is Margaret, bright and fair,
With large brown eyes and curly hair.
Is she well liked—I should say!
Her true friends are hers forever a day.
We hate to, though we say adieu,
The class will always remember you.

ANTONETTA PAPITTO

Antonetta, the little girl with the big personality, is a studious and conscientious student. Her willingness, ability to help others, and her fun-loving disposition have made her a favorite of the class. To satisfy her thirst for knowledge, Antonetta will enter the world of progress. Best wishes.

Italian Play; Thrift Council; Circolo Petrarca.

JOHN RONALD PAPPAS

Possessing a magnetic personality, friendliness, and a winning smile, "Johnnie" has attained the peak of popularity among his classmates. His ability in studies is outstanding. John is well equipped for rigorous traveling on the road to success. Aviation is of primary importance in John's mind. Best wishes and good luck!

MARY PAPPAS

"Lulu"

Here comes Mary, one of our nicer girls. Her willingness to help has made her the friend of all at Central. Although she comes tripping in after the eight o'clock bell, she excels in all her studies. May good luck be your guide in life, Mary.

Volleyball, '33; Tennis, '33.

WALTER PARENTEAU

"Walla"

Here he is, folks, our pal "Walla," a well-liked and popular member of our class. In the near future we expect to find "Walla" in Bentley Business College in Boston, studying business administration.

A. O. Bookkeeper; Traffic Squad.

DOROTHY MAY PARKER

"Dot," "Dotty"

Rollicking and fun-loving describes our "Dotty." She may be seen strolling through the corridors with her inseparable pal, "Peggy." She always has a bright, friendly smile for everyone, and is sure to succeed in the business world. Good luck, "Dotty."

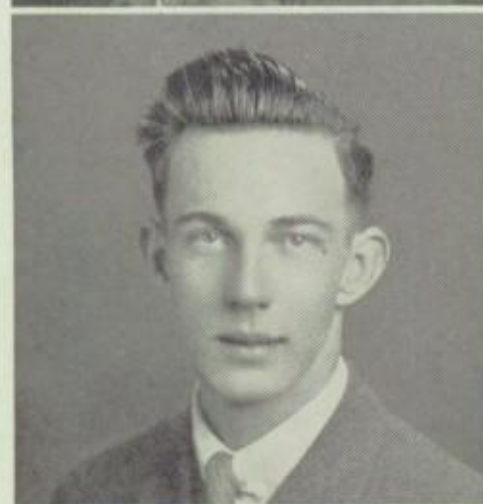

Traffic Squad, '34.

DOROTHY LOUISE PARKHURST

Hail to the petite little miss, somebody's future stenog, who possesses a very charming personality. "Dot" has attained the reputation of being one of the sweetest members of the 4A class because of her pleasing smile and good qualities that make up a good Centralite. Good luck, "Dot."

Budget Collector, '33-'34; Hi-Tri, '34; Debating Society, '34; Library Auxiliary, '33-'34; Fashion Show, '33; "Spotlight."

LEONARD KNOWLES PARKINSON

"Parky"

Here is "Parky," the boy mechanic. He is everyone's pal. "Parky" can always be found talking with the other members of the class about some new inventions. His ambitions are scattered, but here's hoping he succeeds in whatever he undertakes.

LYDIA PARRILLO

"Lyd"

Blonde beauty cast in a classic mould describes lovely Lydia. Her serene grey eyes and charming smile belie her haughty bearing. A host of loyal friends have found her gay and a regular pal. "The Centralite" staff surely did miss her in the second semester! A secretary? Good luck, "Lyd"!

"Centralite" Sports Reporter, '34; Leaders' Club, '32; Hi-Tri, '34; Italian Club, '34.

ROBERT MORGAN PARISH

"Bob"

Our popular Class Treasurer, "Bob," needs no introduction. He can often be heard warbling songs in the corridors with much gusto. He claims English as his favorite subject and French as his nemesis. We expect to see him at R. I. State soon. Good luck, "Bob."

Class Treasurer, 12A; Home Room Representative, 9A, 10B; Alternate, 9B; Budget Collector, 11A; Chairman of Social Committee, 11A, 12B; Student Dance Committee, 12B; Central Hi-Y; Debating Society.

ANN PASHALIAN

"Anny"

Not until you have known Ann's friendship can you appreciate the meaning of the phrase, "warm as a woman's heart." Her winsome personality and her wholesome smile have pulled her through many a difficult situation. Ann's sincere, sympathizing, cheerful disposition, and her dancing ability have won her innumerable friends at Central.

Hockey; Basketball; Cageball; Tennis; Tennis Tournament, '31-'32-'34; Swimming, '31-'32; Junior Life Saving, '32; Debating Society; Dramatic Club; Junior Glee Club; Senior Glee Club; "Spotlight"; Hi-Tri; Library Auxiliary; Junior Chamber of Commerce; Traffic Squad.

ALICE V. PEARSON

"Al," "Swede"

She's tall and fair with eyes of blue,
That's how we'll introduce our "Al" to you.
Her happy heart and merry smile
Have made us love her all the while.
A loyal friend she's proved to be,
And so we'll miss her as you see.

Although she is undecided about her future, we are sure she will succeed. Good luck, pal.

ANN PEDLIKIN

Ann is one girl who can create an atmosphere of jollity wherever she goes. Her hearty laugh has brightened many dull moments in the classroom. Ann intends to become a hairdresser in the near future. We sincerely wish her all the luck in the world.

Traffic Squad; Dramatic Society; David W. Hoyt Reading Club.

PASCO PELINO

"Pat"

Presenting our most modest friend, "Pat." Our foremost scholar on social problems and on the international political and economic situation. His favorite studies are History and Science.

LILLIAN PELLETIER

Efficient, merry, popular and sweet
Describes our Lillian so very neat.

"Lil" is a charming member of our class, whose sunny disposition has won for her many friends. She possesses a unique personality. "Lil" is never seen frowning. Goodbye, "Lil."

Nominating Committee, 3A; Fashion Show, '33; Baseball, '32-'33; Basketball, '31-'32-'33; Hockey, '31-'32-'33-'34; Volleyball, '32-'33.

ANNA PENZA

Sweet and lovely! Those words give you a perfect description of Anna. Seldom does one see her in an unpleasant mood. Anna has blossomed forth into a fun-loving Senior whom we now behold. In the near future we may see Anna adorning some business office.

ALBERT PETTERUTI

"Al"

Step lively, folks, but don't crowd. All we want is to introduce "Al." "Al" and the Industrial Trust Building are alike; they are full of stories. His bits of clever witticisms have caused many classes a hearty laugh. We wish you success, "Al," and anyway, how could success be spelled without "U"?

Traffic Squad; Junior Chamber of Commerce.

PHYLLIS MARIE PINTO

"Phyl"

Here is "Phyl," one of the most charming and friendly girls in our class. Her twinkling brown eyes tell the story of her personality. She is very witty and helps to liven up many a dull period, for which fact her classmates are deeply appreciative. She may be seen at any time of the day with her pal "Phyl V." in the gym or recreation room. "Phyl" intends to enter Katharine Gibbs in the fall to become a secretary. Good luck, Phyllis.

Leaders' Corps, '32; Leaders' Demonstration, '32; Basketball, '32-'33; Baseball, '32-'33; Volleyball, '32-'33; Field Hockey, '32-'33; Tennis, '32-'33; Swimming, '32-'33; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '34; Hi-Tri, '34.

JOSEPH E. PISANO

Although "Joe" came to us only this term from St. Francis Seminary, refinement and personality best describe him. He is well liked by both students and teachers, and excels mostly in foreign languages. Best of luck, pal, in whatever you undertake.

JOSEPHINE M. PITI

Our "Jo"! Petite, lovely and friendly, "Jo" has won many friends at Central by her captivating smile and her many good qualities. She is an excellent student in the secretarial course. "Jo" will, we feel sure, be very successful as "Somebody's Stenog." Best of luck, "Jo."

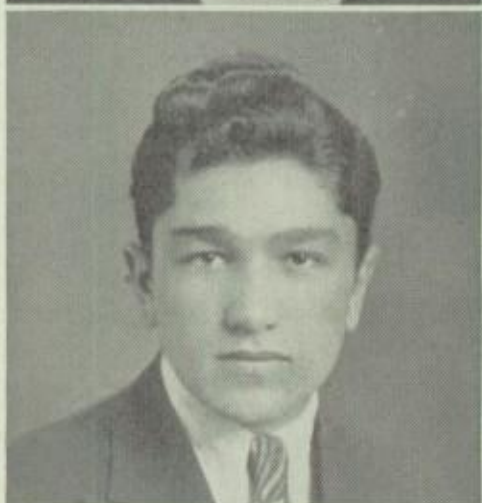

HELEN EVELYN PLACE

Dark, wavy hair, serene dark eyes,
Beneath them personality lies.

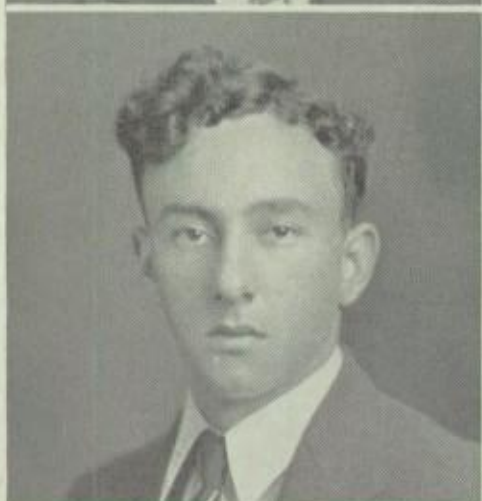

Helen needs no introduction, for she is everyone's friend. She is one of the best-liked girls in our class—a friend that's true, faithful, and trustworthy. Rhode Island State is her goal. Best of luck, Helen.

Student Dance Orchestra, '30-'31; Volleyball, '32-'33; Basketball, '31-'32; Home Room Representative, '32; Alternate, '30-'31; Junior Achievement, '31; Class Secretary, 11A; Golf, '33-'34.

HENRY A. PORCELLI

Do you see the sparkle in Henry's eyes and the roguish smile playing around the corners of his mouth? His charming personality gives him the power of making friends and enables him to get along with everyone. It's a sure guess that Henry will be a success when he gets "out in the world."

MYER PRIMACK

"Mayor," "King"

Folks! next comes the gloom chaser of our class, the one and only "King." Mirth and noise are sure to reign from A102 with "King" on the throne. His wit and good humor greet us at 8:19.5, and again at 12:30 (not a second later). In his mischievous doings, he is helped by his gang, "Jimmy," "Rosy," and "Herby," who are other noise makers of A102. Drawing and Art Metal are "King's" favorite subjects, and so he will continue his fun making at R. I. S. D.

ANTHONY PYREK

"Py," "Tony," "Hinky"

"Hinky" is a quiet sort of a fellow (?), who entered Central two years ago from the ever-remembered Technical High School. "Hinky's" smile has won many friends at school. He is a graduate of Candace Street Grammar School and has not decided where he will further his education. Good luck, "Hinky."

Football, '32-'33.

MARY E. QUINN

"Quinnie"

This little, sparkling, blonde-haired miss, ladies and gentlemen, is no other than our "Quinnie." She is one of the merriest members of our class and she is everyone's pal. "Quinnie" is usually seen strutting along the corridor with her pal "Flos." After graduation, Bryant & Stratton will claim her. The best of luck to you, pal.

Bank Collector, '31-'33; Budget Collector, '33; Class Day Committee, '33; Traffic Squad, '34.

GRACE RAFANELLI

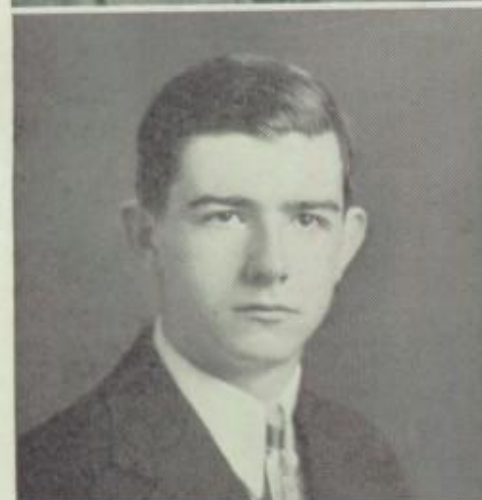

Generally, women are not versatile; but seriously speaking, Grace contradicts this theory. Her consistent high averages and intelligent manner in which she has pursued her studies ranging from music to geometry make it self-evident. Her unassuming attitude plus her versatility will surely plan a successful future.

Tennis, '32-'33; Swimming, '33; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '33; Reading Club, '34; Orchestra, '32-'33-'34; Triple Quartet and Boys' Glee Club Accompanist, '34.

BERNARD RAKOFF

The march of time brings to a grand finale the scholastic career at Central of this future business man. Bryant & Stratton will have the honor of developing him for his future business enterprises. "Prepare thyself, J. P. Morgan, for an invader into thy realm!"

ROBERT E. REILLY

"Bob" has won favor among his classmates during the past four years by his unobtrusive good fellowship. He can both give and appreciate a good joke and often has made otherwise dull moments into occasions of merriment. He works hard and ought to make good in his future schooling.

JOHN REMKA

John is a fellow who gets along with everybody. Blessed with a penchant for the humorous side of life, he is a master in combining business with pleasure. It is certain that the coming years can do naught but lend polish and further charm to a so solidly founded personality.

MARIE FRANCES RENZI

"Bambi"

A giggle, laughing brown eyes and behold, our dainty Marie appears! "Bambi" needs no introduction. She is seldom still, full of mischief and yet excels in all her subjects. Marie is always found between periods talking with her inseparable companion "Jerry"—and can they talk! Katharine Gibbs claims her next. Success to you, dear friend!

Glee Club, '30.

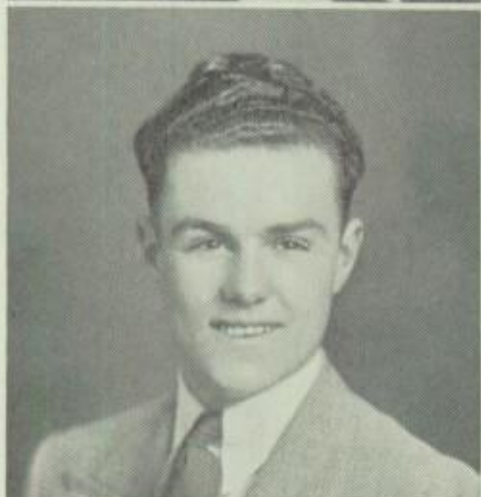

DORIS ANNA REUTER

"Dolly"

Two dark brown eyes together with a captivating smile describe our "Dolly." Her three years at Central have won her many friends. She is a very ambitious person and hopes to venture forth into the business world. She is a good sport and is always ready to enter into anything that she sees fit. We wish her all the success in the world.

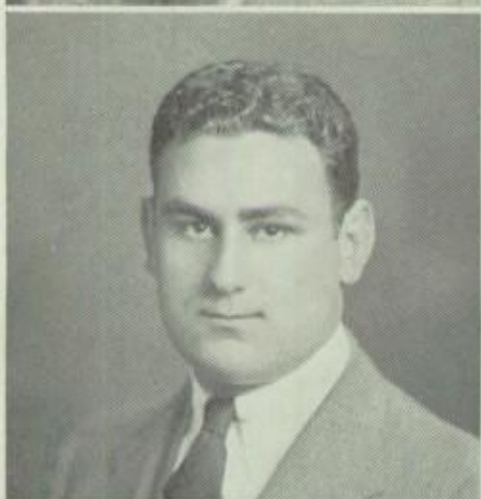

Swimming Team.

HOWARD E. REUTLINGER

"Howie," "Reut"

"Howie" is the type of fellow whom one is proud to call a friend. His cheerful disposition and sunny countenance have won him the respect and esteem of his classmates. Although undecided, he intends to further his education at Bryant-Stratton College. Auf Wiedersehn, and the best of luck and happiness to you.

EDWARD RICCI

"Eddie"

Here's "Eddie," quiet and reserved, liked by all, a faithful student, and loyal friend. Classical's loss was Central's gain. A good part of the athletic glory which has been Central's these past 2 years has been due to "Eddie's" participation in baseball and football. Some college will reap the benefit of his process. Bon voyage on your ship of success, "Ed."

Baseball, '31-'32-'33; Football, '31-'32-'33.

INEZ RILEY

A loyal friend, a conscientious student, and a gay companion describe Inez. You can always recognize Inez by her brown, wavy hair, her sparkling blue eyes, and her everlasting smile. Her charming personality, character, and spirit of helpfulness have won her a host of friends among her classmates. Good luck, Inez!

Library Auxiliary, '33-'34; Debating Society, '34; Hi-Tri, '34; "Spotlight," '34; Fashion Show, '33.

GEORGE RIPA

Introducing "Rip," the pocket army battalion. George's reputation in school work, sports, and outside activities have won him many friends. In case you hear a commotion somewhere in school, George is there. You can't help being his friend, since his gentlemanly tactics and fluent speech would convince a stone. Here's a toast of good luck to you, George, so that you may succeed in your future life.

Cross-Country, '32; Nautical Club, '34.

RUTH ARMSTRONG ROBBINS

"Ruthie"

If you don't know "Ruthie" you have missed the loyal friendship of one of the most amiable girls in our class. Her sunny smile and personality have won her many friends at Central. Ruth looks forward to a career in the business world. The class wish you success and happiness, Ruth.

Tennis, '33.

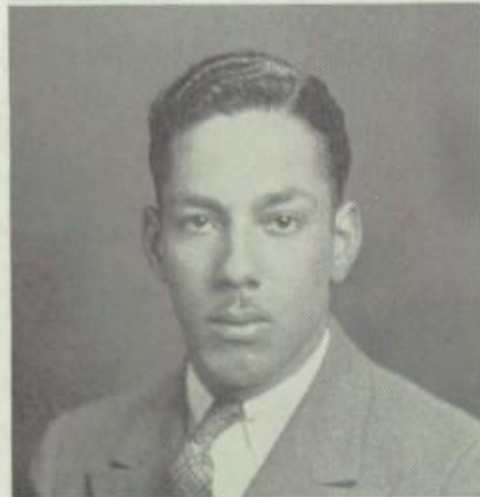

JAMES E. ROBINSON

"Jim," "Jimmie," "Robbie"

Here's a young man who's known to his intimate friends as "Fishing Jimmie." "Jim" has made many friends during his stay at "Tech" and Central because of his amiable character. He has excelled in all scientific subjects and plans to enter Colorado School of Mines this fall. We all know that "Jim" will succeed in any work he may enter.

Biology Club, 10A, 11B; Rifle Club, 10A, 11B, 11A; Thrift Representative, 12B.

HORACE E. ROBINSON

"Hod," "Robbie"

Allow me to present one of the finest fellows one could know. An athlete par-excellence, and a gentleman at all times. Since his entrance to Central, he has won a high place in the hearts of his fellow students. "Robbie's" future is undecided, but we know he will reach the highest peak of success.

Football, '31-'32; Hockey, '31-'32.

BENJAMIN ROCHIRA

"Ben"

"Ben" is one of the most popular members of our class. He has combined scholastic ability with persistence to maintain a high standard of work in all his studies. We wish him the best of luck in his chosen field.

Nautical Club; Junior Varsity Baseball.

FRED W. ROLFE

"Fred"

Fred, ladies and gentlemen, is one of the quietest fellows in our class, but nevertheless he is liked by all the pupils and teachers who have met him. He has not taken an active part in athletics, but he has supported them. After graduation Fred will go out into the wide, wide world to seek fame and fortune.

A. AMEDEO ROMANO

"Shorty"

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." That describes good old "Shorty," one of the quietest boys in the class, and one of the nicest. He is undecided as to his future, but we are assured of a successful future for "Shorty."

JOSEPHINE ROMANAUSKA

"Jo"

The laugh that floats down the corridor, which sounds as if someone were singing a scale, belongs to none other than our "Jo." No one could ever wish for a truer friend. Undecided about her future, we feel sure that whatever she undertakes will be a success. Best o' luck, "Jo."

Glee Club, '31-'32-'33-'34; All New England Chorus, '32; Musical Comedy, '32; Eastern Chorus, '33; 3A Hostess.

ALICE S. ROSENBERG

"She is lively, and she is bright,
And rolls her eyes delightfully.
Some boss will think she is just the 'type,'
For she goes in for stenography."

"Al" has a giggle that begins slowly in subterranean gurgles, and, gaining impetus, finally ends unrestrained in a flood of hilarity and joy. When she shows signs of bubbling you'd better bury your head in "Elements of English," for her twinkling smile is as infectious as a ripe case of measles. Vivacity together with direct determination promises that "Al's" future intentions will be realized.

Student Council, '31.

ANNA ROSS

"Ann"

Most certainly it is our "Ann." This attractive young lady has a charming personality and possesses that indescribable something which assures success. "Ann" has all the qualities that are found in a true friend. "Ann" should do very well in any career she chooses. Good luck!

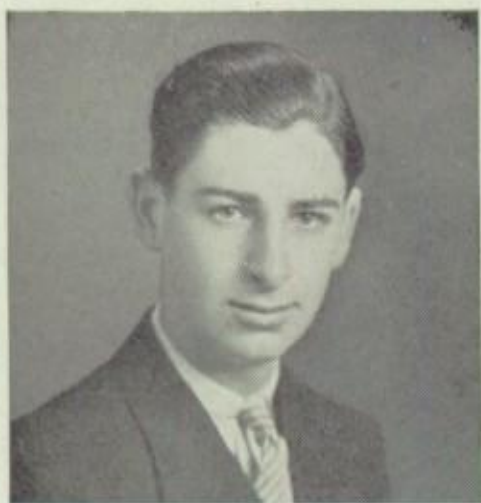

Swimming, '31-'32.

JOHN PETER ROUGAS

"Ruggie," "Johnny"

"Ruggie," as he is known by his friends, is a former Tech student, who brings that free and easy Tech way with him. Upon seeing him walking along you think of him as a quiet fellow, but as soon as the boys get together on anything you're sure to find him with the rest. Although interested in athletics and other school activities, after-school work has kept him occupied. "Ruggie" intends to continue his schooling. Best of luck."

JOHN ROY

Who is this quiet unassuming lad sauntering down the corridor with his pal "Joe"? It is none other than our John. He is undecided as to his future, but we are sure he'll succeed in whatever he undertakes. Best of luck, John.

Stamp Club, '32.

LUIGI RUGGIERI

"Lu"

Surely you have noticed this quiet and unassuming student hastening through the corridors a few seconds before the bell. It is none other than our "Lu." His main interests in life are Flying and Art. To know him well one must be his friend. "Lu" is a lover of Art and is full of moods and dreams. He intends to supplement his artistic ability at Pratt University of Arts in New York. The luck of the class is with you, "Lu."

Tech Aero Club, '31; Nautical Club, '34.

MARGARET C. C. RULE

"Peg"

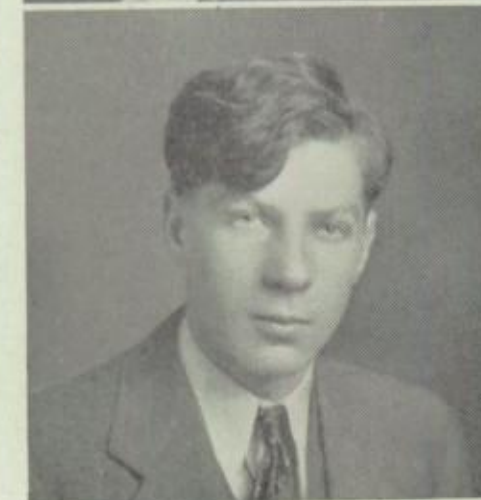

Charm + good looks + dancing ability = "Peg." She is a jolly little miss, with laughing green eyes and a sense of humor. "Peg's" ability for dancing and singing has gained her a host of friends throughout her stay in Central. We'll miss you, "Peg." Good luck.

Thrift Council, '31-'34; Member of Journalism Class, '31.

DORIS RITA RUSH

A very special station, D-O-R-I-S, broadcasting on a frequency of 100% personality plus. Doris is a modern school girl of 1934. She is always up to the minute in school affairs whether social or studies. "Dot" is always present with a happy smile and a helping hand. Best of luck.

WOODROW RUSSELL

"Woodie"

"Woodie" has secured many friends during his stay at "Tech" and Central. We hope that he will retain these and make many more in the world outside. His hopes are inclined towards a college education, but with or without it we know he will have a successful business career. Good luck, "Woodie."

ELIZABETH ANNA RUSSO

"Betty"

"Betty" has an energetic resourceful personality. She is at her best when arguing. Then her brown eyes snap! Needless to say, she rarely loses. Everyone knows "Betty's" salesmanship abilities. She'll make a great journalist in the future.

Hi-Tri, '34; Italian Club.

JAMES RUSSO

"Jimmy"

Introducing "Jimmy," one of the most popular members of our class. Although he is full of fun, he has maintained a high scholastic average as shown by his R. I. Honor Society pin. "Jimmy" will further his studies at R. I. State where we know he will be successful. Good luck, "Jimmy."

LOUIS RUSSO

"Louie"

A charming companion! "Louie" has made a multitude of friends at Central. Notwithstanding his easy-going disposition, "Louie" has not neglected his studies. His favorite subjects are Mathematics and Mechanical Drawing. We all wish him success in his chosen field, Drafting.

Biology Club, '32.

VIOLA RUSSO

"Vi"

A "stenog" with talent that's ever proficient
Active in school activities, never deficient,
This fascinating brunette with personality galore,
Is "Vi," our popular classmate of 1934.

Dramatic Society, '34; Study Chairman, '32; Basketball, '31-'32-'33; Volleyball, '32-'33; Baseball, '32; Tennis, '32; Italian Club, '31-'32; Budget Collector, '32

GILDA ANGELA RUZZO

"Gil"

Here she is folks, our talented artist! Gilda, one of the most popular girls in our class. Her sparkling eyes and winning smile are the keynotes to her personality. "Gil's" future is probably taking care of some banker's account. One of her next steps is to tour Europe. Bon voyage, Gilda.

Art Club, '32; Sketch Club, '33; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '33; Student Chamber of Commerce, '34; Fashion Show, '32; Italian Club, '32.

SOPHIA ANN SALKOFSKE

"So"

Sophia is a stunning blonde, with blue eyes, pretty dimples, and personality plus. She is a very popular girl with both sexes. Her cheery smile and friendly disposition have made her an outstanding member of our class. We wish you luck, "So," in your chosen vocation.

Glee Club, '32-'33-'34; New England Chorus, '32; Musical Comedy, '32.

ADA LUCEIA SAMOORE

"Buddy"

Ada: Snappy brown eyes! Blue black wavy hair! It could be said of Ada, "It's a pleasure to know her!" She is truly a source of inspiration to her associates in that she induces them through the power of a living example to live a happier and more satisfactory life.

Swimming, '31-'32.

AMEDEO A. SASSI

"Amy," "Sass"

A crowd—a burst of laughter, and behold, "Amy"! The fun-loving and pleasant disposition and winsome personality have gained for him many a friend in Central. "Amy's" scholastic record is exceptional, but besides being a scholar, he possesses the ability of a talented pianist. May you find shelter under the wing of Success!

Glee Club, '31-'32; Operetta, '32; Student Dance Orchestra, '31-'32.

ETHEL SCHRAMM

Permit us to introduce our Ethel, one of the friendliest girls of our class. She is intelligent and business like. The saying "a friend in need is a friend indeed" well describes Ethel. The class will surely miss her when the business world claims her. May success be with you, Ethel.

VINCENT SCOLARDI

"Vin"

This boy came to Tech three years ago from West. During his stay "Vin" has made many friends. He is undecided as to what work he would like to do, but we know he will succeed.

JOSEPH SCORPIO

"Joe"

Here we have one of the most reserved and well liked members of our class. Joseph may not be a star athlete, but he is always right where you can depend on him. Although he has taken little part in any athletic activities, he has given freely toward their support.

Swimming Club, '31-'32.

DONALD FRANK SCOTT

"Scotty"

This shy classmate is none other than our "Scotty." However, he is ever-ready with his smile and willingness to join in whenever there are any pranks to be played. His fine disposition has won him a host of friends. "Scotty" intends to enter the business world upon graduating, and we know that he will succeed. Best of luck, "Scotty."

Class Basketball, '31-'32; Junior Varsity Baseball, '32.

RAYMOND SCOTT

"Ray," "Scotty"

Attention please! You are now gazing upon "Scotty," the spokesman of the "Noisy Trio." His laughter and merry disposition have won him many friends. Many a dull class has turned sunny side up by his mischievous tricks and jokes. "Scotty" is a talented saxophonist, and we expect him to become a professional artist. Good luck, "Scotty."

Band, '32-'33-'34; Orchestra, '32-'33-'34; Band Concert, '32-'33-'34; Orchestra Festival, '32-'33-'34; President, Junior Hi-Y, '32; Swimming Team, '32; 3A Class Play; 3A Social Committee; Frolic, '33; Stock Room Clerk, '34; Traffic Squad, '34.

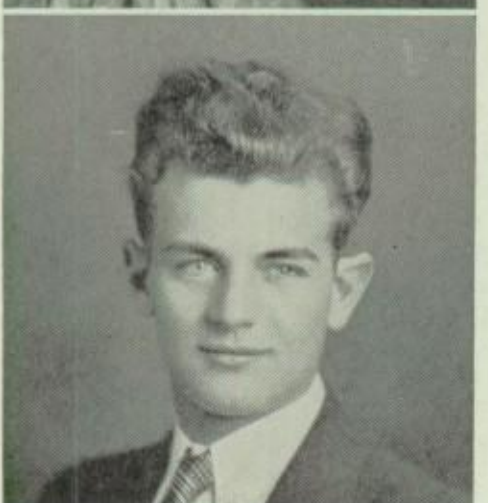

SUSIE R. SCOTTI

"Sue," "Scotty"

"Sue" is the girl with the most winsome smile, lustrous jet-black hair and sparkling brown eyes. She smiles when you praise her, she smiles when you scold her, and smiles when you say nothing at all to her. Did you say she was popular? Why, I should say so. "Sue" intends to further her education at a higher institution. Good luck, "Sue."

Dramatic Society, 10B, 10A; Swimming, 10B, 10A, 11B; Tennis, 10A, 11B, 11A; Home Room Alternate, 10A; Hi-Tri, 12B; Thrift Collector, 12A.

V. WILLIAM SCOTTI

"Bill," "Scotti"

"Bill's" pleasant disposition and winsome personality have made him very popular with both sexes (especially the opposite). And have you seen him dance? Why the social will be incomplete without him. We know that "Bill" will succeed in whatever he undertakes. Arivederci, carissimo. Amico.

ALMA EMILY SCUNCIO

Here she is folks, her flashing smile and cheery hello introduce our Alma. Pleasing personality, neat in appearance, sweet, friendly, and helpful are a few of Alma's admirable qualities. When there's fun there's Alma. We will all miss her when she ventures forth into the business world. Good luck to you, Alma.

Leaders' Corps, '31-'32; Hockey, '31; Swimming, '32; Esperanto Club, '32; Tennis, '32; Baseball, '33-'34.

GLADYS LOIS SEALES

Gladys, though zealous about her studies, is always ready to join in the fun and contribute her share to it. She claims bookkeeping to be her favorite subject. Her plans for the future are as yet uncertain, but we wish her success in whatever she may undertake.

LOUISE LILLIAN SEDINA

"Wheezer"

Louise stands for everything that is fine. There is a certain refinement about her—a certain winsome sweetness which few of us have captured. With her winning personality and generous nature we are sure she will succeed. Best of luck, "Wheezer."

Budget Collector, '33; Library Auxiliary, '32-'33-'34.

MARCELINE O. SERMON

Presenting our Marceline. No one could be more demure or quiet than our pal! One of her favorite pastimes is dancing as everyone probably knows because she can be seen at most student dances. Marceline has not yet decided on her future, but we wish her the best of luck and success.

STAR SHAMIREAN

Listen, folks, on a warm summer night you sat and looked at the millions of twinkling stars in the sky and wondered how they got there; but did you ever wonder about the twinkling "Star" of our class? Her cheery "hello," elusive smile, and captivating personality have won her many friends at Central. Loads of luck, Star.

JEANETTE SHANBRUN

"Jean"

A sweet little girl with lovely blue eyes and a charming personality is none other than "Jean." She intends to further her education at R. I. C. E.; but we are a bit dubious about this since we have heard that there is a pretty definite young man lurking in the background, whom she favors. Best of luck either way, Jeanette.

Traffic Squad, 12A.

EVELYN ELLEN CORA SHANLEY

"Ev," "Eve"

"Ev" needs no introduction. She is the sweetheart of the senior class, her smile and charming personality having made lasting friends. "Ev" plans to enter the business world after graduation, and we know that she will succeed in whatever she undertakes. Best of luck, "Ev."

ELSIE MARIE SHANNAHAN

Whenever we want to remember happy school days, we think of Elsie. Although Elsie is a quiet lass, her very pleasing personality has found its way into the hearts of all her classmates. She is one girl whom we are sure will succeed. Our best wishes are with you, Elsie.

MURIEL SHARP

"Mickey"

"Mickey" is a vivacious, petite brunette possessing the gayest smile in Central. She has a rare faculty for gaining friends, due, perhaps, to the optimism which she radiates. The best wishes of Central go to this gallant little lady!

Library Auxiliary, '31-'32-'33; Tennis, '31; Glee Club, '32; Dramatic Society, '32; Leaders Corps, '31

ALICE MARIE SHERIDAN

"Sherry"

Step aside, here comes pep! Introducing none other than "Sherry," Central's bundle of fun and personality. "Sherry" has made innumerable friends among both sexes with her friendly smile. In the near future, "Sherry" will adorn some pleasant office. Lucky boss!

Budget Collector, '32; Bank Collector, '33-'34; Home Room Representative, '33; Traffic Squad, '34.

GRACE SHOCKET

"Gracie"

Grace possesses a certain distinctness of charm, character truly outstanding, a certain cleverness and marked ability in her work that will rise to great heights in years to come. When Central loses Grace, they are losing a fine scholar, the like of whom it will be hard to replace. Best of luck, "Gracie."

EDWARD SHORE

"Ed," "Eddie"

Introducing "Ed." Always smiling, good-natured, and intelligent, he is a popular student. His cheerful yet serious character, combined with his high scholastic standing have made him an admired classmate. "Ed" intends to enter Brown, and we extend best wishes for success.

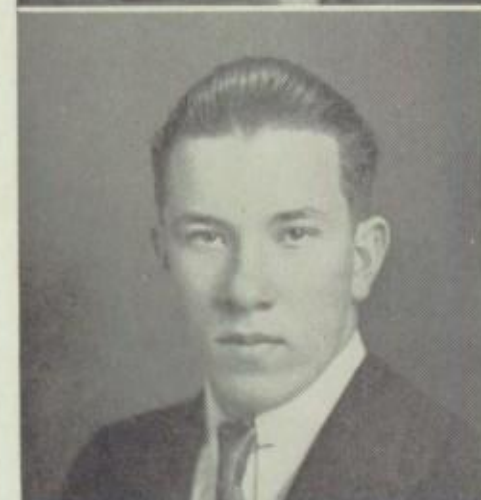

Science Club; Leaders' Corps.

KENNETH M. SHORT

"Ken," "Shorty"

A pal is a fellow who walks in when the rest of the world walks out, and "Ken" is one peach of a pal. 'Nuff said. Shortly after graduation "Ken" will ship aboard a tanker to work and study for officers' papers.

JOSEPH SILBERMAN

"Joe"

"Joe" is a quiet sort of fellow who is always willing to help a friend in trouble. He is very much interested in athletics, although he has not been able to participate in them because of outside employment. "Joe" is undecided as to the future, but we know that he will succeed in whatever he undertakes. Best of luck, "Joe."

ROSE SILVERMAN

"Ro"

No! Not just another curly-headed brunette, but a dashing, wavy-haired, full-of-fun, attractive Miss Silverman. Individuality plus sincerity are two other great assets Rose possesses. There will never be a deficit of friends in Rose's life, for her ever friendly attitude will acquire a host of friends, forever. May luck ever be with you, Rose.

Thrift Council, '30-'31-'32-'34; Senior Leaders' Corps, '32; Chairmen's Club, '32; Supervisors' Club, '32; Glee Club, '31.

DOROTHY MARGARET SIMPSON

"Dot"

"Dot" is truly a modern maiden in every sense of the word. Witty, sparkling, laughing, and a trifle sophisticated. To all who know her she has been a sincere and delightful friend during her sojourn with us. Here's to your success at the School of Design, "Dot"!

Alternate, '31; Swimming, '31; Rifle, '32-'33; Golf, '33.

DOROTHY ENENORA SINCLAIR

"Dot"

Our "Dot" is one of the sweetest and most lovable, dispositioned girls of our class. Her kindness and friendliness has won her many pals. "Dot" always appears with her two faithful companions, "Nicky" and Isabelle. Whatever business she undertakes we know will be a success. The best of luck to you, "Dot."

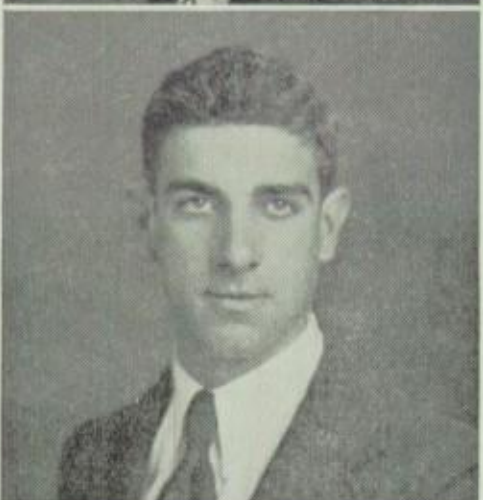

Glee Club, '32-'33-'34; Hi-Tri, '33-'34.

FLORENCE SINGER

Of every type of Miss from the far corners of the globe, Central lacked one well-defined type of girl until Florence entered. That type was one of good looks, pep, tact, congeniality, courage, and strength. Her charm and personality lies in her ability to appeal to the mind as well as to the eye. She is artistic and original in everything. So here's to Florence! Health, wealth, success—and as much happiness as one traveler can wish another!

Sketch Club, '30-'31-'32; Hi-Tri, '30-'31-'32; Swimming, '30-'31; Dramatics, '33-'34; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '32-'33-'34; Foreign Correspondence, '33-'34; Leather Club, '32-'33; "Black and Gold," '33-'34; Tennis, '31.

ANTHONY TRENT SIRAVO

Ah, yes! Here he is. "Tony," one of the noisiest boys in the class. But "Tony's" noisy manner covers a sympathetic heart, always willing to help out a class-mate. "Tony" is popular with both sexes. He is fond of good times and is sure to make any gathering, he attends, a success. In his studies this young man has been very successful, and he is one of the class comedians, too. After graduation, "Tony" intends to further his education at Rhode Island State College. He has our best wishes for success when he leaves us. Good luck, "Tony."

Traffic Squad, '34.

PETER SKEFFINGTON, JR.

"Skeff"

This good-looking lad is none other than our pal, "Skeff." he has a sparkling personality which has made for him a host of friends. He can always be seen at all social gatherings. He intends to further his education way down south in the Alabama State College.

Rifle Club, 10B, 10A, 11B, 11A; Home Room Representative, 11A; Junior Social Committee, 11A; Budget Collector, 11A, 12A; Biology Club, 11B; Boys' Glee Club, 10B; Class Track, 10A, 11B.

HELEN J. SLIWKA

Who doesn't know this dignified miss? Helen's straight-forwardness, charming personality, friendly manner, and witty remarks have gained a host of friends at Central. As soon as Helen makes her appearance, dull moments disappear. Still with all these fine traits Helen had time to work after school and keep up her high marks. Good luck.

DOROTHY SLOCUM

"Dotty"

Black wavy hair, sparkling brown eyes, and a sunny smile for everyone describe our "Dotty." She is one of the most popular members of our class (especially the opposite sex). "Dotty" will brighten some businessman's office in the near future. Good luck, "Dotty"!

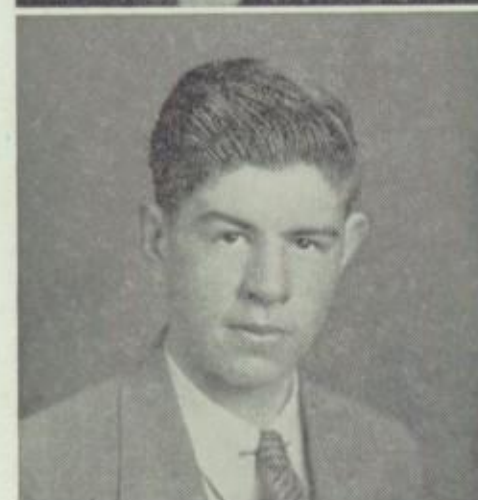

Foreign Correspondence; 3A Class Day Representative; Braille Club, Treasurer; Swimming; Hi-Tri, President; Traffic Squad.

INEZ L. SMALL

To most of us Inez needs no introduction. She is a popular miss among her classmates, especially with the opposite sex. Her outstanding characteristics are her cheery smile, charming personality, and lovable nature. The best of luck to you, Inez.

Swimming, '32-'33; Tennis, '32; Hockey, '32; Basketball, '32; Hi-Tri, '34; Life Saving, '33; Traffic, '34.

EDWARD JOSEPH SMITH

"Ed," "Smitty"

This quiet sociable chap is none other than our good friend "Ed." his personality and good fellowship have won him many friends. He claims Graphic Art as his favorite subject, and we know that if he wishes to take this as a subject his success will be assured. Good luck, "Smitty," we know you'll make good.

FRANCES MARION SMITH

"Smitty"

You may not know it but this small bundle of happiness creates a lively atmosphere wherever she happens to be. "Smitty's" just a tiny miss with laughing blue eyes, wavy blonde hair, and a captivating smile. Good luck, "Smitty."

Hi-Tri, '33; Providence Night, '33; All New England Chorus, '32; All Eastern Chorus, '33; Senior Girls' Glee Club, '32-'33-'34; Frolic, '33; Musical Comedy, '32; Leaders' Corps, '32; Chess Club, '32; Budget Collector, '32-'33-'34; Girls' Glee Club, Treasurer, '34.

WILLIAM SMITH

"Bill"

A giggle, a laugh, and a loud "So what," and "Bill" rounds the corner with a girl on each arm. Any Math teacher will assure you that "Bill" excels in figures. After leaving M. I. T. he will build that long-awaited-for bridge across the Atlantic. Good luck, Pal.

ALPHONSE THOMAS SOLTYS

"Al"

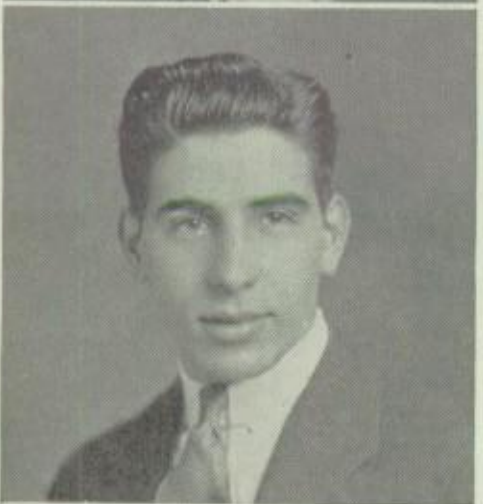

This ambitious youth, who is represented in the picture, is none other than "Al," our class orator. From the very day "Al" entered Central, it has been a brighter place. As a gloom chaser he is a wonder, as can be seen when he walks through the corridors with his pals telling the latest jokes. Although "Al" has not taken active part in the school activities, he is always present at school and class events.

LAURA SPADARO

Friendly, loyal, and studious is our Laura. The possessor of a delightful and charming personality, Laura will make an ideal bookkeeper in somebody's office. Although we are sure that she will succeed in the business world, we wish her best of luck.

Home Room Representative, 3A.

JOHN SPAZIANO

"Spatz"

If you hear a commotion in school, especially in the corridors, you know "Spatz" is somewhere around. "Spatz's" witty remarks break the monotony of many a class. He never allows school books to bother him, but gets along in his studies. "Spatz" is undecided about the future, but we all know he will succeed.

MARY AUGUSTA SPEARS

It would be very difficult to convey in so short a paragraph the many pleasing qualities of this charming Miss. Mary has a pleasing personality and is greatly admired for her self-confidence. Mary plans to attend a Business College, and we know that she will be a success.

FRIEDA CATHERINE STAMP

Introducing Frieda, one of the outstanding members of the senior class. A winning personality, friendliness, and a sweet disposition, only partially describe our Frieda. A perfect sport, and always willing to lend a helping hand. We wish you all the luck in the world. Auf Wiedersehen, Frieda.

SAMUEL HAROLD STEIN

"Sam," S. Harold

Here he is, friends, "Sam" Stein or S. Harold Stein, our future radio announcer (?). Here is the youth that came to see and conquer. We are glad to say that he was successful in acquiring his goal. His dynamic personality and that "Stein Smile" will always be cherished in Central's sacred vaults. R. I. State beckons. Go forward with head up, "Sam," and may the good wishes of friends follow you in the future.

"Black and Gold" Board; Nautical Club; Collector; Swimming, '30.

RALPH STERNBERG

How often it has been said that still waters run deep! And how true that really is! Our good friend Ralph is indeed quiet, but never unawares. His remarkable work through high school, considering the short time he has been in the country, proves him of great ability. Like his father and brothers, Ralph, possessing a tremendous bass voice, intends to go to Italy to study opera, and make his debut in the Grand Opera. We wish you the best of luck and hope to see you world-famous.

CHARLOTTE G. STEWART

"Chickie"

In this corner we have Betty Boop's only rival, "Chickie." The same qualities which have made "Chickie" the most popular girl in the class will undoubtedly carry her a long way up the ladder of fame and fortune. We wish you the best of luck, "Chickie."

Musical Comedy, '32; New England Chorus, '32; Volleyball, '32; Frolic, '33; Hi-Tri, '33; 3A Class Day, '33; All Eastern Chorus, '33; Providence Night, '33; Senior Girls' Glee Club, '32-'33-'34; President, '34; 4B Class Day, '34; Home Room Representative, '34; Traffic Squad, '34; Chairman of Social Committee, '34.

THERESA STRAIGHT

Chuck full of fun, mischief, and liveliness—that's Theresa. She has always managed to bring that life-saving bit of humor into an otherwise dreary day. We know that Theresa's winning smile and lovely personality will make many friends for her in the business world. Good luck to you, Theresa.

Hi-Tri; Swimming; Debating; Library Auxiliary.

ANTHONY STRAMONDO

"Never put off until to-morrow what you can do today." This proverb combined with hard work, earnest studying, and a good nature describe our Anthony. Because of eagerness to learn, we feel certain that his future will be a success. Anthony intends to further his education at college. Our best wishes for good luck go with you, Anthony.

AGNES M. SULLIVAN

Agnes is one of the most mysterious and sophisticated members of the class. She is as elusive as the will-o'-the-wisp, but really a very staunch friend when you know her. She is our Belle Ideal, and we all wish her the best of luck.

ELEANOR SULLIVAN

"Sully"

E is for Eleanor, fair is she
L is for lovable, can't you see?
E is for eyes of brown, so dark
And you see by their twinkle she's out for a lark.
Nurse is what "Sully" intends to be
Or maybe a doctor, but we shall see Right now "adios and luck" say we.

JOHN SULLIVAN

The distinguished looking gentleman you see coming down the corridor is none other than John. His cheery smile and keen sense of humor have won for him many friends. We are sure of his success. Good luck, John.

WILLIAM E. SULLIVAN

Here we have "Bill," one of the cheerful members of our class. "Bill" hopes to become a doctor some day, and we are sure that he will succeed. He intends to further his education at Providence College.

AARON SUTTON

Here is our cheerful, happy-go-lucky classmate who came to us two years ago from Classical. Aaron's pleasant amicable disposition has won him many friends during his brief career in dear old Central. He has always managed to receive good marks with very little trouble. A lover of mathematics, Aaron intends to extend his education at the Harvard Business Administration School.

RUTH CAROLINE MARGARET SVENSON

"Ruthie"

"Laugh and the world laughs with you"—that is Ruth. She chases the blues away. Everyone loves her for her friendly and happy disposition, and no one can resist the charm of her good nature. She will "brighten the corners" for all so fortunate as to be her associates. Ruth will further her education at Rhode Island College of Education. Good luck, old Pal!

The Second New England High School Festival Chorus, '32; Glee Club, '31-'32; Senior Glee Club, '33-'34; Rhode Island Honor Society.

ANNIE IRENE SWAINE

"Anne"

Who is this cute Miss with hazel eyes and curly light brown hair? It is none other than our classmate "Anne." Her pleasing personality and true friendship have won her many friends here in Central. "Anne" claims that both shorthand and art are her favorite studies. In whatever you undertake to do, we wish you luck and success always.

Art Club, '31-'32.

RICHARD PUZANT SWAJIAN

"Dick"

Our friend "Dick" entered Central after a short stay at Tech. Due to outside interests, "Dick" has been unable to represent the school in any sport, but he has never failed to support them with his purse. "Dick" hopes to enter an engineering college and study aeronautics. We know he will make good. Happy landings, "Dick."

E. PAULINE SWANSON

Pauline is the fortunate possessor of that rare combination of beauty and brains. Besides being a star student, she is endowed with a captivating personality which has made her near and dear to the hearts of teachers and classmates. Bookkeeping is her aim, and we feel sure she will be successful in her chosen career.

S. A. O. Bookkeeper, '34.

LEO L. SWARTZ

(Ra-ta-ta-ta) Enter Leo the lion, the greatest Roman of them all. Amidst a great burst of applause Leo takes his bow and starts boosting the budget. That's our Leo, a loyal Centralite and a friend to all. Leo has hopes of being a high pressure salesman. Loads of luck, Leo.

Representative, '31-'32-'33-'34; Glee Club; Electric Club; Art Metal Club.

HELEN LEONA SWEET

As is implied by the name, Sweet is not only Helen's name but is also a description of her sweet looks and sweet personality. Her stay at Central has been much valued by our class, and we are sure the same will be true in the future.

S. A. O. Bookkeeper, '34; Flower Committee, '33.

GERTRUDE JEANNETTE SYLVIA

"Gert"

Upon seeing "Gert" one will have to admit that "good things come in small packages." Gert's charming personality and witty remarks have gained her many friends here in Central. "Gert" is undecided about her future, but we all know that it will be a bright one. So let's give the "little girl with the big brown eyes" a big hand.

Traffic Squad, '34.

BENJAMIN EMO TANCREDI

"Ben," "Tanc"

"Tanc's" keen mind, efficient manners, and pleasing personality have reaped numerous friends for him. His scholastic ability has placed him among the learned ones of our class. "Ben" intends to extend his mathematical knowledge at Rhode Island State College. Addio caro amico.

Band, '30-'31-'32; Swimming, '30-'31; Soccer, '30; Leaders' Corps, '30-'31-'32; Publicity Chairman of Circolo Petrarca, '34; Rhode Island Honor Society.

HARRY TANENBAUM

"Himie"

Blond or red head? popular question among the girls. But it doesn't bother "Himie." He's a quiet, shy lad with the secret ambition to be a great chemical engineer. We who know Harry are positive that he will succeed. So lift your stein and give a toast to him. So long, Harry.

RUTH CLAIRE TANENBAUM

"Ruthie," "Rufus"

Gazing at you is the most vivacious young lady of the class. Although studies have been strictly adhered to, Ruth has found time to make herself a shining light with students and teachers through her loyal companionship and pleasant disposition. Her skill is displayed most conspicuously on the dance floor.

DONALD TAYLOR

Introducing Donald, who during his three years at Central has made many friends. Donald has never been seen going home loaded with books, but he manages to pass. The best of luck to you in the future, Donald.

VIOLA E. TAYLOR

"V"

"Still waters run deep." This phrase well describes "Vi." Although she is very studious, she believes in having her fun. "Vi" is a good sport and has a charming personality which has won her a host of friends at Central. As a pal she cannot be surpassed. "Vi" intends to enter Simmons College next fall. Good luck, "Vi."

GLORIA TERESHKOW

"Glo"

Gloria is the little Russian miss in our class who possesses those traits looked for in a classmate. Reserved, yet to those who have the privilege of calling her friend, she is all that the word implies. "Glo" is also an excellent dancer and a social asset. After her sojourn at Central, Gloria intends to further her education at R. I. C. E.

Frolic, '31; Tennis, '32; Study Chairman, '32; Class Day Hostess, '33.

EDNA HOPE THOMAS

She looks quiet but never judge a book by its cover. Edna, with her cheery disposition and willingness to help others, has won many friends at Central. Her future is undecided, but we know she will succeed in whatever she attempts to do. Good luck, Edna.

Junior Basketball, '32.

JOHN H. THOMAS

Here's to a pal who needs no introduction. We would hate to imagine our friend without the smile he's always seen with. Although John is seldom seen outside of school with books, he never seems to worry about his studies. We wish our friend luck, though we know he'll succeed without it.

GORDON H. THORNLEY

Gordon is a well known member of our class. He has a reputation for being a good sport as well as a good scholar. This young man also has traits which truly characterize him as a gentleman. We firmly believe that success is inevitable to any possessor of such fine qualities.

Glee Club, '31; Leaders' Corps, '31-'32-'33.

EVELYN C. TIFT

Evelyn is one of the most popular girls of our class because she is so lovable, good-natured, and helpful. A more true friend cannot be found. A personality that is different has distinguished her in the rank of seniors. Whatever your future choice, Evelyn, may your path be strewn with four-leaf clovers.

Budget Collector; 2B Study Room Chairman; 3A Nominating Committee; Traffic Squad.

MARY TINNING

"May," "Tinney"

"The thing that goes the farthest
Towards making life worthwhile
That costs the least and does the most
Is just her pleasant smile.
So we offer a toast to your bright future.
May your path be full of roses
And your by-word be Success."

A sophisticated walk and charming personality introduces one of our most popular debutantes.

Junior Chamber of Commerce, '33; Traffic Squad, '34.

NICHOLAS JOHN TORTOLA

"Nick"

Here, gentle reader, you gaze upon the noble countenance of one of the best-liked members of our class. He is none other than "Nick." "Nick's" favorite subject is music, but his marks show he has done well in all his subjects. After graduation "Nick" will enter the music world, and with him go the wishes of the class.

Vocational Orchestra, '31-'32; Advanced Orchestra, '31-'32.

MYRL LESLIE TOTTEN

Myrl can be described as being energetic in his studies, unassuming in his manner, and possessing a cheerful personality. His ability to dance is unsurpassed. His accurate way of planning things and his clever ideas will help Myrl to succeed.

Track, '30; Cross-Country, '30-'32; Swimming, '31.

YAT K. TOW

"Murphy"

Who is this solemn-looking chap? Why, it's "Murphy." He is known throughout the school and is one of the most popular fellows in our class. He is known to both the teachers and pupils and is seldom seen without a group around him. He claims that his favorite subject is mathematics. He is rather undecided as to his future although he is thinking strongly of becoming a civil engineer. Au revoir, "Murphy."

HARRY RIVERS TOWNE, JR.

Harry is one of the many products of Broad Street Grammar School who have graced our portals. His sterling qualities and outstanding characteristics have won a place for him in our hall of fame. Although Harry is uncertain as to his future, his legion of friends wish him the best of luck.

EDITH A. TRABUCCO

Refinement, demure manner, sunny personality, and a charming smile, we have Edith. She is the possessor of a lovable nature and a true spirit of helpfulness. "Edie" hopes to enter the business world, and we know that in whatever she undertakes she will succeed. Here's luck, "Edie."

ELIZABETH WARNER TRACY

"Betty"

We now present one of our most entertaining young ladies. She appears to be quiet and dignified in her classrooms, but outside of class Betty is always ready for fun. She intends to enter Katherine Gibbs School next fall, and she leaves us with our best wishes for her success.

GENEVIEVE M. TRAINOR

"Gen"

Genevieve is one of our real blondes in the 4A Class. She is good-natured and always has a smile or witty remark for you. "Gen" intends to further her education at some higher institution of learning. Good luck, "Gen."

Traffic, '34; Thrift, '31; Budget Collector, '31-'32-'33; 3A Hostess.

HERBERT FREDERICK TUCKER

"Tuck"

Here we find "Tuck," a regular fellow of the class. He is well known for his jovial disposition and responsive smile. Of course we all like him. Why shouldn't we? Many a dull day has been brightened by "Tuck's" brilliant remarks. "Tuck's" future lies in the business world where we know that he will be a success.

EFFIE TUFTS

"Little Girl"

Look everybody! Here comes our "Little Girl"; the one with the winning smile and sparkling teeth. Here is a true friend and an excellent student. She is everybody's friend and nobody's enemy. She has great ambitions for the future, and a long journey is ahead of her. May she soon sail into the harbor of "Success."

French Club.

ROBERT TURNBULL

"Bubby," "Zub," "Westy"

Who is this dark-haired fellow, who goes striding about the corridors of Central with a merry grin, looking for fun? He is none other than one of the well known "Balooly" Editors of A202. "Bubby's" cheerful disposition has won him many friends at Central. In whatever he undertakes we are sure he'll succeed. Good luck, Pal!

CHARLES WINFIELD TURNER

"Charlie"

Introducing "Charlie," happy-go-lucky student of Central High. His pleasing personality makes him a popular member of his class. "Charlie" is planning to further his education at Rhode Island State College. Best of luck, "Charlie"; you are bound to succeed at whatever you attempt.

FRANCES E. UNDERWOOD

"Frankie"

If you see a girl with sparkling brown eyes and a sunny smile, you'll know it's our "Frankie." "Frankie" will brighten some man's office in the near future, we know. She has gained many friends during her stay at Central. May the best of luck go with you, "Frankie."

MARION DINSMORE UNDERWOOD

"Manny," "Kid"

It isn't hard to discover the "It" in this miss—PersonalITy, SocialITy, PopularITy, and Dancing AbilITy, with an inimitable happy-go-lucky nature. We have not been able to find any deep furrows in her brow caused by overstudying. Good luck to you, Marion.

Traffic Squad, '34.

SALVATORE P. VALENTINO

Behold our illustrious friend and fellow classmate, Salvatore. Salvatore is endowed with a scholarly disposition. He has been a consistent supporter of all our social and athletic functions. "Sart" is undecided as to his future, but we are positive that he will be successful in all his undertakings.

ETHEL VIRGINIA VANTA

"Skippy"

Who is that studious, cute little blonde who always makes it a point to be early at school? Why, it is none other than our "Skippy," whose one ambition is to go to California. We wonder if it is to Hollywood? But no matter where she goes, we know she will be a success. Good luck, "Skippy."

Budget Collector, '34; Swimming, '33; Bank Clerk.

DORIS L. VARLEY

"Dot"

Take a little bundle of sweetness, wrap it up in charm, tie with friendliness, and you've got our "Dot." "Dot's" pleasing personality and willingness to help have won her a host of friends while at Central. May your path through life be a bed of four-leaf clovers, Doris.

ANTOINETTE M. VARONE

"A clever miss so studious and neat, Charming and competent for all to meet."

Antoinette is a quiet, well-liked member of our class. She excels in all her studies, and is outstanding in all her classes. Her many pleasing qualities will assure her of a very successful future. Good luck!

CLINTON B. VAUGHAN

"Vaughny" is a blond-haired gentleman with a smiling countenance. A raft of friends have been made by him through his sportsmanship, assisting hands, and intelligent conversations plus witty remarks. "May you always look forward, Vaughan, never backward."

Glee Club, '31; Traffic Squad, '33.

GENNARO VELLONE

"Gene"

"Gene" is a good student and is well liked by all his teachers and classmates. He always has a cheerful word for a friend and is always willing to help. "Gene" is undecided as to his future, but we wish him the best of luck in whatever he undertakes.

JAMES JEROME VESELIK

"Jim"

This sedate classmate is none other than "Jim." He is ever ready with a smile and a witty remark, however, and possesses the sterling qualities of a good all-around fellow. We are sure he will succeed in whatever he undertakes in the future. Good luck, "Jim."

ESTHER LOLA VILLATICO

"She is so cute, she is so sweet,
This young lady is one big treat."

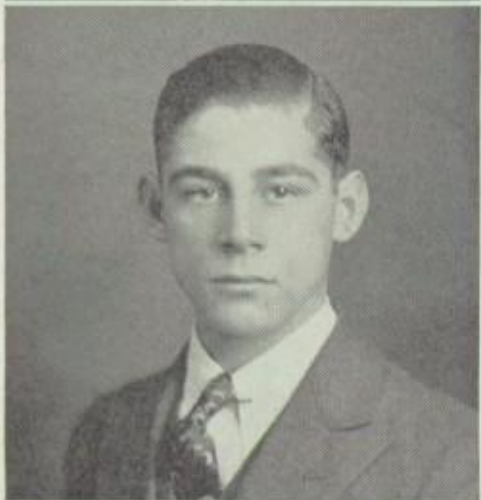

This describes our Esther, who is a charming member of our class. She possesses a magnetic personality, and her cheerfulness and willingness to help others will long be remembered. Best of luck to you, Esther.

Bank Collector, '32; Foreign Correspondence Club, '33.

CHARLES C. VIOLA
"Charlie"

"Charlie"—a sterling lad with a captivating personality—always has a ready smile for all, especially the opposite sex. His likable nature and willingness to help have made him many true friends among the faculty and his classmates. His plans, after he leaves Central, are undecided. We know that his fine characteristics will carry him far. Every good wish for the future, "Charlie."

NICOLA VITA
"Nick"

"Nick" is an ambitious and efficient fellow who came to Central from Bridgham in 1931. Although he is above the average in all his studies, he does not expect to attend college. We know he is capable of great achievements and will triumph in the battle of life.

Chess Club.

PHYLLIS ANGELA VOLLUCCI
"Phyl"

Brown eyes, curly hair, a vivacious personality, and you have "Phyl." She may be seen at any time of the day giving her pal "Phyl P." more dirt about the opposite sex. Her perseverance and thoroughness enabled her to maintain a high degree of excellence in her studies, and she will ultimately spell her success in the business world.

COSMO MICHAEL VOTOLATO

Cosmo is noted for his witty remarks and sunny disposition. He is always making the day sunny for someone by adding merriment to all situations. English would be dull without this big blond boy, for his questions concerning the life of that Great Man Burke are always provoking laughter. Success to you, pal. for you'll go far!

Football, '32; Track, '31.

RUTH LILLIAN MAY WALDRON

Lovely blonde hair and beauty so rare,
Belongs to this miss, so charming and fair,
She possesses style and clothes we all admire,
Her gracious manners are sure to inspire.
Her dancing, as you see, is admired by all who see;
Friendly and polite to all she may meet,
Ruth has personality galore, and is very sweet.

Budget Collector, '32-'33; Leaders' Corps, '32-'33; Tennis, '33.

DONALD JAMES WALLACE

"Don"

Of "The Noisy Trio," "Don," "Scotty," and "Freddie," "Don" is the silent partner. Though mischievous he is a good student. His favorite subject is Chemistry, in which he excels. He can usually be found performing well on the apparatus while in gym.

J. PAUL WALSH

"J. P."

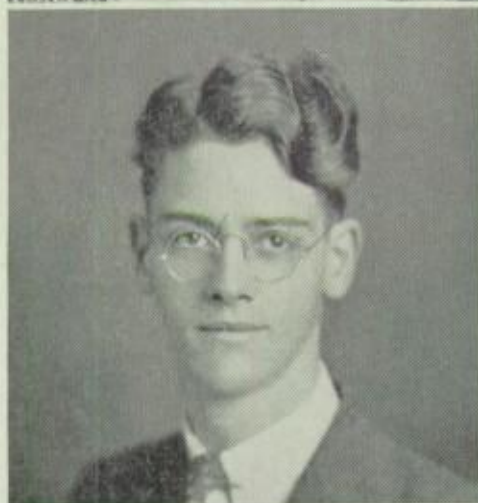

The elements are so mixed in him that one might stand up and say to all the world, "This is a man."

3A Class Play; Contest Play, '34.

MILDRED E. WALSH

Sparkling blue eyes and a cheerful smile helps describe our "Mil." Although "Mil" is one of the smallest members of our class, her size has in no way detracted from her popularity, as her host of friends can assure you. Best wishes, "Mil," and may your future be as bright and cheerful as your smile.

VINCENT CHARLES WATERFIELD

"A sterling lad, so neat and tall,
A personality that's liked by all."

Introducing "Vinny," a popular member of our class. He is one of the most sociable boys in the class and is a bright student as well. "Vinny's" favorite hobby is dancing—and can he dance! Au revoir, pal.

Budget Collector, '31-'33-'34; 4B Class Play; Traffic, '34.

KATHRYN H. WATHEY

To describe "Kay" is indeed an enjoyable task, for she possesses only the finest qualities. Her high degree of excellence and her gentle, refined manner have made her qualifications a goal for which to aim. An orchid to you, "Kay," for you deserve one.

Basketball, '32; Swimming, '32; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '34.

WALLACE W. WEEDEN

"Woody"

"Woody" is well known throughout the school. He is a bashful young man where girls are concerned, but has overcome this difficulty. Art, metal and music are his favorite subjects, and "Woody" will probably be found in some large orchestra in the future. We wish him the best of luck.

MOLLY WEINBERG

This fascinating brunette, so lovely and rare,
Has charm and talent that cannot compare.
A smile for all, a friendly word or two,
When she's around, one cannot be blue.
Molly has spent her school days most wise,
Her success we know will not be a surprise.

Thrift Council, '31-'33; Budget Collector, '32; David W. Hoyt Reading Club, '33-'34; Dramatic Society, '33-'34; Vice-President, '34; Traffic Squad, '34.

HUGH JAMES WELCH

A combination of curly hair, twinkling eyes, and a winning smile best describes our Hugh. His pleasant manner and good-natured disposition have made him well liked. We never see him worrying over his lessons, he just "ups and at em," and is prepared in class. Good luck, Hugh, and may you succeed in your life work.

LOUIS ALBERT WELLS

"Wellsy"

Although he has never studied excessively, "Wellsy" managed to complete the course in three and one-half years. He is deeply interested in aviation and knows his aeronautics from A to Z. This air-minded fellow has our heartiest wishes for a successful take-off and a happy landing.

Tech Science Club, '30-'31; Tech Aero Club, '31-'32.

NORMA EVELYN WENNBERG

"Success can only be attained by hard work."

Norma is a sweet, demure young lady who takes things very seriously, especially her studies; a hard worker whose personality has won her many friends. As a pal she cannot be surpassed; and as a nurse we are sure she will be most successful.

THOMAS WHITAKER

Introducing Thomas, who, during his four years at Central, has made many friends. He has been faithful in his work and we know he will attain his goal. Good luck, Thomas.

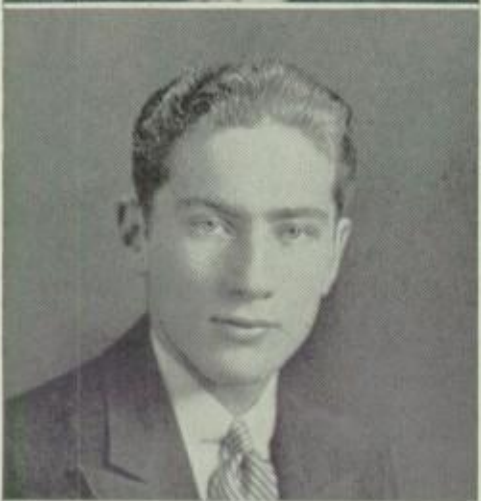

ALAN G. C. WHITE

"Al," "Jicky"

All of you have seen this lad walking about our corridors. The quick step, friendly smile, and ready willingness to help everyone—that is "Al." "Al" expects to enter State in the fall, and the good-will of the class will surely go with him for a happy and prosperous future.

Aero Club, '30-'31.

ARNOLD WHITE

"Arnie," "Wheat"

Step lively, folks, but don't crowd. All we want is to introduce "Arnie." He has won a host of friends with his ready smile and pleasing personality. "Arnie's" good disposition and willingness to work have been outstanding factors in the accomplishment of his studies, especially in the art department. He expects to further his study of art at the School of Design. Best of luck, "Arnie."

Home Room Representative, '31-'33; Alternate, '32; Junior Varsity Football, '32; Class Basketball, '31-'32; Outdoor Track, '31-'32; Indoor Track, '31-'32; Fencing, '32; Captain, '32.

FRANCIS WHITE

"Whitey"

"Whitey," with his good-natured smile, always seems to get along, both in school and out. His pleasing personality makes him a popular member of the class. Mechanical drawing holds his utmost interest, and we expect to hear of him as a successful designer in the near future.

DOROTHY MYRTLE WICKLUND

"Dot," "Wickie"

A flash of blue eyes—a suppressed giggle—a cheery hello, and you have our loving "Dot." "Dot" not only excels in her studies, but, oh boy! Can she dance! She can be seen strutting with her pals, Hazel and Billie, on the second mez. Kingston or Gibbs will rush "Wickie" after graduation.

Swimming, '32; Golf Team, '33-'34; Social Committee, 3A; Budget Collector, 3A; Home Room Alternate, 10A; Junior Chamber of Commerce, '34; Basketball, '32.

JOHN WILLIAM WIKE

He loves to tease and joke and jest,
But he's ever ready to help the rest.

Varsity Baseball, '32; Cross-Country, '30-'31-'32; Outdoor Track, '30-'31-'32; Indoor Track, '30-'31-'32; Glee Club, '32; All New England Chorus, '32.

ETHEL VERONICA WILBER

Her pretty red hair we all do envy;
This cute little miss who is so friendly.
Her lovely smile and winning ways,
Are indeed worthy of so much praise,
Knowing her we may never regret,
Her amiable personality we shall never forget.

Lots of luck, "Ett."

ISABELLE MAUDE WILKINSON

"Wilkie"

A dearer and truer friend could never be found than our Isabelle. She is always ready to lend a helping hand to all of her friends. Isabelle can be seen at any time with her inseparable pals, Helen and "Dot." We know that she will be a success in whatever she undertakes. Best wishes from the "Gang."

Hi-Tri, '33-'34; Swimming, '32-'33; 3A Class Day Hostess, '33; Frolic, '33.

LILLIAN WILLIAMS

This sweet little lady with the happy smile and expressive eyebrows is Central's dramatic star. She is very much interested in the stage, and will, no doubt, pursue the study of the drama after graduation. We feel sure of her success, and expect some day to see her name in lights. Our best wishes, Lillian.

WINIFRED MARY WILSON

"Winnie"

This tall, slim girl with laughing blue eyes and infectious smile is none other than our "Winnie." Her ready wit and willingness to help have won her a host of friends at Central. A lover of music and books, she also has a talent for writing. We know success will follow her.

Budget, '32; David W. Hoyt Reading Club, '33-'34; Personal, '34.

HAYVIS WOOLF

"Good morning, everyone!" Here again we present the speaker; the same that has vocally, via the school radio, urged you to be thrifty in order to be nifty at the Prom, and in order to keep the wolf from the door. He can be seen as well as heard, when, as "first speaker for the affirmative" he has led the forensic onslaught upon the debating teams of neighboring schools. Always busy, with a pleasant smile, he has made a large place for himself at Central, and, moreover, made it by helping rather than by overriding others.

Debating, '33-'34; Glee Club, '30-'31-'32-'33-'34; Thrift, '33-'34; Dramatic Club, '33-'34; Budget Collector, '34; 3A Class Day.

ISABELLE YAGHJIAN

"Billie"

"Billie," the brown-eyed lass from the wide open spaces of Seekonk, has won the admiration of our class by her sincerity of friendship with those with whom she came in contact during the last four years. She is endowed with that thing called "it," which means success in whatever she may undertake. Good luck, "Billie!"

Banking Representative, 10A, 11A; Student Chamber of Commerce, '33-'34.

EDITH HARRIET YOUNG

"Dede"

Now we introduce a charming and refined young lady, "Dede." Although "Dede" appears to be a quiet and retiring person, she is full of bright and sparkling wit. She is an example of the best friend a person could have, and because of her genuine personality has made many friends in two years at Central. Her chief hobbies are diving, golf, and tennis.

Tennis, 11B, 11A; Golf Team, 12B, 12A; Stamp Club, 12A; Junior Chamber of Commerce, 12B, 12A.

PETER ZACCHINO

"Pete," "Zach"

A most pleasing personality and disposition are only two of the many fine qualities that "Pete" possesses. Walking along the corridor you may have heard him hi-dee-hi-ing the hit tune of the week a-la-Crosby. With his comprehensive attitude toward life, along with his flashy white smile, "Pete" will never be beaten. Best of luck, "Pete."

HARRY ZAKARIAN

"Zac"

Who is this good-looking fellow whose countenance we are now gazing upon? Why, it is none other than "Zac," that tall boy with the curly hair. He can be seen any morning strolling down the corridors with his inseparable pal, "Arnie." "Zac" claims woodworking as his favorite subject, and expects to enter Fitchburg State College next fall. Best of luck, "Zac."

Home Room Alternate, '32.

ANNA J. ZAMBARANO

A combination of ingenuity, beauty and personality describe "Ann." Her psychological attitude towards life has aided her in conquering the obstacles she has so far encountered. "Ann" is considering entering Pembroke, but her desire to go to China with her diplomat uncle is greater. For, like all people of wisdom, "Ann" believes in furthering her education by traveling.

Thrift Council, '31; Chairman, '31-'32.

ROSE EVELYN ZANFAGNA

This dark, curly-haired, high-spirited maiden with flashing eyes is none other than our Rose. She is always sociable and she has a smile for everyone. We have all enjoyed our friendship with Rose through our stay at Central, and we shall miss her greatly. We predict a glorious future for Rose, and may the standard she has set in high school follow her in all her endeavors.

Band, '30-'31-'32-'33; Basketball, '32-'33-'34; Baseball, '32-'33-'34; Hockey, '31-'32-'33; Italian Club, '34.

DOMENIK J. ZEKOWSKI

"Dick"

Here he is! The quiet youth who came to us three years ago from George J. West Junior High. "Dick" has made a host of friends at Central. He claims Mathematics and Science are his favorite studies. "Dom" expects to enter the automotive field in the future.

ANTHONY R. ZINNO

"Ant"

Another student, whose talents are extraordinary, is going to leave us. His interest in the study of mechanics has led him to become a genius. Gentility, by all means, describes him accurately. Best of luck, "Ant."

JOHN A. ZINNO

The idiosyncrasy of our John is somewhat pleasing to both teachers and students. His refinement and personality is shown very conspicuously by the manner in which he presents himself. Unfortunately our friend will not attend college, but I assure you that good fortune will guide him in whichever field of occupation he enters.

MARIE ZOVIGIAN

Marie Zovigian is her name,
Here's the story of her fame:
A curly-haired miss as sweet as can be,
With pep, vim, vigor, and personality,
Witty and charming and so lovable, too,
Describes this young lady completely to you.

3A Class Day Committee; Swimming, '32; Senior Dramatic Society, '34; Budget Collector, '32; Study Chairman, '32.

Signs of Spring

By ELIZABETH RUSSO

I HAVE lived in the country for many years, and to me spring is a time of renascence, a time when nature receives a fresh start after a period of rest. In the country when there is no longer any snow the ground is hard but moist, the seeds that during the winter have been lying dormant in the earth exhibit themselves in delicate shoots. In early morning these shoots are very shiny and green with dew. It is also a familiar sight to see a queen bumble-bee on a large pussy-willow refreshing herself after a winter fast. A queen bumble-bee is one of the earliest signs, because she has much to do in very little time.

March twentieth is usually followed by rain, then the sun comes out and warms the air. On looking around, one sees that the buds on the maples are swelling visibly, and, if one examines carefully the wet earth beneath this tree, one may find tiny, reddish spear-points of a trout-lily. This wild flower is a real spring beauty.

April, with its gentle rain, brings May flowers. One finds oneself looking for a wild flower display of blue phlox, golden-faced buttercups, and arrow-leaved violets. The migratory birds which were wintering in the south return to build their new homes.

Spring is emphatically a time for young things—seedings, buds, nestlings, and in many places a small white lamb.

Heroes Shall Rest

By CHEN KIM-SHUNG

Twine laurels to lay o'er the humble graves,
The true ones, the great ones, and the braves;

Spread wreaths where the heroes rest,
They have done their country's best.
Heroes shall rest.

North and South are united.
The brave souls of the heroes are floated
Peacefully to the Heavenly stand.
At God's strong, mighty hand
Heroes shall rest.

The flag at half-mast upon Memorial Day;
Heroes know not the garland and gifts of May,

The music of the roaring drums,
The silver voices of heroic bugles.
Heroes shall rest.

Cover the dust of the dead with flowers.
Once they were neighbors, friends and lovers.

I see the pallor of women
And the flushed faces of men.
Heroes shall rest.

No more war, no more fighting,
No more sorrow, no more parting.
Their patriotic spirits are written on high,
And their deeds shall never die.
Heroes shall rest.

What Will Our Graduates Do?

By FLORENCE LAYFIELD

WHAT is to become of the students who will graduate this year, and next year, and the year after? What is there for them to do? Of course some will find jobs at low salaries, but what about the other unfortunates? What a pity that they should work hard and build up false hopes, only to find that they are not wanted! They realize that there are too many who are just as good as, if not better, in a certain type of work than they are. It doesn't seem fair that they should meet with discouragement on all sides. What a shame that all their work and study has been in vain! Today our graduates must face a world of unemployment. They must, then, have something else besides efficiency and ability to obtain positions and then keep them. They must develop their individual personalities, and learn to put the best foot forward with enthusiasm and optimism unclouded. They must start out courageously, confident that the job rightfully belongs to them and that they are perfectly capable of filling it and will ultimately succeed in the end. Confidence will win. What will our graduates do and what will be their attitude toward such a world?

Yawning

By ELEANOR HOWARD

IS the boy or girl sitting opposite you in your homeroom immune from yawning in the period between 8:00 and 8:20? If he is, then by all means try to make him your friend because evidently he is the type of person who fulfills all student obligations and retires early. His program is a splendid one, consisting of simple health habits which are in harmonious accord with his being. That boy or girl so inclined is wise, for he has trained his mental and physical faculties to obey him. As they are useful, so is he; as they progress, so does he. There is no time for "yawning" in his vital, young life.

Then, there is the mediocre student who yawns excessively during that period while he crams in some work which, because of the pleasures of the night before, he has completely forgotten. He has a tendency to reform his few good habits spasmodically, and is always leaving tasks undone until the last minute. Sad to say, he is frequently excluded from interesting activities because he is often late and unreliable.

This boy or girl is in a bad way. When the 31's and 32's start accumulating he will find himself "yawning" in the pursuit of his career. Yawning is the result of drowsiness, and drowsiness will lead to disaster. We are so young, the world is so full! Let us resolve not to find ourselves "yawning" in the midst of all its chaos and serenity.

How Did You Win Your Diploma?

By VERA MAE CHAMBERLAIN

ONE morning someone suggested that a group climb a certain mountain. Preparations for the trip were made and all were happily awaiting the send-off. There was one girl in the party, however, who had failed to wear the correct type of shoe, thus preventing her from following the trail with the group. Her desire to go was so strong that the party suggested she go up by train. Before the peak was reached she found herself lonesome and irritated. The journey was neither cheerful nor restful because the speed of the train prevented her from viewing the scenery and enjoying to the fullest extent the beauties of the out-of-doors. Her arrival was also unhappy, for she found the group had reached the peak much earlier in the day and were now getting ready to leave.

The thought occurred to me that this incident is much like the course through high school. Upon entering high school one starts on a climb to the graduation peak. Many students, as the girl did, come unprepared for the tasks assigned. They must leave their classmates and travel a solitary and tiresome journey. When the end of the senior term draws near, they find themselves obliged to work day and night to make up for their rest periods in school. As their goal draws near they discover that they are much behind the others. On account of their "easy come, easy go" attitude during the course they have missed much fun which the others enjoyed as well as the results they achieved.

Let us, the graduates of June, 1934, stop to consider how we have earned our diplomas. To the future graduates let us say, "It is better to lose and know you've tried, than to win by some trick unfair," and if you follow this motto you cannot help but succeed.

Our Future

By RITA McNULTY

THE moment that, in an auditorium crowded to capacity with parents, relatives and friends, we are presented diplomas bearing the seal of Central High School, our reign as the Senior Class of Central will be at an end. It acclaims the fact that we, as graduates, are well equipped to embark upon the furtherance of our education, or to take our place in the field of business.

We will no longer be considered members of this great educational institution which, officially established in September, 1933, has, in a comparatively short time, come to be recognized as the largest and the finest high school in New England. This is a fact which is in no small measure due to the whole-hearted and valiant efforts of our friend, adviser and principal, Dr. T. Franklin Walsh.

Naturally, time and circumstances will join forces in separating our paths of achievement, each and every one of which, we trust, will lead to the object of our aspirations—success. Fortunately, however, the newly organized Central High School Alumni Association, to which we, as graduates of Central, automatically become members, will serve as a medium of bringing us, from time to time, into close contact with the teachers, classmates and friends with whom we are now associated.

As the first June class of Central High, we will, in the future, together with the class of January, 1934, be considered the founders of the Central High School Alumni Association. Therefore, it is our responsibility to co-operate to the fullest extent possible, by attendance at the annual meeting of the organization. The first will take place immediately after our graduation. We must help in establishing this association as a significant influence in the advancement and utility of Central High School, in the perpetuation of the schools from which Central High School descended, namely, the Providence High School, English High School, Technical High School and Commercial High School, and in the institution of a friendly relationship among the past, present and future graduates of Central, who are, or will be, members of the Central High School Alumni Association.

I Don't Like Tabloids

By ELEANOR HOWARD

(Awarded girls' prize in Anthony Medal Contest)

EXTRA! EXTRA! The cry of a filthy newsboy penetrates the ears of a million of New York pedestrians. They respond to the call.

Oh yes, the convenient tabloid with its dominating headlines is up very early in the morning doing its dirty work. It pushes itself to the very underworld of the city. Unceasingly it "plays to the gallery," influencing an ignorant majority who call themselves civilized people. A civilized nation wouldn't allow such rot, they would crush the very existence of anything that resembled a tabloid!

Among the various responsibilities that will fall to the future generation will be the banishment of the tabloid. The reasons for such action is evident. Tabloids are cheap publications in motive and material. Anything quite as unstable cannot hope to live. The very pith of its resources cannot nourish it; instead of progress, it will be defeat. It is a paper without a reputation in quite as tragic a predicament as a man without a country. This type of newspaper isn't entitled to its own honest opinion because politicians swarm all around it like mad revolutionists.

If you were before the public eye, your character and position subjected to open criticism, the little tabloid which you may have supported faithfully every day of your maturity would be the first one to condemn you because you would be in the "news." News means money. It wouldn't eulogize on your good points, just your bad ones, their human interest. Ruthlessly it would drag you into the gutter, not caring whether you stayed there; it would be too busy on a new campaign!

The young journalist has a splendid opportunity to do a bit of pioneering. He can leave to future generations the assurance of good newspaper service, endeavoring to promote the popularity of such vital examples as the New York Times or the Transcript. The newspaper world needs complete reformation. Its vast cupboards must be cleansed of the scurvy tabloid.

This amusing, original thought fits harmoniously into the discussion. An instructor once said in condemnation of the tabloid that if the United States by some almighty power were to crumple into a hopeless mass and remain so until excavation hundreds of years later;—how do you suppose she would like her progress to be judged by a shoddy tabloid that would inevitably turn up!

Japan and Asiatics — A Menace to Western Civilization?

By JAMES M. MILLARD, JR.

(Awarded boys' prize in Anthony Medal Contest)

APPROXIMATELY 100 years ago little was known about the Far East. In the comparatively few years that have elapsed since Perry pried open Japan, the East has awakened and has rapidly become Westernized. The self-contained countries of China and Japan have made great strides forward. Japan even more so than China. Since this essay deals with the question of whether or not Japan and the Asiatics are a menace to the West, we will not speak of China as much as of Japan. For it can easily be seen that China, in spite of its progress, is in a weakened as well as dismembered condition, and is in no way conceivable a possible threat to the West. The chief cause for worry is Japan.

There are two very potent factors which make Japan a menace to the West. Japan is jeopardizing the commercial prosperity and the national security of the West, especially the United States. Before a restriction was placed upon Japanese immigration into the United States, Japanese were pouring into this country by the thousands. Why were they stopped from entering the United States? The answer is that they do not make good American citizens. Japanese do not intend to become Americanized, but to go back to Japan in their old age. In America they live in small communities of their own and do not mingle with other races. If Japanese were allowed to continue to enter the United States, there would soon be a country within a country here. But the main reason above all others why Japanese are barred is because they will work for wages which do not allow an American standard of living. So much for Japanese in America.

Let us now consider Japan as a nation jeopardizing the trade of the West. Japan needs many things which she has to buy from the West. Among these are cotton and oil which she gets from the U. S. In return the U. S. buys a large part of Japan's silk output. If we could just sell Japan cotton and oil and buy silk all would be well. But in addition this country is being flooded with cheap imitations of its own products. This is brought about by a combination of cheap labor and the depreciated yen. This condition exists all over the world. The Japanese are driving the markets away from the West. Another instance of this is in India. There the Japanese are selling cotton cloth made from American cotton cheaper than the great mills of England can produce it. Such is the havoc that Japan is reeking in the trade of the West.

Now let us consider other ways in which Japan is a menace to the West. The question keeps popping up of whether or not the U. S. and Japan will go to war shortly. Japan is certainly preparing for war. Her navy is built up to treaty limits and her army is well disciplined and equipped. In addition to her regular navy Japan has a large fishing fleet totaling over 1,000,000 tons which could be converted for war use. The Japanese are in much the same position as Germany was in 1914. They want to expand. They also have imperialistic motives as can be seen by their recent conquest of Manchuria. Besides, there is some ill feeling between the U. S. and Japan. If a war came it certainly would not be an easy war for the U. S. The Japanese are fatalists and go into battle prepared to die. The American youth regard life too precious to want to die in battle. Even with all this talk of war I do not believe Japan and the United States will go to war immediately. The trade relations between the two countries are too valuable to lose. Japan is still afraid of the U. S. and is too busy in Manchuria to go to war right away. She also has her troubles with her communistic neighbor Russia over the Chinese Eastern Railway, the fisheries between the two countries, and other things.

As protection of the commerce of the world the West could place an economic boycott on Japan. To provide for defense against Japanese ambitions, the West can maintain large navies. The situation is not impossible to handle. If I were asked if I thought Japan a menace to the West I would say it was, but I do not think this menace will come to a head in the near future.

The Magic of the Essay

By LILA M. WILLIAMS

AN essay is an adventure. Why? There are so many different types of this kind of literary endeavor that within a slim volume one can experience many emotions and step into a world of make-believe with its magical release.

"On Buying Books"—Charles Brooks.

"Pippins and Cheese"—Charles Brooks.

Charles Brooks, in an unassuming fashion, professes a great love of books. Very often he visits new places and, while duty many times compels him to inspect the famous spots in a city, town or village, whenever he is able he shirks this task and spends his time hunting for bookshops.

The author of this essay likes old, dusty bookshops where one may amble about at his will. One gathers that Brooks has visited many such shops from his vivid descriptions. He goes into great detail describing one old shop in Bath, England. Its winding passages and dusty shelves become real to the reader.

"Any Stick Will Do to Beat a Dog"—

Charles Brooks.

"Pippins and Cheese"—Charles Brooks.

This short tirade is a continual chuckle. It is a complaint against dogs who follow timid persons about and makes their lives miserable. If one has any imagination the situations, as written, are very amusing.

Brooks rather likes old, toothless, lazy dogs who sleep all day, but young, frisky pups terrorize him. He insists a dog's tail is a sign of character—the longer the tail the better the dog.

The author describes a visit to a town in Quebec where everyone, it seems, owns a dog. Each dog sniffs at you, examines you, and passes you on to the next mongrel. Brooks' visit was, needless to say, a very short and unpleasant one.

The last few paragraphs are dedicated to the veterinarian. Such a man, says Brooks, is a hero of the highest type and a man of great courage. The very last sentence of the essay reads, "Let Sleeping Dogs Lie."

"To an Unknown Reader"—Charles Brooks.

"Pippins and Cheese"—Charles Brooks.

Mr. Brooks dreams of a person reading one of his books, becoming very interested in it, and praising the author very highly. He remarks that if pie brings such dreams he will eat more of it. In a waking state Brooks fears people read his books in secrecy. He knows of one lady who always gets his volumes out and dusts them off before he visits her.

The author relates how one day he found one of his books in a public library. It had been taken out once, much to his delight. While looking at the book he fervently wishes that the persons who had taken it out had been marooned in some lonely cabin one rainy week-end and forced to read it.

Brooks rather leaves the main thought of the essay to state that writing is an obsession with him, but confesses that many times it is hard for him to put his thoughts down on paper. He does, however, urge everyone with a flare toward letters to keep on writing; says that nature can always be substituted for villainous plots.

"Little Candles"—Charles Brooks.

"Hints to Pilgrims."

A disgruntled Brooks maintains that conceit has grown. Once, he sadly moans, modesty was a virtue, and patience, diligence, charity and humility in practical use. He rather cynically states that one who is charitable now is a sop, humility shows weakness, and diligence is despised. Ignorance now sits in a high seat. Little candles are people who are too busy to practice any of the virtues. Charles Brooks is indeed a versatile essayist. He can be both serious and gay, intellectual and common, comical and tragic. His humor is keen and effective. He is a master in constructing sentences of charm and meaning. Brooks is worthy of study.

"English Woods: A Contrast"—

John Burroughs.

"Birds and Bees, Etc."—John Burroughs.

John Burroughs, a man with a deep insight into nature, says that England's pastoral beauty cannot be overpraised. "When one sees England, one sees the uniform in nature." The author thinks the lawns in England could cover empires. England's nature is domestic and human. Everyone has his garden. Nature seems to have grown up like a man and taken on his ways.

The contrast part of the essay comes in Burroughs' discussion of America as to nature. He thinks it more beautiful in a wild, aboriginal way. The essay glowingly describes lichen-covered rocks, sturdy mountains, and dense green forests.

Burroughs, although a keen observer of nature, does not seem to be able to put his deeper feelings down on paper. He enumerates very often and is likely to become monotonous. His sentence structure is very plain and much the same throughout the essay. Burroughs is not a passionate lover of nature, rather he is quiet and calm in his respect.

"On Abraham Lincoln"—G. K. Chesterton.

"Come to Think of It"—G. K. Chesterton.

Chesterton says, "Lincoln emerged from a lower grade of law and politics through an atmosphere in which low tricks were regarded as the only tricks. Not only his hat and umbrella were shabby." The author points out that people who hold Lincoln up as sober, punctual and proper are wrong. Lincoln himself said, "Habitual drunkards compare favorably with most other people of my acquaintance." Then, too, Lincoln was late at his own wedding, and as Chesterton says, "Made a mess of his domestic affairs." In conclusion the author says, "Lincoln was a failure who happened to succeed." He accounts for his success in the following statement: "He, Lincoln, had a habit of thinking and really knew what he thought about politics."

Chesterton in this essay is trying to show that Lincoln was only human. Whenever I think of Lincoln, I remember the effect he had, and still has, on people. I do not think Lincoln's domestic affairs should enter into his public life. I wonder if Chesterton does not have the English viewpoint of an American hero?

"On the Romance of Childhood"—

G. K. Chesterton.

"All Is Grist"—G. K. Chesterton.

Chesterton tells how little incidents impressed him more when he was very young than the more important events. He mentions looking through a pin hole at a crystal and seeing changing colors. This, he said, he thought more startling than the fact that the world was much larger than his beloved England. To Chesterton a child's imagination is a beautiful thing.

"Legends"—Joseph Conrad.

"Last Essays"—Joseph Conrad.

Conrad says, "To watch the growth of a legend is a sad occupation." He states that legends are so likely to be false and unduly critical. Those for whom a legend is meant would often find it a failure.

The author admonishes legend builders by saying, "Legends do not have to be literally true, but they ought to be credible."

Conrad's essays are inclined to be serious. He tells more fact than fancy.

"Folks That Rile Us"—Robert Holliday.

"Broom Street Straws"—Robert Holliday.

Holliday just enumerates the things that rile him. For instance, people who spring out of subways before him, people who stop on sidewalks to gape at something, people who snatch vacant seats in subways, people who take their time about everything, and last, but not least, people who make him wait for a table in a restaurant. One gathers from the essay that Holliday is rather a nervous, energetic soul. He becomes indignant to the point of being laughable.

"Eventide"—H. W. Mabie.

"Under the Trees"—H. W. Mabie.

Mabie thinks men are nearer to nature at eventide. They have finished their work for the day, cast aside their worries, and their minds are now open to other things. When peace comes men become reverent and petty ambitions give way to a larger life. In meditation one communes with the eternal.

Mabie is an artist in creating atmosphere. His quiet eventide is real to the reader. The reverence of nature is made beautiful. He has studied nature intimately and has been rewarded in no little measure. His sentences are almost musical in their beauty. One can re-read his essays like well loved poems, each time getting more out of them.

Social Patter

By OLIVE OLNEY

WELL, well, and ditto. June again! And from our House of Knowledge is graduating another class. Here's my personal wish to every one of them for the best of luck (and do they need it!). But don't be skeered, you graduates. If you don't get a job, just figure that a coupla thousand more seekers of sustenance (my, my!) are crowding your corns, so don't you worry. Take a "P.G."

Did you ever get a peek at "The Spotlight," the dinky Hi-Tri paper? It's pretty nifty, if I do so comment. Helen Weston, cute little red-headed "P.G." who sometimes wrestles with the office switch-board, was editor, and I was more or less her assistant. Miss Helen McCarthy, who as you well know directs "The Centralite," is faculty advisor for "The Spotlight," and she fully deserves the highest praise for her work on the paper.

Some time ago I thought of a new version of a well-known song. Since then I have been singing in my elegant but squeaky voice, "Did you ever walk a sea dreaming?" And no one but me got any kick out of it. Oh, well.

Black and Gold Nite at Rhodes was perfectly swell, now wasn't it? Queer things happen at dances, tho. I heard a silly one about a cute li'l boy who went to "Black and Gold Nite." He was quite perturbed because he couldn't get anyone but Jack Losee to listen to his joke about Mae Brown and Joe West. Tsk, tsk! No justice. (P.S.: The initials are J. C.)

Heavens to Betsy! The Brown Freshmen (yoo-hoo, Millie Pomp!) do things we'd never get away with. We may be gay around school, but when it comes to staging midnight parades around town—example, the night of May 14—Brown takes the cake, pies and cookies, too. Wish I'd been there to see the cops "take 'em home (150 of 'em) and tuck 'em in bed." Sissies! Sissies!

Friday, May 25—"Y. W." Spring Hop at Ochee Springs. The affair, which was in charge of the Hi-Tri Alumnae Club, was formal for girls. Mr. Manchester was guest of honor. Central was well represented. The Ochee Springs Orchestra provided excellent dance music. The affair was a huge success.

The David W. Hoyt Reading Club has had interesting meetings this semester. At each meeting the members read books by prominent authors and discussed them.

May 17—12B class day. A ducky affair all around. The play was very good, as were the songs.

June 1—seventh annual Tech Alumnae Dance at Rhodes. People have always flocked to Tech Night dances, and this year was no exception. The crowd was large and peppy. The orchestra, which is always good, outdid itself to make Tech Night a complete success.

Heard Mr. Eckberg's String Ensemble in the auditorium the other day. You shoulda heard them playing "Play to Me, Gypsy." Oh boy, oh boy,—etc. They're "snoozy."

Doris Gordon and Irene Dolan discovered a new racket in Central. Bob Asher is responsible. He stands outside a certain basement room, while his pal, who to all appearances has a class in the room, draws pictures and holds them up for Bob to see. F'goodness sake, Bob! Well, it doesn't take much to amuse some people.

May 16—the 11B class had what might be called a class day. (I'm not being sarcastic.) The 11A class play, "Rich or Poor," was repeated for the entertainment of the 11B's, and then, to finish things up in correct style, the whole 11B class was dismissed for the day by Dr. Walsh. Ah, me, the luck of some people!

I like the piece the band's been playing lately. I don't know the name of it, but I like it all the same. Got to hand it to Mr. Carpenter. He certainly looks swell in his new uniform. So do all the boys and girls, for that matter. Just see what I've missed by not joining the band. You couldn't use an expert phonograph winder, could you, Mr. Carpenter?

Well, I can't think of anything more disinteresting to leave you with than the fact that school closes June 22. Please try to remember that there will be no school June 23.

Well—'bye now. Don't forget to skip all the puddles you see.

Scoops

SUGGESTED nickname for Debater Holland—"Sliding Johnnie." After the evening performance of the "Centralite Varieties," Johnnie was trying to catch the Broad Street car because Helen was therein. The car stopped, a woman got off, and then Johnnie went into his "slide"—which resulted in the spreading of both all over Broad Street. What a night! And all for the love of a lady. • • •

How is it that two seniors in the third period civics class have been attending all the 11A class assemblies—and then broke a record by having Mr. Stannard (no less) escort them into the 11A class assembly. The Ponderer

By ANTOINETTE VARONE

I've tried my best to write a rhyme
That may be worth the while
But neither has it rhythm nor time
Nor wit to make you smile.

I've tried to write of the birds first
And of flowers, grass or trees
Or of nature's lovely beauty burst
In gloom, sun, wind or breeze.

Of the glow of the southern sunset
Or lapping waves of the seas
Of steep hills or high mountain tops
But I couldn't write of all these.

I gave up hope of finding fun
So I put away ink and pen
And left the work to go undone
Until I could think clear again.

SENIOR SCRAP

Calendar—Class of June, 1934

By RUTH CLAIRE TANENBAUM

FEBRUARY

1. Ship ahoy and other foreign greetings! We're Seniors now but we don't feel any different.

2. First, we fill out program cards; secondly, we fill out more program cards; and then more program cards. How terribly exciting!

5. We're introduced to our teachers and subjects.

6. Traffic "cops" on their beats. My, what an attractive squad.

7. We recommend Harry Fain to the debating society. He's always ready to argue with you on psychology or what have you. By the by, he is one of the debating stars.

8. Old class officers out campaigning, so to speak.

9. Election of class officers today. What a cold day, about 17 below zero, and hundreds of frozen ears reported.

12. "The Centralite" gives its first week-by-week Monday morning radio program.

13. Rose Silverman and "Mickey" Sharp are dubbed dangerous characters by Mr. Chase.

14. Traffic "cops" get "snozzie" black and gold arm-bands. Do they stand out in the corridors! Must be depression, 'cause we find very few Valentines.

15. Miss Harley finds a Valentine in her box addressed to "Chick" Stewart, only a day late, so what?

16. Sixty seconds makes a minute—60 minutes makes an hour—60 hours (seems t'us) makes a school day. 'Nother week of these has just passed.

19. Another Monday—a week-by-week broadcast. Nothing else new.

20. A Senior innocently inquired today, "What does P. G. mean?" Answer was, "It means that he couldn't get a job."

21. Today we heard the results of the election of officers. Same elected all but the treasurer. Bob Parrish is the fortunate successor. Johnny Marvin has some of our talented singers with him; among those were "Chickie" Stewart and Doris Gordon.

22. Psychology teachers tell some of us that every human being has a brain. Some of them are brand new—having never been used.

23. Just another week of school over.

26. A terribly heated argument about Personals. Everyone will be throwing bouquets (and bricks) at each other, just to get them right back.

27. We find "Chickie" Stewart's name appearing again. This time it is for the Social Committee. "Chick" is the new chairman. The rest of the committee have also passed approval it seems.

28. Class meeting. Yes, and we got the low-down on all the money to pay out.

MARCH

1. We find a number of the young ladies practicing how to pose for their pictures.

2. Male seniors feel they want to be heroes after seeing "The Raising of the Submarine S-51." Lectured by Mr. Plumber.

5. This morning Mr. Lovell asked what laughing gas was composed of. Al Kreamer answers, "Two giggles and a ha ha!"

6. "Centralite" makes its appearance for the first time this season and goes over with a gigantic bang!

7. More about personals, proofs, and budget.

8. Hunger, psychology informs us, is an instinct. That solves the problem of the wild rushes to the lunch room about the third and fourth periods.

9. Another perfect week has passed away. Deficiencies passed out today. Many a student shed a tear, and many a student refused a chair. Ketch?

12. Some more broadcasts, and they sure are growing better. A few signs of spring: Snow on the ground, temperature below zero, etc.

13. The heroes are given a reception; no, not a banquet, though we'd like to give them one. They appreciated all the school could do. Swimming honors awarded to Matt Chrostowski, Johnny Higgins and Ray La Combe. Also, another honor that was bestowed upon Central was the "Centralite" being placed fourth in the convention. Congratulations, "Centralite"!

26. Seniors continue to display their photographed physiognomies.

27. Marshall Dauer shows up today with knickers, white shoes and spats.

28. Rain and more rain. Half the school shows up.

29. The other half shows up today. Success.

30. Heard the returns of the popularity contest. Three cheers! But why stop at three?

APRIL

2. Woe is us! All Fools' Day didn't come on a school day. Some absent-minded Seniors were seen pinning "kick me" signs on each other.

3. More "sign ups" and "tryouts" for the Senior Play. Viola Russo suddenly breaks into song. We wonder who, and what, and why?

4. Today we again vote on popularity contests concerning the entire school. 12A and 12B students write for Anthony Medal.

5. Returns:

Ray La Combe Most popular boy
Kathleen Hughes Most popular girl
Bob Parrish Most Handsome
Mary Kelley Most beautiful etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., and far, far into the night.

6. Hurray! Mid-term vacation — what luck! S'long.

16. Whee! what a recess! Everybody says that he's ready for—another vacation.

17. "Centralite" plans show. We Seniors have flat pocketbooks. Personals and pictures and budget all paid for.

18. Marie Zorigian tells us that looking at the "funnies" is a sign of regression—or return to the infantile.

19. The Glee Clubs entertain tonight at Gilbert Stuart Junior High for Junior Music Week.

20. Heap big day! Reports passed out and we don't know whether to laugh or cry. Tonight is also the "Centralite Varieties."

23. Monday again. Oh, well, the first 300 Mondays are the hardest!

24. We are now all convinced that our class really is rather good-looking after seeing the pictures.

25. "Dot" Parker was found star-gazing in Mr. Chase's English class and Mr. Chase said—well, why stir up disturbing memories?

26. A group of buzzing bees were trying to decipher a note written in shorthand. The decipherers naturally didn't know shorthand so they tried to read it upside down. Some dunces!

27. Boys seen without ties and with collars open. Dame Nature spills a hot one.

30. Class Meeting — "no monee — no bookee."

MAY

1. 11A Class Day. Congratulations! After us, you come next to the 12B students.

2. Spring is really here, so Miss Dahlgren thinks. She had her English class writing poetry. Ellen Forslund and George Bishop sure have it in them.

3. Senior stars still rehearsing for the Senior Play.

4. Rained today. Joseph Certo weeps 'cause he lost his raincoat last summer.

7. Females had assembly. No males or what else allowed.

8. Donald Taylor is at last a hero. Today, in a fierce hand-to-hand encounter, he killed a FLY!

9. George Bishop humors the journalism class (as per usual) with songs and poetry. Boy, has he the springtime spirit!

10. Gloria Tereshkow beats the rest of the class in completing an experiment in chemistry. Girls always were better cooks, even aluminum compounds.

11. Today is one happily greeted by everyone 'cause it's Friday. Be not too happy, my dears; in two days ye shall be returning to the same ol' grind. See you at the BLACK AND GOLD dance tonight.

14. 'Nother broadcast this morning. By the way, didn't we all have a "ducky" time at the dance Friday evening? We now have a pretty good idea who is taking who to the prom.

15. Mr. Jones' English class was disturbed by a strange sound from the rear of the room today. Cause: Successful Senior Serenely Snoring. Effect: Severe Scolding.

16. Mr. Chase's English class peacefully dozes off today as he endeavors to read the play of Elizabeth Barrett.

17. "Centralite Varieties" plan to put on the show at Howard very soon. We really hope that they behave accordingly, 'cause we never know how they strike the attendants.

18. Mr. Lyons asked Rose Silverman a question. Rose absent-mindedly answered, "Yes, dear."

21. Mr. Chase very, very much upset today. Frances Smith caused this condition by greeting him with "Good morning, teacher."

22. Miss Kendrick smelled something "dead" today. (Wonder what it is?)

23. Search ended. Miss Kendrick found a dead rat behind the bookcase. What a sleuth!

24. Just 'nother Thursday.

25. Another rest. "Fliday Comee 'Gai-nee." (Quoting Confucius.)

28. Mr. Chase asks for something new and different on this lovely warm morning. Marie Zorigian pipes up and asks, "Shall I do my Carioca dance for you?" (Oh, Marie!)

29. Loads of students starting to withdraw their precious earning or rather savings from the bank. Senior Play Night.

30. A teacher asked Arnold White what a ground hog is. Arnold answered, "Ma'am, it's sausage."

31. Senior Play tonight, also. Boy, was it a success! "Dave" and Arlene certainly acted natural—as if it would be hard for them to act up to each other.

JUNE

1. Woe is us; woe, woe is us! Today is Judgment Day. We find out whether or not we follow the crowd to graduation.

4. Mr. Chase warns we traffic "cops" today that the clock is one minute fast, also adding that we have one more minute with Brother Chase. How he hates to see us depart!

5. We are still discussing the oncoming "prom." We wonder whether there will be a Paul Jones. Yes, Paul will be there (Walsh) but we're not so sure about Jones.

6. The swimming team got lost the other day on a farm while going to a meet. Ray La Combe went up to the farmhouse and asked for something to eat. The lady asked, "Are you willing to work for your food?" Ray replied, "Listen, lady, I'm just plain hungry—not destitute."

7. Ruth Gilford, who continuously has a new style coiffure, has changed again. Keep it up, Ruth, you'll get the record yet—if there ever was a record.

8. Ruth Waldron was heard saying, "I just love checkered suits." Today all the males came to school wearing such vivid checks that they could be heard from one corridor to the other.

11. "Be Kind to Dumb Animals Day." Male Seniors wear "puppy blankets," boys! at this time of the year!

12. In this corner we have one group of gossipers. Subject: "Who are you taking to the Prom?" In this other corner we find just another group of gossipers. Subject: "Who are you taking to the Prom?"

13. Class Day—Senior Day—so what? Aren't we a "snozzie" looking class in our pastel shades and flannels?

14. Just another rehearsal. Senior Traffic Cops "honorably discharged."

15. The night of our Prom. We are finishing one of the chapters of our lives at Central High School.

A Typical College Day

By DORIS MCGOWAN

A LA CINEMA

OUR hero is awakened by the shrill of the alarm clock. He gazes at it in disgust, turns over and sleeps on.

At 10:30 he arises. Then he goes to a vast closet and makes a selection from sixteen suits.

Off he goes to his first class, where he slinks into a chair which is surrounded by a bevy of scintillating co-eds.

After an hour's sleep, he goes to his garage and, selecting his Packard, drives to a tea-dance at a neighboring women's college.

At ten minutes to three he dashes off to the football field, arriving half way through the third quarter. He rapidly changes into togs, and is sent into the game in time to make the winning touchdown. Cheers ring out vociferously. He is carried off the field in the arms of an admiring throng.

After dining at his fraternity, he dons evening clothes and starts for the Junior Prom. During the course of the evening he meets a vision of golden loveliness (peroxide). After a whirlwind courtship they rush to the Justice of the Peace. And so to bed.

A LA HORATIO ALGER, JR.

As the dawn creeps up on the city, our hero is seen adjusting his tie in front of a cracked mirror. "Ah," quoth he, "I must away to the office."

Mounting his trusty bicycle, he hies to the office of the "Daily Clarion." There he works feverishly, setting the type for the first edition.

At seven forty-five he peddles frantically for the Biology Lab. After three hours of research he has proved the Mendelian Theory.

Our hero is very much abashed as he slips away from the admirers and goes to the office. The boss arrives soon after and compliments him on the excellence of his work. His pay will be five dollars instead of four seventy-five weekly.

At six o'clock he wends his way to his dingy home, where he cooks a meagre meal over the gas range. Studies occupy his mind from seven to eleven-thirty.

In our next vision of him, he has fallen asleep over his Math.

AS IS

The alarm clock buzzes at seven-thirty. Three students moan, and three shoes strike the clock. After a breakfast of doughnuts and coffee, our subject goes to classes from eight to twelve. He dines, then takes in a football game. His home school loses thirty-three to nothing. (Our subject does not play.)

Embarking in his 1914 Model-T Ford, suitably labeled, he drives back to the dorm, having three flat tires en route.

Three summons are awaiting the lad as he reaches the room (as well as several bills.) Drawing one at random he opens it (burning the rest of them).

After a vain attempt to study he goes to a neighboring room where a bull session is held. Retires at three A. M.

Social Activities

By LOUISE SEDINA

MISS FLORENCE LAYFIELD entertained in the Biltmore Hotel, last night, members of the Alumni Association of Central High School. Miss Marian Abowitt, the Metropolitan Opera star, was the guest of honor.

Among those present were the Misses Ruth Mahon, Doris McGowan, Anne Janigan, Mildred Greenberg, Mildred Guisti and Dorothy Johanson.

A benefit show, sponsored by the "Wee Corner Club," and directed by Miss Lillian Williams, was held in the Plantations Club auditorium yesterday. The cast included the Misses Evelyn Shanley, Christine Hanley, Gloria Tereshkow, Karin Asplund, and the Messrs. Raymond Scott, Frederick Ingham, and Walter Parenteau.

The following Providence names appeared on the S. S. Monarch of Bermuda which sails for Bermuda tomorrow:

The Misses Alice Pearson, Albina Barche, Annie Aanonsen, Evelyn Barnes, and the Messrs. Vincent Waterfield and Donald Wallace

Kathleen Hughes is arriving in New York today on the S. S. Leviathan from a trip in Europe.

Twelve tables of bridge were in play on last Thursday at the home of Miss Barbara Garner. The Misses Vilma Gatta and Frances Lisi assisted the hostess. Prizes were won by the Misses Evelyn Tift and Ethel Schramm.

A Senior Poem

By VIOLA RUSSO, FLORENCE LAYFIELD, MARIE ZOVIGIAN

A Toast to the Following:

Ray Lacombe, the president of our class,
Marion McLean, vice president, and a sweet, friendly lass.

Kathleen Hughes, our secretary, so popular and coy,

Robert Parrish, treasurer and handsomest boy.

Viola Russo, the charming brunette of our class,

Rita Howarth, a red-haired lass.

Antoinette Boisvert, the girl with the smile,
Fred Ingham, for whom we'd walk a mile.

Lena Kurda, with eyes of brown,

Gertrude Bookbinder, who never frowns.

Irene Lessard, whose hair sure does curl,

Dorothy Johanson, who is a lovable girl.

Harry George, who'll make good some day,
Florence Layfield, our dignified lady all do sav.

Marian Abowitt, whose voice is often raised in song,

Albina Barche, who is sure to get along.

Louise Sedina, who dresses so nice,

Mildred Greenberg and Mildred Giusti, who are as quiet as mice (?).

Doris McGowan, who is light-hearted and gay,

Christine Hanley, to whom we drink a toast today.

Mary Flynn, so very petite,

Karin Asplund, who always dresses so neat.

Here's Vilma Gatta, whose beautiful clothes
we adore,

And Ethel Vanta, who has ambitions galore.

Lillian Carter, who on her traffic post stands,

Evelyn Shanley, who has great plans.

Next comes Ruth Mahon, whom we all know so well,

And Rose McCauly, to whom we must say farewell.

Theresa Layden, with her red hair,

Rita McNamara and Dorothy Hand, who are a great pair.

Constance Gadbois, of typewriting fame,
Star Shamirian, who has a very pretty name.
Theresa Straight, who is a very pleasant girl, Ruth Svenson, whose sweetness is as rare as a pearl.

Doris Gendreau, a clever lass is she,
Anna Zambarano, who is as pretty as she can be.

Richard Henry, as nice as his name,
James Dickerson, who has won swimming fame.

Francis Lisi and Pauline Swanson, those two bookkeeping sharks,

Ethel Shramm, who always gets good marks.

Anne Janigan, with eyes so dark,

Vera Chamberlain, who always has knowledge to impart.

Ruth Chadbourne, the girl of the day,

Rita McNulty, who is witty, happy, and gay.

Isabelle Wilkinson, with her friendly smile,
Phillip Angell, who for a friend would walk a mile.

Mary Kelly, that attractive lass,

Helen Grouton, another sweet member of our class.

Lillian Williams, of our 3A Class Play,

Arline Capace, who will become a great pianist some day.

Here's Margaret Murray, Anna Mucci, and Annie Swaine,

Who with their merry sounds,

Spread sunshine all around.

Edna Elving everyone will admit is clever,

Winifred Wilson, whom we'll remember forever.

Theda Bratschneider, the tiny lass,

Louise Heroux, the bright member of our class.

Barbara Anderson, who will enter R.I.C.E.,
Sarah Catrona, whose desire is a nurse to be.

These two happy Seniors, Harry Dutson and Louis Bonniol,
Are always found

Shedding laughter all around.
Next comes Inez Riley, who has a smile for all,
And Walter Murphy, who is so tall.
Rose and Josephine Carnevale, the Central twins,
Robyna Chatalian, who always wins.
Ruth Waldron, May Cleveland, and Rita
Cody, three Centralites,
Constance Berube, Marion Congdon, and Anne Aanonsen, whose futures are sure to be bright.
You never see Belle Adelman alone,
Louise Adreano has friends of her own.
Lillian LaCroix, that cute little brunette, Evelyn Lazarus, a more popular girl we've never met.
Paul Walsh, a lively lad,
Bernard McKenna, who knows not the word sad.
Rita Goff, a very nice girl, we'll agree,
Catherine Gorman, who will somebody's stenog be.
Doris Barlow, with hair so blonde,
Ruth Gilfoil, of whom we're all so fond.
James Malberg, the pride of our class,
Betty Briggs, a popular young lass.
Charlotte Stewart in the glee club does sing,
Ruth Cohen, who is good at most anything.
Frieda Kleinman, a charming young girl,
Dorothy Bennett, who is sure to find success in this world.
Next comes Joseph Certo, who is bright and clever,
Gilbert Johnson, who is behind in studies never.
Dorothy Sinclair, who is never sad,
Arthur Giroux, a friendly lad.
Mary-Louise Boule, the next popular girl on our list,
Frieda Stamp, a sweet little miss.
Helen Nakopinski, good-nature possesses this lass,
Victoria Aquilante, the intelligent member of our class.

Anita Carraturo, so humorous and attractive, too,
Viola Brindell, always cheerful, never blue.
Margaret Burrill, so cute and fair,
Dorothy Cain, who has a lovely air.
Francesco Costagliola, a boy that's ever proficient,
James Ames, always studious, never deficient.
Mary Quinn, who has charm galore,
Hope Berry, a popular member of the class of 1934.
Eileen Doyle, always at the head of her class,
James Mulroy, the funster of every class.
Mary Murray, as sweet as can be,
John DiCola, with vim, vigor and personality.
Maurice Archambault, whose cleverness we envy,
Virginia Asadoorian, who is ever so friendly.
Doris Rush, with a heart of gold,
Eleanor Sullivan, whose deeds are untold.
John Fay, the red-haired fun-maker, humorous and tall,
Donald Wallace, a friend to all.
John Remka, a clever boy,
Elsie Grossi, always filled with joy.
Mildred Ciccio, a petite lady with wavy brown hair,
Mildred Walsh, a lady so fair.
Molly Weinberg, reserved, refined and neat,
Esther Villatico, a sweet miss for all to meet.
Alfred Kimball, who is a handsome young man,
Ray Scott, who also plays in the band.
Margaret McKiernan, who is shy and meek,
John McNamara, who sure is some sheik.
Ruth Robbins you've all met,
Beatrice Garrity, a sweet little brunette.
Doris Reuter a success surely will be,
Bennie Rochira from worry is free.
Ruth McEnnery her personality lends,
Ruth Tannenbaum, who makes hosts of friends.
A friendly fellow we introduce next,
It's Harry Zakarian, always at his best.

hop, who has gained sport slant wley, liked by all,
 Barbara Garner, sweet and small.
 Joseph Silberman, who has a winning way,
 Rose Silverman, who makes pleasant many a day.
 Bernard Rakoff, who'll make good some day,
 Dorothy Parkhurst, our perfect lady all do say.
 Katherine Hamilton, witty and wise,
 Evelyn Healy, efficient in all that she tries.
 Katherine Wathy, who's always been true,
 Dorothy St. Clair, who's never been blue.
 Guirino Bianco, quite tall and strong,
 Louis Russo, outstanding in a throng.
 Florence Cohen, as attractive as can be,
 Florence McGovern, the girl with a lot of personality.
 Emma Michaud, who is always so gay,
 Anna Pedliken, who'll be a singer some day.
 Bella Goldstein is dramatic and so witty,

Thomas Cardullo, who also can sing,
 Violet Elmer, who honor to our class does bring.
 Muriel Sharpe, a stenog wise,
 Ida Green to the top of the ladder will rise.
 Margaret Nassar, who takes the prize
 For having the prettiest pair of eyes.
 Donald Taylor, who is also known by name.
 Dorothy Slocum, a brunette—so pretty.
 Rose Zanfagna is a sport and very athletic,
 Virginia Hanley, so sweet, understanding and sympathetic.
 So ends this little rhyme,
 For there is no more time;
 As you all know it's hard to include every girl and boy,
 But to all goes the same wish of happiness and joy.
 So now must be added—as would have been stated before,
 Success and Good Luck in the future to all Seniors of June 1934.

I give you Central

By EDITH JAGOLINGER

Give us a name to move our soul
With the spirit that inspires us to reach our goal,
A name that stands both for work and fun,
A name dearly loved by everyone,—
I give you Central.

Give us a name that you can't compare
With another school anywhere,
Success is the word that expresses That certain something our school possesses,—
I give you Central.

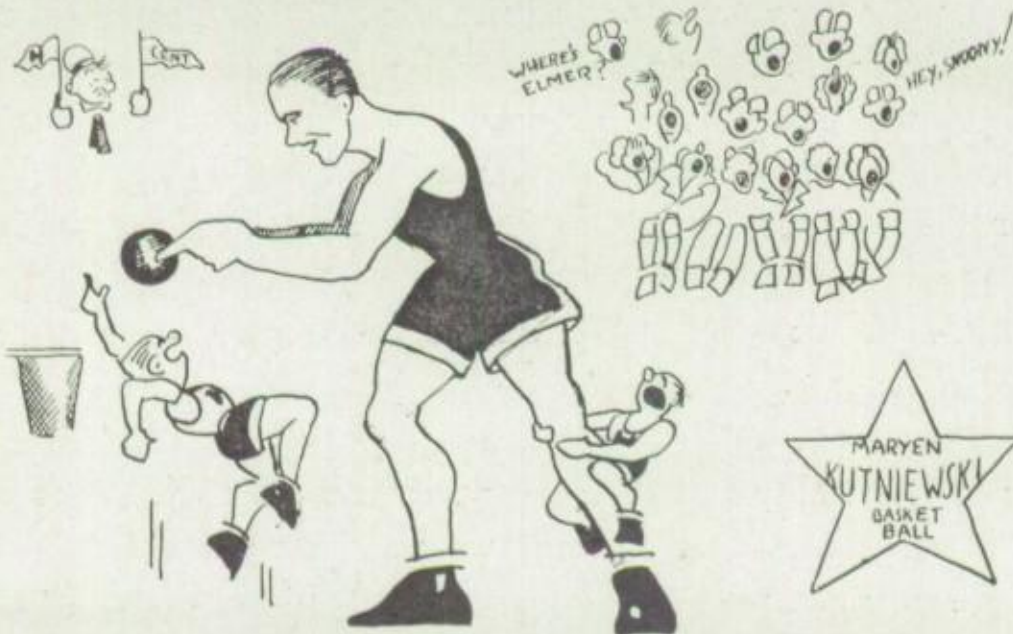

White Roses

By M. MACDONALD

Elusive perfume,
Floating in unseen boats of exotic scent;
White hands—
Inviting, compelling me to gather in my arms
Their frail, satiny smoothness—
And, intoxicated by their urging, imploring sweetness,
I gathered and crushed them to my fevered breast,
Seeing not their bruised and broken petals,
But clasped still closer to my wildly beating heart
Their unseen, perfumed martyrdom.

A Day in New Central

By O. O. WRACKETEER

DIARY: Up and dressed and to breakfast by 7:35 and eyed by stray grapefruit off-spring, so to my cereal, vanquished. Interrupted by arrival of 7:45 so up and off to school, knowing time, tide, and the eight o'clock bell waits for no man. Made unusual trolley connections and to my favorite rear-platform corner, only to find it occupied by my pals "Bill" McKenna and "Al" Lewis. Pleasant chat and to school on time. To my French class with J. Whittier Anderson remarking on Miss Loftus' pet teaching. Heard "Doc" Bigelow's witty, interesting lecture to college prospects in the Assembly Hall. Walking home with "Stan" Musen. Study and to amateur drama in evening. Up late reading Addison's "Spectator." So to bed. (So what?)

"Ken" Short was prominent among those adventurous youths who yearned to go to the Pole with Byrd—until last February he got his flippers frozen.

• • •

You are either failing or not failing. Right? Now, if you are failing, obviously you must be not failing. That's a bit of "Paulie" Walsh's philosophy for you. Clever, eh?

• • •

I quote "Johnnie" MacNamara:

"I think that I shall never 'C'

A 'D' as lovely as a 'B.' "

• • •

"Dot" Hawkinson thinks only artists can draw conclusions.

• • •

Overheard in the recreation room during dance: "Oh, I don't mind you walking on my feet. I've been walking on them all day." How about it, Ray?

• • •

Miss Slade's theme:

"Recreation is re-creation."

What are our picture proofs supposed to prove, anyway?

The best original joke I know occurred to one of our classmates four years ago. He was registering in the gym. The clerk asked him his name, then his father's name. They were identical.

"Oh, then, you're a Junior," said the clerk cheerfully.

"No, ma'am," he replied, "I'm a Freshman."

Wonder when this old tradition of autographing year-books originated?

• • •

Hope some further measures will be taken to stimulate a greater interest in the "Black and Gold" and the "Centralite" among the afternoon students next semester. Perhaps a staff of P. M. students would be a remedy to the present condition.

• • •

One-word description of Mr. Hodgkins—"Seth-Parkerish."

• • •

Exchanged "Hi's" with "Dot" Anderson and "Norm" Woodbury in the corridor this morning.

• • •

Wonder if "Matt" is going to work for a "Bachelor of Velocity" degree in some college?

• • •

P. Joseph Skeffington says that twenty years ago the girls used to knead dough, but now the boys need dough.

When Mr. Bailey of 101 (room, not ranch) concluded reading the item on the daily bulletin concerning Mr. Plumber's lecture on the "Raising of the S-51," Mrs. Gendreau's little girl, Doris, just had to say, "Why bring that up?"

After all's said and done, the most successful and delightful after-prom festivity is the good old ice-box-raiding house party. The joy of the last round-up is not marred by attendance at some disreputable road-house. A jolly free-for-all feast on what's available is an occasion that will be a pleasant memory of the concluding episode of our high school career.

When balloting time comes for the quaintest and most unique hobby of all those pursued by Centralites, I cast my vote for "Harmie" Jordan's Horses! Horses and everything affiliated with them! His home is ideally located just off the wilds of Lincoln Woods, and he rides practically every day all through the reservation. He has a complete and genuine western outfit right from where cow-punchers are born. He has everything from a ten gallon hat to silver-spurred boots. And how he can rope a wild mount.

Man, it's more thrilling than the most exciting of western films to see "Harmie" gallop swiftly after a runaway horse, plunging through clumps of shrubs, hurdling stone walls, squatting low under branches of trees, and concluding his chase with a panting, frothing steed as his prey.

Horse play, I calls it!

Wonder what some fellows see in the "butt-line" out at the drug store that makes them consistent members?

Personal nomination for the retiring Centralite with the most captivating smile—Carolyn Bailey.

Seeing Rhode Island First

By HAZEL FARROW, '35

THERE are certain "lucky" people who may travel far and wide, wherever fancy leads them, in search of new things to see and do. How often the things which are nearest are neglected for less interesting ones, simply because they lack the glamour of far-off places!

There are beautiful spots in our own state which draw people from far beyond our boundaries to see. Our reservoir, for instance. Commonplace sounding enough, but in reality not a bit, as the word "reservoir" would imply. Lakes and ponds from the entire state pour their waters into it. It stretches, cool and glistening, for miles, sometimes entirely hidden from sight, only to come into view around the next curve of the road. It seems like several beautiful lakes instead of one whole lake.

The causeway cuts a long, black swath right through the center of one of these large lakes. On one side the sun leaves a banner of gold across the smooth, unruffled water. Far off, wooded shores are seen, pearly gray in the distance. An occasional deer is seen here, standing in the half-twilight of the woods, only to bound away, frightened, at the sight of people. On the other side of the causeway, a cool wind brushes the water into wavelets, which lap against the shores.

Take another road, down past sunny meadows and farms. Again, that shimmering blue greets your eyes. There are three trees towering on a little island in the center—three elms. Heavy with fresh green foliage, they bend and sway, leaning over to peer at their reflections, clear-cut as cameos. Perhaps a blue heron may be glimpsed near the island's shore.

Sometimes a little side road discloses something which those who follow only the broad highway never see. The road I speak of is narrow and very, very hilly. But at its end is found a beautiful waterfall. It tumbles, cascades down the rocks to whirl and eddy away down the stream. An old, deserted mill stands near—proof that this was but a mill stream. Now, however, the old mill stands as silent evidence of a once thriving community. Now the water tumbles gloriously down the rocks to be seen by only the few who search it out. Following the stream, past a long, narrow lake, one finds another stream, known as Hemlock Brook, which receives its name from the huge hemlocks bordering its sides. On the banks of this are the ruins of two old grain mills, mill stones still in place, where the farmers of several generations brought their grain to be ground into meal.

Kent, where the water supply is purified, is a magnet for sightseers. There are at least one hundred tall fountains, shattered by sunlight into myriads of rainbow colors. One can forget that they are merely for the purpose of drawing dust and impurities from the water. Standing near it, one can feel the cool spray as the great fountains burst into the air, white as snow when the sun is hidden by clouds, gleaming with color when the clouds pass.

There is no wonder that people come to Rhode Island to see it all. There is wonder that many Rhode Islanders know other states better than their own—that they go to see something else before seeing their home state first.

Parents' Dreams

By CHEN KIM-SHUNG

THIS picture just gives us an idea of family life or a certain pattern of relationships between the parents and the children. It tells us what has been expected of the Most of the parents are disappointed in their children, because the father dreams that his son will become a doctor or a lawyer, and his son does not become a doctor or members of the family at various times in the past, what people have assumed in regard to parents and children, older and younger, males and females.

a lawyer. A mother, picturing her daughter as a singer or a dancer, is disappointed that her daughter does not become a singer or a dancer.

A mother dreams that her daughter will obtain a college career and a father sees his son as a football hero. All dreams seldom come true, but, of course, some may. We wish to know what is possible under various circumstances, what is involved in our efforts, what is the cost of our striving, and what the probable returns may be.

In another family a girl decidedly artistic was receiving special care and instruction. In the course of time the daughter made the discovery that her parents are allowing her to please herself, not them. As her success did not come as promptly as had been expected, she welcomed an opportunity to get married and escaped from the responsibility of making good with her artistic training. At first she found satisfaction in this escape and lived happily with her husband and child for two or three years. In time, however, the demands of the child became irksome. She did not realize that it was her own restlessness and the lack of something to keep her interested. She attributed to the child all of her own difficulties. With some help she came to see that her native art ability and interest as well as her training did actually mean more to her than she had been willing to admit to herself. By returning again to her art career, she attained greater contentment for herself, and was in a better position to help her child. The faulty management of previous years was prevented from bringing disaster by finding that each individual here needed an opportunity to carry on activities suited to their interests and capacities.

This may show us our parents lovingly looked for our future success. We should respect them for their love. I know very little about relationships between parents and children, because my dear mother is many a week's journey from here.

My dear mother said to me once, "Sonny, I think you'll be one of the greatest men in the world when you are grown up." What do you think of that? But I'll try in my best ability to satisfy her wish. To those who are graduating I sincerely extend my best wishes and may all the luck in the world go with you. With such the parents' dreams may come true.

Absent: Mr. Davis Hill, Faculty Advisor.

Science Club

THIS club has been formed just a few weeks ago, but yet is farther advanced in enterprises than a good many clubs. The Science Club under the president, Theo. E. Tetreault, and the able assistance of the faculty advisor, Mr. Davis C. Hill, has had the pleasure of hearing a lecture by Earle K. Strackan, Professor of Chemistry at Brown University. A dissection display was presented at one of the meetings. A visit to Cranston High School Chemistry Club and the Providence Bureau of Police investigation were made. Mildred Maguire, Vice-President; Phylis Sweet, Secretary; and Ira Rodinsky, Treasurer.

The Band

A - RAT - A - TAT - TAT the sound of drums, a clash of horns and trumpets, the mellow sound of woodwinds—who's coming? Our Band! With their military uniforms they perform like true veterans of music.

The bright gold buckles and buttons stand out as they are led along by their Drum Major, Walter Boyle. Lost somewhere in that great big Band is that master of leaders, Mr. G. Richard Carpenter. It was through his efforts that our band is what it is today.

The Band tied Pawtucket High for first honors at the All State Band Contest on May 5th.

CENTRAL DEBATING SOCIETY

Second Row, left to right: Yat Tow, Armand Angelone, Herbert Hopkins, John Holland, President; Walter H. Hibbard, Coach, Tom Brooke, Treasurer, Harold Johnson, Theo Tetrault, William Lupo, Vincent H. Charles.

Debating Society

THE little room on the second floor harbors one of the most outstanding organizations in Central, the Debating Society, with its jovial everworking faculty adviser and coach, Walter H. Hibbard.

The Varsity Squad was made up of John Holland, Arthur Mulvey, Hayvis Woolf, Virginia Tremble, and Thomas Brooke.

The Radio question, British or American System, was the popular question of debate and it was upon this subject that the Society won from Rogers High School, thus ending the season. Debates were also held with Brockton, New Bedford, and Classical. "Government Ownership of Public Utilities" and "Cuban Intervention," were the other topics for debates.

The Society sent two full teams to present an exhibition debate before a downtown audience, a new departure in our forensic activities.

The officers are: President, John Holland; Vice President, Floride Perry; Secretary, Theresa Layden; Treasurer, Thomas Brooke; Librarian, William Dickie; and Publicity Manager, Hayvis Woolf.

Thrift Council

THERE has never yet been a full attendance of the Thrift Council, for if there ever were it would take half the auditorium to seat them.

People walking through the corridor on the third floor often wonder what the noise is that comes from the music room Mondays; well, if you don't know, it is the President urging the class representatives to help bring up the banking percentage in the school.

Miss Mary C. Campbell is an ardent thrift advisor and should receive a great deal of credit.

All Thrift broadcasting was done by the President, Hayvis Woolf. The Vice-President was Sophie Cianciola, Secretary, Florence Kaufman.

Dramatic Society

THE meeting is called to order by President Royal Johnson. Molly Weinberg is Vice-President; Jessica Goldman, Secretary; and Lillian Williams is Chairman of the Program Committee.

At each meeting there is usually a short play by some of the members. Poems, songs, recitations, and stories are presented by talented individuals.

This club is a great asset to the school because it affords students an opportunity to use their talents to a good advantage.

Mr. Wesley Webb guides the club fashioned to make future stars for stage, screen, and radio.

Boys' Glee Club

FROM the small music room on the third floor we can always hear the harmonious blending of male voices into songs from sea chanties to prayers.

The Boys' Glee Club was invited to sing at the P. T. A. "Fathers' Night" and at many other places where they have made an everlasting impression of the superiority of Central's Music Course. Also the double quartet have made themselves well known throughout the entire city.

Mr. Grant has turned out not only good glee clubs but also fine soloists. Also a splendid triple quartet.

Frank Finnigan is President, with Walter Parentau as Vice-President, and Alfred Williams, Secretary.

A GROUP OF MEMBERS OF NAUTICAL CLUB

Nautical Club

THE Nautical Club of Central High School was formed by Lieutenant Antonio Pace, a physics teacher and graduate of the Royal Italian Naval Academy. The club has a membership of 150.

The idea of the club is to become familiar with the sea and all knowledge related to the sea. The boys are planning to start their adventures at sea as soon as the money can be procured. In view of this ambition they have sponsored a few dances, which were well attended.

Every Monday in room 208, Lieutenant Pace conducts a class in navigation at which time he teaches the boys to read barometers, charts and the direction of the winds.

Ukulele Club

THE Ukulele Club is a new unit at Central. A group of twenty "strummers" met every Tuesday, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Gallivan, of the faculty. On May fifteenth, a special program was given in honor of Dr. Walsh. The soloists were Joseph Pascatore and Franklyn Reeves, who were heard also in a duet. The officers of the club are: President, Willis H. Hatch, Jr.; Vice-President, Robert Eichenfeldt, Secretary, Merle Ingham; and Treasurer, Ruth Kilguss.

Circolo Petrarca

JOSEPH CERTO, President; Sue Cerbo, Vice President; Benjamin Tancredi, Secretary; Anna Colantonio, Treasurer. These are the officers of the Circolo Petrarca which meets each month. The club has many times received congratulations for its excellent efforts in bringing about stronger relations among Italian-speaking students. "Il Vero Amico," a three act drama, was presented entirely in Italian on April 27th. The play was a great success with a good audience in attendance. Among those present were Dr. Walsh and Vice Consul Verderosa, who delivered a very interesting talk.

The cast of the play is as follows: Antonetta Papitto, Helen Capaldi, Elena David, Carlo Zuccolo, Joseph Certo, Remo Pulicelli, Thomas Manganaro, and Benjamin Tancredi.

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS? The Cercle Jeanne d'Arc does every other Friday at one o'clock in 208. Students from French 4, 5 and 6 are eligible. The club takes its name from the former Cercle Jeanne d'Arc of Commercial High School and retains from Cercle Français of Technical High School its affiliation with the Fédéro de l'Alliance Française aux Etats-Unis et au Canada. Wednesday, May sixteenth, the club presented "L'Ecole des Belles-mères," a comedy by Eugène Brieux.

Business, games, songs and formal programs are regularly conducted in French in a session which seldom lasts more than an hour.

The "Centralite" Observer

"BILL" DOYLE

HERE I is, folks, to review for you the important news of the year. (Are ya listening?)

FLASH — CENTRAL HOLDS TWO DANCES AT RHODES

The first CENTRAL NIGHT was held on Friday, January 19, 1934, for the benefit of the Central Extra-curricular Activities Fund. The affair was a huge success and a grand time was had by all. (Even "Red" Vye.)

The second CENTRAL NIGHT was held on the evening of May 11, 1934, for the raising of funds for band uniforms. This big event was made possible through the joint sponsorship of the Central P. T. A., and the faculty of Central. (It might be added here that "Red" Vye also had a good time at this very successful dance.)

ATTENTION — BAND GETS NEW UNIFORMS

Through the courtesy of the Central P. T. A. our great band was outfitted with new military-like uniforms bearing the colors of the olda of the besta mater, (with apologies to Ben Bernie). And my dears, what did they do—why two days later they went to Pawtucket and carried off first honors — soooooowhat'a think of that for gratitude, huh?

CENTRALITE ENDS ITS FIRST YEAR A SUCCESS

"The Centralite," Central's own paper, ended a successful first year under the guardianship of Miss Helen M. E. McCarthy, its director. The paper came at a time when something was necessary to hold the school together and give to the student body that something which produces School Spirit—so come on everybody, give a cheer for that member of our faculty who helped to give us the something we lacked—a toast to Miss McCarthy.

CENTRAL HAS WORLD CHAMPION —"MAT" CHROSTOWSKI

The following are a few of "Matt's" most important records:

N.E.A.A.U. 50 yds. free style (1933)

N.E.A.A.U. 100 meter (1933)

N.E.A.A.U. 100 yd.-500 yd.—free style
(1934)

N.E.A.A.U. 1 mile (1933)

So hail to Central's own fish—he's only a fisherman's son but oh, what line he casts.

INTERMISSION—TO THINK

You know, my friends, it's great to have patience—here's why. My good friend "Pants" O'Hare just came in with some of his swell poetry to put in my column—so I'll have to accommodate him—here goes—

"THE KNIGHT WAS TOO LONG"

There was a king
There was a knight
There was a war
The knight went to war
The knight got killed
The king had a coffin made for the knight
The coffin was too small
"Oh, Lord, you made the knight too long!"

Creeping along sinuously,
Hidden beneath the rusty shawl
Of the crackling leaves of Fall,—
This flower of May I bared with glee.

While, around them, unrestrained wreaths
Were formed by rough, serrated leaves;
How independent, I thought, is this vine.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT

This year the tennis play had not been completed when the BLACK AND GOLD went to press. However, the finalists in the Senior tournament are Bernice Le Ber and "Beans"

Chatalian. The semi-finalists were Marie Kenney and Dorothy Hand. "Vi" Elmer, last year's champion, was unable to compete.

SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL TEAM

Attention, Centralites! Watch those up-and-coming Sophomore athletes whose basketball team won the only class championship for Central and entered the semi-finals of the city championship.

Those who were on the team were: Capt.

Marie Samuelson, Barbara Starr, Eva Quist, Louise Calise, Elsie Barks, "Betty" Toolin, Agnes Pells, Alice Swanson, Marion Evans, Barbara Whitehead, Ethel Carlson, Mabel Smith, Theresa Surabian and Frieda Tolchinsky.

SENIOR AND JUNIOR BASKETBALL TEAMS

Although the Junior and Senior basketball teams did not win their respective class championships they certainly showed smooth and smart playing. Both teams were beaten by the Classical teams by the scores of: Seniors 18-13; Juniors 37-8. However, their runner-up positions were assured by their victories over the Hope teams.

The outstanding players on the Senior team were: Capt. "Beans" Chatalian, "Vi" Elmer, "Mitzi" Greene, "Jerry" Vance and "Dot" Hand.

The outstanding players on the Junior team were: Marguerite Davenport, Capt. Naomi Jennings and Edna Wankevivic.

CITY CHAMPIONS—CAGEBALL

In the newly-formed cageball series, Central won the championship, losing only one hard fought game to Classical by the close score of 14-13.

The players who earned their letters were: Capt. "Beans" Chatalian, Angie Gunaris, "Mitzi" Greene, Dorothy Hand, "Vi" Elmer, Bernice Le Ber, Evelyn Lazarus, Alice Wainwright, Alma Wainwright, Phil Natal, Clara Messina, Josephine Timperley, Beatrice Vaughn, "Betty" Barden, Marguerite Davenport, "Lindy" Lindbloom, Laura Halko, Edna Wankevivic, Genevieve Babileviez.

It's Up to You

THE glorified joy ride in which the entire world indulged during the last fifteen years is definitely over. The older generation is groping its way back to solid ground. You are right at the beginning—a pioneer headed toward a higher goal. Start with thrift and avoid the troubles that careless living always brings. Save regularly, even if it is only a dime a week.

A Thorough Training Insures Your Future —

THE BROWN & SHARPE
APPRENTICESHIP COURSE is a thoroughly practical and instructive course offered under the personal supervision of mechanical experts. The Brown & Sharpe Mfg. Co., manufacturer of machinery and machinists' tools in the largest factory of its kind in the world, offers you an excellent opportunity to complete your training under ideal conditions.

IN OUR APPRENTICE COURSE
you may study machine work, drafting, pattern making, moulding, core making, and screw machine operating. Send for booklet "Apprenticeship." It gives the complete story." Brown & Sharpe Mfg. Co.,
Providence, R. I.

• •

NO. 849 SET OF STANDARD TOOLS
FOR STUDENTS AND APPRENTICES.
The Brown & Sharpe Handbook, included with the set, contains many useful hints and instructions on the proper way to perform a large variety of operations common to machine shop practice.
